

CAA TO MAKE NO ATTEMPT AT SEGREGATION

ADMINISTRATOR RENTZEL DOUBTS AUTHORITY TO ENFORCE RULE AT AIRPORTS IN NORTH CAROLINA

(The News Washington Bureau) By David W. Berlin
Washington, Jan. 12.—The Civil Aeronautics Administration will make no attempt—at least, not now—to extend to other airports the ban against racial segregation it has ordered into effect at Washington's National Airport, it appeared today.
Don Nyrop, executive assistant to CAA Administrator Delos Wilson Rentzel, told The News' Washington Bureau that the National Airport, located in Virginia across the Potomac River from Washington, is the only airport in the nation which comes directly under the jurisdiction of CAA and "for that reason we have authority to regulate its policy."
But while the federal government, through CAA, has contributed heavily to the financing of construction at practically every airport of any importance in the country, Nyrop indicated that CAA had not considered this as grounds for attempting to abolish any segregation policies which might be in effect at airports it has assisted.

That is a bridge which may have to be crossed in the future, he indicated, but as of today it is not possible for CAA to say whether it might seek to attach non-segregation conditions to any future federal assistance granted to states and municipalities for airport construction, expansion or maintenance.
"The problem has not come before us," he said. "Until it presents itself, we have no plans for looking into it."

But Nyrop said he did not think CAA's authority over airports goes far enough to enable it to fix policies concerning segregation. All actual authority over civilian airport policies, except where safety is involved, is invested in state, county or municipal governments.
Asked directly if CAA planned to continue granting federal airport assistance to governmental subdivisions which require segregation, while at the same time banning segregation at National Airport, Nyrop said he thought his previous statements answered that question.
Nyrop would not allow himself to be quoted, nor would CAA allow itself to be drawn into such a statement, but the implication was that the federal government, while attempting to stamp out segregation in its own civilian airport here, would leave strictly to governmental subdivisions and their airport authorities the decision on whether segregation should or should not exist at airports through the nation.

Late spring freezes reduced production of peaches in the State last year. The 1948 crop is estimated at 1,646,000 bushels, 43 per cent less than in 1947 and 23 per cent under the 10-year average.

LEGION POST ORGANIZED AT ANGIER

OFFICERS ELECTED BY NEW ORGANIZATION, WHICH ALREADY HAS ON ITS ROLLS 44 VETS OF TWO WARS

Veterans of World Wars I and II have organized an Angier Legion Post at Angier which will be known as No. 416. J. Carl Young is commander; J. Fred Hockaday, vice commander; D. W. Denning, Jr., second vice commander; Al Weiss, adjutant and finance officer; L. E. Johnson, service officer.

The Post starts off with 44 members. It meets in the Angier school lunchroom every Wednesday night.
J. Carl Young entered the army as a private in November 1941. After attending OCS school he was commissioned a lieutenant and was sent to the Pacific area with the 107th Field Artillery, 43rd Division. He served 39 months in the Pacific and is a veteran of several campaigns. His decorations include two bronze arrowheads for assault invasions at Rendova and Luzon; and the air medal for meritorious service as an air observer in the Luzon Campaign. He was discharged in November, 1945, with the rank of major.
J. Fred Hockaday entered the army Feb. 19, 1944, and spent 14 months overseas with the 117th Infantry, 30th Division. He took an active part in "The Battle of the Bulge," and holds campaign stars for service in France, Belgium, Germany, and The Rhine. His decorations include The Purple Heart, The Combat Infantryman's Badge, a Presidential Unit Citation, and the Good Conduct Medal. He was discharged Sept. 26, 1945, with the rank of private.
D. W. Denning, Jr., entered the army April 26, 1945, and served 10 months overseas with the 767 Tank Battalion with the Asiatic-Pacific Occupation Forces, and was stationed at Honsho, Japan. He was discharged Sept. 28, 1946, with the rank of corporal.
Al Weiss joined the Marines September 25, 1942, and spent 12 months in the Central Pacific with the Photographic Squadron No. 354. He was discharged May 24, 1946, with the rank of sergeant.
L. E. Johnson entered the Army September 18, 1917, and served 11 months overseas with the 317 Field Artillery, 81st Division. He saw combat in France near the Belgian Border. He was discharged June 28, 1919, with the rank of corporal.

Other members are: Graham F. Howard, Charles G. Nordan, Kenneth B. Jackson, Marshall Price, Joseph Kirkwood Adams, J. M. Tudor, Conrad Adams, Howard R. Lee, E. C. Price, Jr., W. C. Gardner, Hughie Gardner, Charles Stephens, Baxter Lee, Gordon Guy, Davis Woodall, Newton Sears, Roy C. Williams, Jr., Connorswood Williams, Clyde R. Ferrell, Obie Melvin Butts, Jack Tillman Butts, John Perry Young, Everett Odell Adams, Eirl E. Price, Don E. Wimberly, Gordon L. Matthews, Fred M. Owens, Curtis A. Guy, Harry C. Dupree, Ralph T. Earr, Ronnie C. Price, Cornelius H. Tripp, Delma Butts, Grady Curran, Dwight J. Stephenson, William E. Holland, James M. Curran, and Melvin Robert Currie.
Commander Young stated Wednesday that anyone who served in the armed forces from April 6, 1917 to Nov. 11, 1918; or from Dec. 7, 1941 to Sept. 2, 1945, and who was honorably discharged or separated from the service is eligible to join The American Legion. He urges the veterans of both wars living in this community to join the local Post. He added that the meetings will be held once each week until the organization is completed, and then the local Post will meet twice a month.

Do you tell time by Baby?

At his feeding times, yes. He sounds off on the dot when a meal's due. But the rest of your day, you're wise to depend on electric clocks.

With a baby in the house, it's surprising how much you depend on electric service — to prepare and refrigerate his food, heat water for his bath and laundry, wash his clothes, and so on.

Of course, you depend on electricity to help take the work out of your housework too. Always ready, it lends a willing hand with heavy chores, provides comfort, ease and even entertainment. And best of all, you can depend on its economy — for what other item in your budget does so much for so little?

Your friends and neighbors in this company — under sound business management — are continually using their technical skill and practical experience to keep electricity the biggest bargain in that budget of yours. You can depend on that tool
