BOUND OVER.

Greensboro Takes Decided Action Against Practice of Taking Orders for Whiskey House.

G. M. Whitesell, who has been making a business of taking orders here for a large liquor concern of Clarksville, Va., since January, was yesterday afternoon bound over to superior court on the charge of retailing and a $200 bond required for his appearance. He gave bond. For some time the officers and others have been biding their time to secure the required evidence against Whitesell, who has been "hanging out," (as he expressed it) at Paine's barber shop on South Elm street.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. A. M. Scales, city attorney, appeared for the city and state and Dave Mc-Culloch was the only witness for the state, though the defendant and his one witness, Joe Andrews, proved to be equally as much-needed to make out a case against the defendant. The witnesses testified that the defendant had on last Saturday taken an order from Mc-Culioch for half gallon of whiskey and another from Andrews for the same amount. It was taken from the express office by Andrews and Whitesell, and from the gallon jug the whiskey was poured into quart bottles and delivered to McCulloch. The money was paid when the order was taken. The whiskey was ordered Saturday morning and delivered the evening of the same day.

Mr. Scales said that under the anti-jug law it was a misdemeanor for anyone to ship whiskey in the state of North Carolina, but on account of the inter-state commerce laws, the whiskey could be shipped into the state. Mr. Scales further argued that the inter-state commerce law applies only to such articles as are delivered to the buyer in the original package. This was not done in the case tried as clearly shown by the evidence. Mayor Osborn said it clearly appeared to him to be a violation of the law and defendant was required to give a $200 bond for his appearance at the May term of superior court.

Doing Very Nicely.

Mrs. J. D. Paylor underwent an operation Saturday evening and the physicians and nurses think that she is doing very nicely. Her many friends here will be pleased to know that she is doing so well.

E. W. Donham, T. P. A., of Cincinnati, is at the Elwood.

Valuable Clock.

A. P. Staley has just put in a very valuable clock, an official regulator, self winding, with a wire attachment direct to Washington. Mr. Staley is the official time keeper for the Southern Railway Co. here and all the time pieces of the employees have to be kept in good shape by him.

Mr. Wilkerson, from Greensboro, was here Monday and bought a few nice driving horses from Geo. T. Penny.

Mr, Frank Cameron, from Cox, N. C., was here yesterday to buy stock. He found what he was looking for and bought them at Geo. T. Penny's Stable.

Sunday School Institute.

Rev. R. W. Spilman, who has a national reputation as a Sunday school worker will hold an institute at the Baptist Church here, Saturday night, at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting is not denominational but every one interested in the work is cordially invited to be present.

E. R. Messick & Co.

The Enterprise dropped in on E. R. Messick & Company in their new quarters, in the Brockett building and found Mr. Smitherman and the other members of the force busy, but looking happy over their new surroundings. They were unloading a solid car of meat, shipping some of it out, and storing it in their natural cold storage basement, the finest arrangement for meat in the city.

The entire force is elated over the new quarters. The rooms all have a neat appearance, well lighted and roomy.

Orphans' Concert Tour.

On or about the tenth of May a chapter of children from the Oxford Orphan Asylum will start upon a concert tour of the eastern part of North Carolina. After an interval of several weeks spent at Oxford, a tour of the middle and western part of the State will begin the latter part of July.

The concert group is, this year. composed of ten girls, four boys with a lady and gentleman in charge sixteen in all.

Our people have learned to expect from these boys and girls an unusually bright, attractive entertainment

The cause represented by the children strongly appeals to lovers of God and humanity. To help helpless, homeless children in such a way that they will, likely, become true helpers is indeed an important duty and a high privilege.

Interest in the orphans' homes of North Carolina is growing stronger and stronger and a ready and hearty response is always given by our good people to the claims and needs of these great institutions.

The outlook is bright for an exceptionally valuable, successful tour of the Oxford Orphan Asylum concert class this spring and sum-

Capt. H. L. Fry Dead.

The community was shocked this afternoon to learn of the death of Capt. H. L. Fry, which occurred at his home on Murray street at 3:30 o'clock.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made. He sustained a broken leg and was badly bruised in attempting to board a moving train at High Point four weeks ago, but was thought to be recovering, and the news of his death will be a surprise to our people.

He was engineer of maintenance of way of the Southern Railway. He is survived by a widow and several children. — Greensboro Record of April 8th.

John Lamb, of Edgar. while sitting in his door last Friday, had an accident with his shot gun, Subway In Lexington.

Every time editor Varner goes to Raleigh to attend the State Council, or Counsel of State, some of his people evidently take him for a stranger when he returns and fill him with all sorts of ideas about his town. He compels us to being to mind the fable in the case when the great object at a distance proved to be finally a small 'speck' on the eye lash. Listen at this from this weeks' Dispatch:

"In High Point they manufacture street cars and furniture; in Thomasville chairs, wagons and buggies, and now Lexington is preparing to turn out iron bedsteads. These three towns are close together on the Southern Railway and are making this state famous by the goods they manufecture. This is especially the case with Hich Point, but Thomasville is a good second and Lexington is coming along." - Charlotte Chroniclé.

In the interest of truth the foregoing, which appeared in the last isse of the Dispatch, deserves some comment. From it one would infer that High Point and Thomas ville are in the lead in manufacturing and manufacturing investments, High Point being first and Thomasville second, while Lexington brings up the rear. Lexington has at this writing more than one million dollars invested in active manufacturing plants, this total of investments being in Crawford House (Mrs. Coley's excess of the total at High Point residence), on Main street. The and more than three times greater than the total (at Thomasville .-Dispatch.

In the other case Judge Boyd fined Casper $1,-425 75 and sentenced him to six months imprisonment, the imprisonment sentence to be remitted upon payment of fines and costs, which aggregate in the neighborhood of $10,000.

A libel suit for $6,575,25 against Casper became a judgment when he plead guilty. The Casper case has been in court for three years and was continued for five terms and the court costs amount to over frauding the government in the conduct of a big liquor establishment at Winston-Salem.

A Good Thing, But-

I notice through the columns o the Enterprise that the City Fath ers have raised the fine from on to ten dollars for shooting withinthe incorporate limits, which was, There is much trouble over getting no doubt, done to put a stop to the promiscous shooting on the streetse at night. So far, so good, but wouldn't it help matters considerable to offer a reward of$5.00 to each person furnishing evidence sufficient to convict such parties. In this way such law breakers would soon be ferreted out and more than are at work. Another then the money to come into the city treasury would still be more than when it was only $1 for such an offense.

Improvements at Post Office.

The painters have been busy on the inside of the post office for the past week and the improvement is very noticeable.
