GREAT MEETING EDITORS.

Followed by an Extensive Trip West.

The twelfth annual convention of the National Editorial Association will be held in Guthrie, Oklahoma, June 7th, 8th and 9th. This Association is composed of more than 7,000 editors of newspapers and magazines from all sections of the United States, among them some of the brightest and ablest men in the country, members of Congress, ex-Governors and former United States Senators. Since the meeting in San Francisco in 1903 three delegates have since become governor of their State, and as many who have been elected to Congress, while not a few others have been chosen to serve in positions of trust and honor in the State and general government.

The following itinerary sent out by Corresponding Secretary W. A. Ashbrook, of Johnston, Ohio.

Wednesday afternoon and evening will be given up to the preliminary meeting, a reception and social functions. Thursday and Friday will be devoted to the program and business of the convention, election of officers, selection of next place of meeting, etc. On Saturday, the 10th, we will go from Guthrie to Reid, Reid to Lawton, Lawton to Oklahoma City. Entertainment at each of these places. The party will be taken from Oklahoma City to the famous Hot Ranch where the Miller Brothers will entertain them with a buffalo hunt, barbecue, and a day of Indian sports, such as we will likely never be permitted again to witness. It is expected there will be 25,000 people present. Great preparations are being made for this day. Leave that evening for Guthrie, and that night on to Sapulpa, Indian Territory, visiting also Wagner and Muskogee. Leave that night for Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, Texas. It is desired to have the entire party take the Texas trip. Entertainment will be provided at Dallas, Houston and San Antonio, the latter city being one of the most historic and interesting in the Northwest. Our good Texas friends have never failed to do the handsome by the N. E. A., and this occasion will be no exception.

A further trip is planned to California, as many of the party as wish to take it going on from San Antonio, the same cars and a special train taking them by way of the Southern Pacific Railway to Los Angeles, the itinerary including a visit to the noted resorts of Southern California, Pasadena, Riverside, Monterey, etc. Thence to San Francisco, and on to Portland and the Lewis-Clark Exposition, or back home as individuals prefer. Visiting Salt Lake City and Colorado. On the other hand those who do not care to take the Texas and California trip can go direct from Guthrie to Portland. Those who are pressed for time and yet wish to visit the Lewis-Clark Exposition will doubtless do this, arranging their transportation accordingly.

An alert will be made to have the National Editorial Association held in connection with the year in Asheville. Beside the invitation extended by the city government, business men's association and citizens of Asheville, a committee in this city are making arrangements for the general meeting.

The Y. M. C. A. of Guilford College will give an entertainment at 8 o'clock Monday night at the Guilford College Auditorium. There will be a musical and dramatic performance. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A.

FORGOT HIS BRIDE'S NAME.

Fleeced Broom Got License For Wrong Girl.

Rockville, Md., May 6.—John W. Acree, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Lela Ann Dennis, of Alexandria, Va., came to Rockville yesterday to get married. The bridal party did not reach Rockville until 9:30 last night, and after hunting up John L. Burnett, clerk of the circuit court, and procuring the license, it was after 10 o'clock when the home of Rev. Thomas H. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist church was reached. The young folks were anxious to return to Washington by the 10:30 o'clock car, so the minister proceeded to tie the knot in Rockville's usual expeditious manner.

"Laura Bennett, do you take this man to be your lawful husband?" asked Mr. Campbell. "My name isn't Bennett," replied the young lady. "It's Dennis."

The minister adjusted his glasses and scrutinized the license carefully, but the name "Laura Bennett" was there in black and white.

The young man admitted that he was very much excited and confessed that the mistake was probably his own. It was finally decided to let the ceremony go on, notwithstanding the mistake in license.

GEN. LEE'S FUNERAL.

An Immense Throng Attended the Services in Richmond Yesterday Afternoon.

Richmond, Va., May 4.—The funeral of Gen. Lee was held at St. Paul's church at 1 o'clock today. An immense assemblage attended. Rt. Rev. Randolph, Bishop of Southern Virginia, officiated, assisted by Rev. Beverly N. Tucker, of Norfolk, Revs. Landon Mason and E. E. Burnell of this city. The church seats 1,900, but at least four times this many sought admission. For a block in front of the church men, women and children were massed. The church pillars were draped in black crepe in front. Military banners were shown the soldier and thousands followed to the cemetery. A hundred carriages were in line and many private residences were draped in mourning.

GREENSBORO OFFICIALS TAKE OATH.

Greensboro, May 4.—The old board of aldermen formally turned over the city government to the new board tonight. A beautiful silver service was presented retiring Mayor Osborn by his associates and a resolution of thanks and appreciation for invaluable services rendered by Alderman S. H. Boyd was unanimously adopted. Mayor Osborn administered the oath of office to J. A. Odell, L. J. Brandt, O. C. Wynn, T. A. Hunter, M. W. Thompson and W. D. Bercham, incoming aldermen, and Thomas J. Murphy as mayor. The new board desired to transact no business, simply adjourning until Friday night, when the city offices will be opened. The principal speaker in a new chief of police, David Christensen, Solomons City and Police are expected to call.

RECEPTION.

The new board will receive a reception at 8 o'clock Monday night at the Guilford College Auditorium. There will be a musical and dramatic performance. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A.

MR. DUKE DEAD.

The Charlotte Observer received the following message early this morning:

"In answer to a query by telephone at 2:05 o'clock this morning one of Mr. Washington Duke's sons, who was at the residence in Durham, stated that his father was apparently as low as he could be and still live; that his death was at that time momentarily expected."

The Enterprise received a telegram Monday afternoon announcing the death of Mr. Washington Duke at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Duke was perhaps the most successful business man the State has ever produced. Beginning business in a modest way he laid the foundation of what is now the American Tobacco Co. in which the Duke family is interested to the extent of $100,000,000, possibly.

LESS THAN $200.

The loss by fire at Kearns Furniture Co was less than $200. The fire was caused from fine dust on the rafters in the boiler room. These wooden rafters have been replaced with iron.

J. W. CRIDLEBAUGH DEAD.

The remains of J. W. Criddlebaugh, son of Thos. Criddlebaugh, arrived here from Salisbury Sunday on the noon train. Just a week ago he was taken to Stokes Hospital for an operation but we learn his case was found to be hopeless when he arrived and the operation was not done. The remains were conveyed to the home of his father, 7 miles from High Point.

A QUESTION OF PUNISHMENT.

Director Hackett, of the penitentiary board, says that unless there is a change in the policy prevailing in many counties of retaining the able-bodied convicts for work on the public roads and sending the puny ones to the penitentiary, it will only be a short time before that institution will be a burden to the tax payers instead of at present being conducted at a profit to the State. Of the 119 convicts now confined in the penitentiary proper here, 75 per cent. are apt able to work and the percentage of the dependent convicts is increasing all the time.

HEAVY SENTENCE.

John Archer, the negro man who broke into J. A. Odell's store in February, was tried today and sentenced to 9 years and 11 months on the county roads.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Spring Term of One Week Convened This Morning.

Judge Peebles opened a one week's term of Guilford Superior Court this morning for the trial of criminal cases alone. There is more work than he can complete unless he has good luck, there being 189 cases on the docket this morning, with sixty-two prisoners in jail. The only real important case is that against the men for arson in burning Isaac Stanley's barn. One of the men has confessed, but it is probable this will cause a harder fight. There are fifty cases of retailing to be heard, fifteen of the defendants being in jail.

W. J. Stefford, of Oak Ridge, was appointed foreman of the grand jury.

The charge of Judge Peebles was brief, yet a clear and forceful discourse on criminal law. The day has been consumed in receiving submissions and in disposing of a number of trivial cases.

Solicitor Brooks as receiver for the estate of the late Capt. B. J. Fisher, reported that an offer of $100,000 had been made by Jas. F. Jordan for 96 acres of building lots in the northern part of the city. Judge Peebles announced that the sale would not be confirmed before Wednesday, waiting to see if a better bid will be made.

BIG DEAL.

R. F. Dalton went to Montgomery county yesterday to close a deal for Snow Lumber Co., for 12,000,000 feet of sawed lumber. There will, in all probability be 15,000,000 feet. It must be delivered in 3 years for which Snow Lumber Company will pay $150,000. This is one of the biggest contracts for lumber ever made in the State.

JUNIUS CRIDLEBAUGH.

Junius Nees Criddlebaugh, son of Thos. and Emeline Criddlebaugh, was born Feb. 27, 1882; died May 6th, 1905; aged 23 years, 2 months and 6 days. He made a profession of faith in Christ at Mt. Pleasant Methodist church several years ago, and it was his dying regret that he had not been baptised and thus received into the church. The funeral services were attended by a large crowd from the surrounding country. Rev. J. M. Hilliard, who was present tells the Enterprise that it was one of the largest funerals he has witnessed in some time.

TWO COLUMNS OF HORSESHOES.

In the town of Fort Collins, Col. the village blacksmith has created a curious but very appropriate sign. In fact, it represents not only his industry but the many years in which he has been engaged in it.

On either side of the entrance to the shop are pillars, which rise several feet above the roof. From a distance they resemble box trees with the branches closely cut, to give them an ornamental appearance. As a matter of fact the columns are composed of discarded horseshoes. As each is fully thirty feet in height and five feet in diameter, a faint conception may be obtained of the immense number of shoes utilized in constructing them, for each column was built by laying the shoes one upon the other with their flat sides in contact. Through the center of each column runs a wooden post, and the novel structure has been formed by wiring the shoes to it.

The construction of the sign was begun when the shop was opened for business. The columns have become so heavy to be increased in height, and are anchored by iron rods to the walls of the building. —Scientific American.

A CARD.

To the Citizens of High Point—Since the Rev. Mr. Bagby has been proper to criticise, a reply becomes necessary; this we do with reluctance.

It was the purpose of the victors to have a torch light procession and grand rally Wednesday night; the wise volons said no. If Mr. Bagby will make diligent inquiries he will ascertain the fact that the disgraceful and humiliating scenes (of which he complains) at our city primary, were conceived and carried out by some prominent members of his congregation who were Mr. Tate's friends. A member of the Friend's Church (a Tate man) said "We will have the primary at all hazards" or words to that effect. The wisest statesman; all learned philosophers; since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, have advocated separation of Church from State; i. e. religion from politics. Thomas Jefferson, the author of the United States constitution, advocated the same; read that clause relating to worship. Rome united and ruled the whole of Europe with the Church and State as one. The Roman Empire vanished as the mist of the morning.

The meek and lowly Jesus said to a young man, "Go sell all that thou hast come and follow me." We have no evidence that he was wanted as a political campaign speaker.

Simon and his brother Andrew were skilled fishermen, yet they proved by their works most excellent disciples.

Does not the religion and politics advance the cause of civilization? Which can also be extended his rule over all mankind, it does not follow that all men should take the yoke upon themselves. When reason becomes dethroned, men are misled. "Success does not always respond to the ambitious circumstances of our heroes." All persons do not admire the same things. If you have a wound that plants and roots won't cure, call in a Doctor. (not of Divinity.) When one willfully winks at his own vices, it is right and proper that his friends should inquire into his vices in return.

We are arrived at the highest pitch of success in municipal affairs, giving the people a government fraught with a desire to deal justly and economically.

We perceive we have no bawdy-houses, and greasy taverns, (which are a menace to good government) neither will we have during this administration.

Defeat can find no refuge.

THE PARK.

Just suppose that we had the park this summer. We must not let another summer pass. Our people have a right to it.
