THE RESOURCEFUL MOLE.

His Remarkable Hearing and Ability to Get Away.

"Speaking of quick and resourceful animals, the mole leads easily so far as my experience goes," said a man who has studied the animal, "and I dare say there are many men who have made observations that will confirm my contention. As you probably know, the mole plows in the surface of the earth, generally making a small ridge anywhere from two to three inches high. He moves with remarkable rapidity even when the ground in which he is burrowing is hard. When operating in soft ground he moves along at a surprising gait. But this is not the point I wanted to make. I was thinking of the remarkably good hearing of the mole and the ease with which he can get away just at the moment when you think you have him cornered. Of course now and then you can drive a spike through the mole before he is aware of it. If you do you will have to walk as light as a cat and will have to act as quickly as the same animal when the time comes to act. In nine cases out of ten the mole will hear the first footfall. At once he will quit plowing. He is gone. Search as you may you cannot find him. I have seen men dig for fifty yards, following the ridge and its offshoots, without finding any other trace of the mole than the ridge. The mole's hearing is peculiarly keen, and I suppose this is so because he cannot see. But even more wonderful from my standpoint is the ease and quickness with which he gets away. How does he manage it? Where does he go? You know, the element of superstition in my make-up is slim, and I don't believe in ghosts, but somehow I have always inclined just a bit to the ghost theory when thinking of the mysterious antics of these blind burrowers. The mole is more like a ghost in his conduct than anything I have ever known, though of course the mole is a real thing and not an imaginary and mythical thing."

One Thing at a Time.

Robert Jaggsby's countenance was not at any time remarkable for indications of intellectual brilliance, but now, as he stood before the camera for the purpose of "being took," his expression was so inane that even the polite photographer was moved to protest.

"You'll excuse me," he remarked, "but do you want this photograph for a beauty competition or an advertisement for a new rat poison? Because if it's for any other purpose you'd better try to look a trifle more pleasant."

"That's just the trouble," exclaimed Robert. "You see, I've the misfortune to be a trifle bandy, and I'm trying to hold my knees so that it won't show. When I smile I forget all about my knees, and when I pay attention to my knees I forget to smile."—London Express.

The Height of Clouds.

The very highest clouds, those called cirrus and cirrostratus, rise to the average height of about 30,000 feet. A second class kept at a height of from 10,000 to 23,000 feet above the earth, while the lower clouds usually float at a height seldom exceeding 5,000 feet. In the case of the last mentioned class of clouds the lower surface may be at a height not exceeding 3,000 to 4,000 feet, while their towering summit will be removed from the earth by not less than 16,000 feet.

Wit in the Courtroom.

Thomas Flatly of Boston, the well known Irish lawyer and wit, was acting for the defense in a divorce case and during the cross examination of the plaintiff asked the following question: "You wish to divorce this woman because she drinks?" "Yes, sir." "Do you drink yourself?" "That's my business," said the witness angrily, whereupon the lawyer, with the unmoved, asked one more question: "Have you any other business?"

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning as made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. W. A. Ring.

GREENSBORO NEWSLETS

Judge Oliver Allen was here last night on his way home at Kinston, returning from Wilkesboro court. The regular October term was called Monday morning but so many of the population were absent, either as witnesses, defendants or attorneys in the Federal court it was impossible to try any cases and court was adjourned after a few hours session.

Much concern was felt here last night at the news of the burning of the Eagle Furniture Company, at High Point, in which chairman of the board of County Commissioners of Guilford county, and Mr. Frank Dalton, both highly regarded here, the latter a resident, are largely interested. From the roof garden of the Benbow hotel the fire could be plainly seen, verifying the first news of the calamity which came over the telephone.

Quite a number of the witnesses from Wilkes took advantage of being already in Greensboro to remain over today to see the sights at the Carolina Central Fair.

Recent acts of bloody assault and batteries by some of the members of the police force here on drunken men have given rise to charges of brutality being made against them, and a hearing will be given to complaining citizens Friday, before the police board.

Miss Margaret Foster, the young lady who was to represent the Young Peoples' Missionary Society, of West Market street, Methodist church in China, as a missionary, died last Wednesday at her home in Tehula, Miss. Miss Foster visited this society last May and made many friends, who will grieve to hear of her death.

Mr. A. N. Perkins, who has been connected with the Leak-Halladay Grocery Company, has disposed of his interest to Messrs. W. J. Halladay and H. P. Leak.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.

I. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over four years I was troubled with a kidney and bladder affection. I lost flesh and was unable to work. Three physicians failed to help me and I was given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured."

A HEALTHY LIFE.

Last night the little daughter of Mrs. Brown, as she sweetly and peacefully slept in her little bed near the window, was attacked by a death dealing demon known as Croup Whooping Cough, and but for the timely use of Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar which she always keeps handy, the life of the little one might not have been saved. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is different from all the old-time cough syrups and is best for the children because it acts on the bowels, is harmless, safe and certain. Sold by W. A. Ring.

Greensboro, Oct. 15.—Two suits for $30,000 each have been instituted in Guilford Superior court against the North Carolina Railroad Company by S. W. Geringer, administrator of Leslie H. Strudwick represent the plaintiffs. The summonses have been served and are returnable at the October term.

CHRONIC KICKERS

"Is this a one horse town?" asked the tombstone drummer as he stepped off the eight hour flyer at Sow Neck.

"Wa'll, stranger" responded the station loafer, "I guess you might call it a one mule town."

"Why so?"

"The folks do so much kicking."

REFLECTIONS OF A BATCHELOR

It is generally unlucky to propose to a girl who is sure to accept you.

Before a woman marries a man she wants him to write poetry for her, afterward checks will do.

When a thin woman puts on her winter clothes she brags herself to death about she extra pound she has gained.

Beauty is only skin deep, but the forces that create beauty are as deep as the fountain from which they flow. When the blood is charged with impurities beauty disappears, when the blood is pure it is blossoms in face and form. Rydell's Liver Tablets keeps the liver healthy and the bowels regular, prevents the blood coming laden with bile and waste matter, make the skin clear, eyes bright and beauty more than skin deep. W.
