Get Out of The Old Rut.

What's the use of spending our whole lives sleeping in the same old rut when there's bigger ones all around us.

What's the use of being in a rut at all?

We want more industries in this town, and new industries are never found in ruts. Ruts are too small for them.

Let's crawl up out of our rut.

There is nothing in the old rut for us, but there are opportunities in every direction if we care to reach out and grasp them.

It is up to us.

We can stagnate in our rut, or we can reach out and grasp something—pull our selves out—do something—get to the top.

But we'll never do it as long as we rattle around in the same old rut with the dry bones of our ancestors for company.

We need new industries, and there are manufacturers all over the country looking for changes in locations.

But they will never erect their plants in a rut.

They are full of life, and they want a live atmosphere about them.

They want to locate in a community with advantages.

We have them.

They want to be surrounded by people of intelligence, who know how to use their brains.

We have the intelligences, and our brains are capable of accomplishing vastly more than we have ever dreamed of in the past.

This community is charged with intellectual and physical dynamite, but it is in a rut and needs some one to blow it out.

Let's all get busy and blow.

Let's pull some of those manufacturers into this town on a tour of inspection, and then let's give them a fair opportunity to size up our natural advantages and our intellectual force.

We won't get them all, but we will get some of them.

Nobody ever swallows a loaf of bread at one gulp.

Many bites make up a square meal, and many efforts will bring new industries into our midst, with bigger pay rolls, and more money in circulation, and more houses to be filled and mouths to be fed.

It will contribute to the prosperity of a community.

We want prosperity here, but prosperity never goes out looking for a place to light.

We must hook it on a fly, and our hook must be well baited or the other fellow will have the strongest pull.

Again we say, let's get out of our rut and do something.

Let's make a careful and systematic campaign for new industries, increased population and greater prosperity.

It's waiting for us, but it won't come to us.

We must go out after it. Opportunity is everywhere, but it won't crawl into our pockets uninvited.

We must reach out for it, grasp it, haul it in with a united community pull.

How many of our citizens would like to see new factories come to this town?

How many are willing to join whole heartedly in an effort to get them?

Let's Stand up and be counted.

Sunshine After Rain.

This is an old old story We've heard it oft before, But let us be up and doing, And repeat it o'er and o'er.

Yes, let us be up and doing Giving a smile for a frown, For this world is full of trouble, We'll sure have ups and downs.

Some days we'er bowed in sorrow We can scarcely bear the pain, But look for the sunshine tomorrow As it always follows rain.

Each cloud has a silver lining, And we'll find it if we wait, So what's the use of pining, It will come ere it be too late.

So let us look for that lining, To come with dawn of day, For there's no use to worry, When the clouds have passed away.

When you feel you alone have trouble Just think how many more Have sorrows more than double Of the ones you're pining over.

If our life was always happy, And no sorrows ever came, We would never know the pleasure Of sunshine after rain.

Then let us never worry But always cast a smile, For sometimes it looks like raining Yet the sunshines after awhile.

Then let us be up and doing, Something to pass gloom away, For this life is what we make it, So let us try to be gay.

Then let us take life as we find it, No matter how sad or how gay, But still keep pushing onward, "Whistling our cares away."

Death of Mrs. J. W. Doughtie.

The death of Mrs. J. W. Doughtie occurred at her home near Ahoskie on March 25th. She was daughter of the late Kinder Holloman and wife Barshie. She was 39 years of age at her death. She leaves to mourn her loss a devoted husband and four own children, Kelly, Grace, Annie and Griffin, besides seven step children, Mesdames J. W. Dilday, Ahoskie, N. C., Nolte E. Byrd, Port Norfolk, Va., India Vaughan, Union, N. C., Messrs. J. E. Doughtie, Jesse Doughtie, Port Norfolk, Va., M. D. Doughtie, Piner's Point, Va., and J. F. Doughtie, Union, N. C., also two sisters Mrs. Clive Parker of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. T. E. Earps of St. Bird's, Va., and three brothers, L. H. Holloman, J. A. Holloman of Norfolk, Va., and Roland Holloman of Emporia, Va.

She was a member of Brantley's Grove Church. She lived a consistent christian life and was a devoted wife and mother, a kind sympathizing neighbor, among whom she has a host of friends. She was sick only four weeks and although her suffering was intense she bore it with christian fortitude. All that could be done for her restoration and comfort was done by her physician and loving friends. Just before her death she told her children that she was going to leave them and go to Christ and Heaven, and for them to be good and meet her there.

The funeral services were conducted at the home by her pastor, Rev. C. N. Watson and the remains were placed to rest in the old family burying ground. We extend to the bereaved husband, children and friends our deepest sympathy and may the God of consolation enable them to look up through their tears and say, "Thy will be done."

A Haggood's writer dares to write a piece on the subject of "Theodore Roosevelt—Mucraker" and it was he who dug up the word of Pilgrim's Progress and applied it to certain industrious persons in his own trade!

PAT'S LATE SUPPER.

Pat had just arrived from the Emerald Isle, and he was feeling very hungry, as he had not eaten anything since four o'clock last evening, and it was now eight o'clock in the morning. So he went into a restaurant close by and asked the waiter how much would he charge him for a breakfast.

"One shilling," replied the waiter. "Well, how much will ye charge me for my dinner?" said Pat.

"One shilling and sixpence," replied the waiter. "Well, what will ye charge me for my supper, then?"

"Sixpence," was the reply. "Then, if ye please, will ye give me my supper?" said Pat.—Pearson's Weekly.

Even the Toy Banks Do It. "James," said Mrs. Firstflat that night at the dinner table, "I want to talk to you about Bobby. He's at his lessons now, so he can't interrupt us."

"Well, what about Bobby?" asked Mr. Firstflat as he carved the steaks.

"Why, he does such odd things with the little toy savings bank I bought him. Why, do you know, he is keeping money in it that belongs to a club!"

"He is, is he?"—Puck.

REFORMED.

The One—Did it do any good to prosecute Littleton, the coal dealer, for using fraudulent scales?

The Other—Yes, I hear that he's mended his weighs.

The Reason. He leads a lazy life, that's true, And loaf's till he's despoiled; But he works for a merchant who Has never advertised.

Ocular Proof. Finnegan—Ye asked Mulligan what he thought of the Orangemen, did ye? An' did he tell ye?

O'Brien (pointing to a black eye)—No, he showed me.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Properly Crushed.

"Well," sneered her husband, "suppose you get the ballot. What will be the first thing you do?" "Order a voting costume, of course!" was her triumphant retort.—Puck.

No Bears.

"Language is a queer thing. You speak of our forbears." "Yes." "And yet you insist that we are descended from monkeys."

To Be Expected.

"The aviators have put another old saying out of commission." "What's that?" "The one about a bomb from a clear sky."

Evasive.

"When your turn came in that kissing game, did you angrily repel the embrace?" "Why, I was up in arms at the mention of it!"

EASY TO TALK BUT HARD TO WALK.

That is the experience of a great many people in this world—and there's a reason.

Some people buy shoes just because they are a cent or two below some other shoe in price. Of course they do not fit—they hurt the feet—and it is hard to walk in them.

When you buy a Regal from us you are not bothered with any of these discomforts—for we sell "easy walking" shoes.
