CONTRACT LET FOR NEW WAREHOUSE

WORK WILL BEGIN AT ONCE

D. L. Thomas is Awarded the Contract for Erection of The Planters' Warehouse—$7300 Contract Price—To Be Rushed to Early Completion.

The contract for the building of the new tobacco warehouse in Ahoskie has been awarded to D. L. Thomas, a local contractor and builder. Bids were submitted by several contractors at a meeting of the building Committee one night last week, and the bid of Mr. Thomas, $7,300, was accepted by the committee. Work on the new building will begin just as soon as the material and fixtures can be purchased and put on the site. The mere fact that Mr. Thomas will have charge of the construction insures a quick job, and it is hoped that it will be completed in time for the fall opening.

As previously announced in a special article in this paper, the new warehouse will be built of brick, and will be 150 feet long by 100 feet wide, which will provide for 2200 square feet more floor space than the old Basnight Warehouse. It will be situated on a lot near the Basnight Warehouse, on what is now the Ahoskie baseball park. It has also been announced by the Building Committee that a spur track will be laid out to the platform of the new building so as to provide better shipping facilities for the buyers, who heretofore had to haul their crated tobacco several blocks to the Coast Line station. The building will be modern in every way, and everything possible will be done to make out of the proposed building a substantial and at the same time convenient warehouse.

With two large warehouses here and a larger acreage of tobacco already planted and growing in this section, Ahoskie's stock as a first class tobacco market will take a rapid ascension—and in the right direction. This means that this town will be one of the best tobacco markets in the small towns of Eastern North Carolina. The necessity of shipping tobacco to the markets of the larger towns will no longer exist, for the tobacco raisers of this part of the state can rest assured that everything will be done to make it a live market, and the two warehouses can accommodate all of the tobacco raised in this section.

With the addition of this new warehouse which will of necessity mean spirited competition, will come a larger host of buyers, representing practically all of the larger manufacturers. Mr. C. H. Phaup, who will have charge of Basnight Warehouse, has already announced that he has secured two additions to the list of buyers seen on the floor of that warehouse last season. And there are some new faces to be seen on the floor of the Planters Warehouse. With the addition of the new warehouse and several new buyers, Ahoskie will live up just as soon as the tobacco season opens, which we suppose will be some time near the latter part of the month of August or the first of the following month, September.

POST GRADUATE WORK FOR ACTIVE PHYSICIANS

University of North Carolina Giving Active Practitioner Course in Diagnosis and Treatment of Latest Diseases—Dr. L. W. Hill, Instructor.

The University of North Carolina has arranged courses of post-graduate study for practicing physicians, in their home towns.

To bring post graduate medical instruction to the doors of North Carolina doctors is a new but practical plan recently worked out by the University of North Carolina and the State Board of Health, in the interest of the physicians of this state. The plan in general is to put within financial and physical reach of the general practitioner of the means whereby he may become acquainted with the latest and best methods of diagnosis and treatment of diseases and know the latest advances made in scientific medicine, and meanwhile stay in his practice. This can be done, according to the University authorities, by bringing the instructor to the physicians instead of the reverse, which has proven almost impossible for the average physician. For the sum of thirty dollars a member, which is less than one twelfth of what it would cost a physician to take even a summer course at some distant school, to say nothing of the practice he would permanently lose meanwhile to his competitor, the University has arranged a class of post-graduate study to start June 5 with seventy or more doctors as members.

DISEASES OF CHILDREN

The first class, which is a course in the diseases of children, will embrace sections in the towns of Raleigh, Weldon, Tarboro, Wilson, Goldsboro, and Selma. On Mondays the lecturer will meet his class in Raleigh; on Tuesdays, in Weldon; on Wednesdays, in Tarboro; on Thursdays, in Wilson; on Fridays, in Goldsboro; and on Saturdays, in Selma. At each place he will give a one-hour lecture followed by a two-hour clinic, and the class will be continued for seventeen weeks, closing September 23. Proper academic credits will be given the physicians who attend 85 per cent of the lectures and clinics by the University.

Dr. Louis Webb Hill, of Boston, Massachusetts, who will be the instructor of the class, is eminently fitted for his position. He is a graduate of Harvard University and an honor graduate of Harvard University Medical School. He has given service in the Massachusetts General Hospital, in the Floating Hospital, in the Children's Hospital, and has had charge of one of the Boston Milk and Baby Hygiene Stations. He is at present assistant to Dr. Morse in the Out-Patient Department of the Children's Hospital in Boston. Dr. Hill is author of a small book on diabetes, and a number of important papers on scientific medicine. Just recently he has written a book on laboratory methods in the diagnosis of diseases of children, which will soon come from the press.

RELATION OF GOOD ROADS TO GOOD HEALTH VITAL

President of National Highway Association Says Good Roads Are Conducive to Better Health.

That good roads are conducive to good health is one of the best arguments advanced by Mr. Charles Henry Davis, C. E., president of the National Highway Association, in favor of good roads. He says:

"Given the same density of population, the town with better roads has the smallest percentage both of disease and deaths. When statistics show this almost invariably,"

CLUB MEMBERS PLANNING FOR THE COMING SEASON

Mr. T. E. Browne States Enrollment in Pig and Poultry Clubs for This Year is Very Pleasing Boys and Girls Are Going Ahead With Their Work.

"From cards received from the boys in answer to some questions sent out in a circular letter, and from our personal visits to the field, we are very much gratified with the earnestness with which the boys and girls have taken hold of the club work this year," says Mr. T. E. Browne. "On visits paid to the field it is the exception to find the boy who is not going ahead with his work. He either has corn up and growing, or is making excellent preparation for planting."

"In the pig club work a large majority of the members have their pigs or are securing them as rapidly as the dealers can supply them. Next season this obstacle will be removed, as the members will be able to supply themselves from their own breeding stock. The banks and business men are continuing their local support and up to date have supplied the Pig Club members with about $5,000 worth of pure-bred animals. A large number of these were put on the endless-chain basis, which will mean a large increase in aid for next year.

"The Poultry Club members are busily engaged in caring for the broods of chicks according to instructions sent them by the Poultry Club agent. More of the first reports have come in than ever before, and interest in the work continues to grow."

"The most encouraging fact in regard to the club movement is that, more than ever in its history, the members are realizing that the greatest value in being a club member is in becoming more intelligent farmers, in learning how to raise corn, pigs, chickens, and peanuts, or whatever they are growing, according to the most approved modern methods. These boys are becoming students in as true a sense as if they were regularly matriculated college men."

ably the case, there must be some connection between good roads and health. "It is true that a town with good roads is a progressive town with a health board that is correspondingly well informed and alert but it is also true that good roads have directly contributed to the progressive spirit. In short, money has rolled in over their well kept surfaces. Through them the town has become wealthier and wiser, and better health protection is a natural result."

Again he says: "A community to be wholly healthy, must not be a 'queer' community. It must take a sane interest in its business, and the relation of its business to the outside world. It must mix with other people beside its own immediate neighbors. In other words, it must come out of itself and to do this it must look to its roads."

"Where the roads are heavy, narrow, muddy and impassable, the community becomes segregated; a quiet backwater, quaint, but useless in our national progress, and sometimes queer and dangerous. It becomes the breeding place for insanity and perversion, a cancerous and vexed spot of mental ills and moral contagion that spreads as rapidly and leaves as sanguinary effects as any of the epidemics known to medicine."
