Out of 502 places allotted to North Carolina for her boys who might desire training in the Citizens' Camps to be held this summer, 200 vacancies are yet to be filled and it is hoped that all who desire to take advantage of this opportunity to get a fine vacation with plenty of time for sports of all kinds together with military instruction will send in their application blanks without delay since North Carolina is now at the bottom of the list in the Fourth Corps Area and if the boys of her state do not respond in the next ten days their places will be filled by young men from South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, and Florida where a great many more have applied for admission to these Camps than can be accommodated in these states under the present arrangement.
 Governors, Women's Clubs, Unicity President, Rotarians and other prominent civilians and organizations have endorsed the work and the idea throughout the Fourth Corps Area and parents whose boys attended last year were pleased not only because of the training which was given the boys in these camps but also because of the great physical and mental benefits received.
 The camps will be held this summer at Camp McClellan, near Anniston, Alabama, and Fort Barrancas near Pensacola, Florida, July 27th to August 26th.
 Any boy who is interested can get detailed information and application blanks from

That is to be a red letter day in the history of the town. Everybody knows that when the people of that community get together and try to have something worth while, that they usually succeed, and that is the expectation this year. As the Fair Association has decided not to put on anything for that date, the Managing Committee voted the use of the buildings and grounds to the people of the Roanoke-Chowan section in order to have a big day of it.
 As it would hardly be possible to fittingly celebrate this memorable day without a brass band to help enliven things, the local committee on arrangement, secured a good one for this occasion, so come, bring the whole family and enjoy the entire day at the Fair Grounds.
 Our plans are to have a parade through town at eleven o'clock. An address at half past eleven o'clock by the Honorable J. W. Bailey of Raleigh, who needs no introduction in this part of the State. Then follows a basket picnic dinner which you can spread on the tables in the main building or partake of under the shade of the trees out on the grounds. To any that do not care to bother with bringing their lunch, they can assure same on the European plan from the stands that have been rented for this occasion, for there will be plenty of eats from the simple sandwich to fried chicken and barbecue, together with cold drinks for sale on the grounds. At 1:30 p. m., there will be some good horse racing for already Charlie Gould has several in training, while Johnnie Taylor was over this past week making arrangements to bring in five or six more to put in training. At the close of the races a game of baseball between Boykins and Woodland is to be played, so a full day awaits all who will take advantage of it. And the best part of it all is—there is no admission fees either to the grounds or grandstand. These are free.
 Should there be any one in this Roanoke-Chowan section that does not care for the sports, come to hear the address and meet your friends during the afternoon, for everybody in the three counties is invited and expected to be here. Come without fail, tell others to come and let's make it the biggest day Woodland has ever had.

Red Seal Lye is an excellent water softener and a wonderful cleanser.
 Washing clothes in hard water is a waste of time and soap. Clothes cannot be thoroughly cleaned in hard water. The water must first be softened. If you would have your clothes snowy white, clean and sweet smelling, add one teaspoonful of Red Seal Lye to every three gallons of washing water. This is true soap economy.
 Another great saving may be realized by making your own soap with Red Seal Lye. One large can of Red Seal Lye will make twenty cakes of pure soap, at a cost of less than one cent per cake. Mix according to the directions in the can.
 If you prefer washing fluid, one can of Red Seal Lye will make enough fluid for thirty-two wash boilers of clothes. This goes further than anything else for washing purposes.
 Many other uses of Red Seal Lye are mentioned on the direction sheet in the can. If the drain runs slowly, sprinkle a little Red Seal Lye down it and watch how quickly it frees the pipes. Red Seal Lye is a powerful disinfectant. It kills germs and does away with unpleasant odors.
 The Red Seal Booklet explains many household uses with recipes. Be sure and ask your dealer for the old reliable granulated Red Seal Lye, and take no substitute. Send us a postal and we will mail you the Red Seal Booklet free of charge. Write today.

MOTOR LICENSES DUE
 A steady stream of green and white 1922-1923 automobile license tags have commenced to move out of the office of the Secretary of State at Raleigh. It is estimated that an average of about 6,000 a day are being sent out which will keep up until July 1st when the present licenses expire. Notices have been sent out to about 175,000 owners of motor vehicles in the state. This year all trucks and automobiles owned by the state, counties, cities, towns, school districts or other local units of government or state and public institutions will have to be listed with the Secretary of State. Last year these machines were not so listed, but the law amended at the last session of the general assembly. The change was made in order that the state can catch up with those who violate the rules and use public tags for private automobile. This fee charged will be a nominal one. It is expected that this will show 5,000 or more publicly owned automobiles and trucks in the state, which are not registered with the secretary of state last year.
 It is estimated that increase in motor vehicles of all kinds this year will approach the 200,000 mark. Last year there were about 167,000 motor vehicles of all kinds listed for taxation in the state. The license fee will be the same this year as it was last year, so any increase in the amount of money that will go to the road fund will come from an increase in the number of vehicles rather than from an increase in the license tax.
