The physicians were hastily summoned on Friday last to attend a family named Riddle, at Roberdel mills, every member of which, six persons, had been attacked with violent sickness, the symptoms being the same as would follow an immoderate dose of tartar emetic. Some of them, exhausted by the attack, were delirious, and all of them seemed critically ill on arrival of the doctors.

Prompt treatment was beneficial in each case and as yet none have died. The family had dined on peas of the variety known as the "lady pea," but to determine the positive cause has puzzled the doctors.—Rocket.

Our sanctum is now adorned with one of Prof. Johnson's new maps. It is handsomely gotten up and remarkably accurate. Not only is it indispensable to the stranger who wishes to know any thing about the county but it is full of information for those who have lived here all their lives. Prof. Johnson has succeeded in executing a work for which he deserves the thanks of every citizen in the county and we are glad to learn that his map is meeting with ready sales. It takes well because no family can afford to be without it. In a very short time he has sold about a hundred in one township and he proposes to publish what township buys the most.

The sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. J. H. MILLIS of High Point will be received with sincere regret by her many friends in this county. She passed away quietly at her home on the 7th of May after a short illness. Pneumonia, the dread disease, that has proved so fatal this year, began its deadly work on the 29th of March and was too powerful for the physician's skill.

And on the 15th, just eight days after the death of Mrs. MILLIS, her mother, Mrs. N. W. WALKER, widow of the late Jesse Walker, died at the same place and from the same disease. Both were buried in the Methodist cemetery at Randleman, where a large concourse of sympathizing friends gathered to pay a last tribute to the dead.

These estimable ladies were alike exemplary in all the relations of life and their death is mourned by a wide circle of relatives and friends in this and other counties.

OBITUARY.

CORDELLA A. WALL, daughter of J. W. and A. G. WALL, was born Feb'y 24th, 1865, and died April 23rd, 1885. Last Spring while attending school at New Salem she had a hemorrhage from the lungs and was soon after prostrated by consumption. Every thing that parents and friends could do to alleviate her sufferings and make her last days bright and happy was done. Her every wish was gratified. It was the privilege of the writer to converse with her in reference to her preparation for death. Her life had been strictly moral, but she became deeply concerned about her soul's salvation, and did not rest satisfied until she found peace in God. She was willing to die. Her wish to die before she fell asleep she told her mother that she saw Jesus. Thus passed away one greatly beloved by all who knew her. A FRIEND.

The Celebrated J. P. NISSEN WAGON, Made by

G. F. NISSEN, W. M. NISSEN, S. J. NISSEN.

GEO. E. NISSEN & Co., SALEM, N. C.

THE REASONS WE CAN AND DO MAKE THE BEST WAGONS ARE: We keep a large stock of seasoned lumber, sawing most of it on our own mills, and using only the best of wagon lumber; the iron is made especially for us by the best works in Pennsylvania; the workmen have had many years' experience; then it being a settled fact that we make the best, we can make it cheaper than any one else, quality considered; our advantages are, saving the lumber ourselves, buying iron, paint, varnish, &c., mostly by the car load at bottom cash prices. We are manufacturers agents for the best Timbale Skein made, being of best wrought steel, perfectly welded, and cannot break. We make the only brake on running gear that is worth hauling. Write for prices. Every wagon bearing our name is fully warranted.
