Farm Journal Five Years.

By Special arrangement made with the publishers of the FARM JOURNAL we are enabled to offer a 5 year subscription to that paper to every new subscriber who pays for the COURIER one year ahead; and the same offer is made to every old subscriber who will pay all back dues a done year in advance—both papers for the price of ours only.

In order to get the FARM JOURNAL as a premium for advance payment it will be necessary to walk right up to the capitan's office for we have only a limited number of 5 year subscriptions to dispose of. The FARM JOURNAL is on solid foundation and perfectly trustworthy.

There is nothing strange about the fact that some of the Justices of the Supreme Court have delivered opinions on former occasions directly antagonistic to their opinions in the Day case. That is a way fusionists have of doing.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has decided that directors of a National bank who sign the reports required by law thereby certify to the absolutely correctness of the report. It has been suggested that directors of national banks in Nebraska will hereafter direct. Many banks have been wrecked because of the failure of the directors to direct—to look carefully after the interest intrusted to them.

Not only political newspapers are crying aloud that a day of wrath is coming, and sound the alarm at the rapidity with which trusts are forming to control the products of the country, but so conservative a paper as Harper's Weekly in a recent issue among other things said:

"Never before in the history of the country have so many powerful combinations of corporations and capital been brought into existence. It is safe to say that the manufacture and sale of nearly every article of common need and convenience is controlled by a trust, as transportation is largely, and as labor is almost entirely."

The United States violates the principles of its own constitution and of the declaration of Independence in its costly and ruinous effort to invade the homes and conquer a people who are fighting for their liberty and freedom, a principle which was fought for so valiantly by our fore fathers. After having undertaken to buy the Philippines in the market like sheep, we butcher them like so many cattle. The horrors of war are being realized more and more everyday. It is a senseless war conducted by the administration in violation of every principle of our government, and the end is not yet. Every day we are shooting the Filipinos who come out from their homes to meet our armies with their little bows and arrows. It is thus that we are carrying on a war in the name of christian civilization. We are shooting religion and civilization into them with the rifle and musket.

Negro suffrage was forced on us at the point of the bayonet to degrade and humiliate the Southern people. This was not done for the good of either the white or the colored race, but was to satisfy the plunderers and scalawags who desired to humiliate a brave and proud people and perpetuate themselves in power. The crowd that was in the saddle after the war as a rule hated respectability and sought the elevation to power the negro and the scalawags in preference to decent white men.

The Negro has given much trouble in Baltimore city politics since the republicans took charge of the city in 1896, and the democratic slogan in the present municipal contest is, "Baltimore is a white man's city." Ex-Governor Frank Brown is president of the democratic association and he is getting the ladies interested, as well as the voters.

H. H. Cartland, a well known Greensboro tailor, died last Friday. He died of spinal meningitis.

One Minute Cough Cure, cures. That is what it was made for.

Enthusiasm.

A few evenings ago having finished a magazine article by Rudyard Kipling; and bothered for some time about the exact place where genius showed itself, and where foolishness ended, I concluded to visit some of my neighbors.

I forthwith started out to see my dearest friend, I found her engaged piecing a bed quilt. I had an inspiration at once; and this old saying came to me, "what men have done, men may do." To make a long story short I asked for a pattern of this beautiful scrap invention. I took the model, and not long after started upon the delightful task of piecing a quilt. I was told the name of this quilt was the "Hand of Friendship," and as I fitted the little squares together, with the black in the centre surrounded by a halo of light, it occurred to me that it looked as much like almost anything else as a hand of any sort, it had nothing like the look of a hand about it, for it seemed to be in clusters of twos and fours, nothing that least bit looked like five friendly sociable fingers. Upon mentioning this matter to a commissioner in the quilt line, I was told that I was mistaken, and that my "Hand of Friendship" was in reality "the T," I said why T? and waited because that was the name of it. This caused me to ponder over all the many things that were so cause they were so. But I can safely say that this quilt smacks a little of a T, as can be imagined. I have shut one eye, looked sidewise, looked straight, looked at it on all sides, but nothing like a T am I able to even imagine, but T it is, that is the name.

I have been cutting squares for some time, have a basket about full, have made several of the beautiful T's, in fact have passed beyond the point at which I usually stop in piecing a quilt, I have about seven of the T's now, I don't think I ever got beyond six before I would lose heart and lay up my work for a rainy day, and that would be the end of all my good resolutions. But this time Gibraltar has been passed, I am out upon an untraveled sea, but hope looms in the distance, my friends look incredulous; but I am thoroughly aroused, I feel that the "race is won, the soul of the racer is in it," and around me sit my friends with fear depicted upon their faces; they are anxious to see which will win the quilt or me. I have no fears, the quilt fever has seized me at last, this one will be finished, and as I sew in the bits of calico, I am thinking where I manage to get the pattern of the "Rose of Sharon," Lone Star of Texas," "Sun Flower," and many realizations of other beautiful creations of calico which I have seen. I think any one who will buy calico and make quilts out of one color will receive just punishment.

I say get some beautiful suggestive pattern, cut you a paper pattern pin this pattern to your scrap of calico, don't let it slip, cut all around this pattern, it may be a little different from the paper pattern after you turn lose of it, but this will happen with the greatest experts you know. Don't lose heart press on, and after awhile the goal will be reached, you will have a lovely creation in calico; and long years after you can look at the tiny bits, and remember just where you wore that dress first, an I here is a little check piece that you had a bonnet or an apron like; and here is a piece of your dearest friend's dress, you remember just how she looked in it. Well such a quilt as this is calculated to be almost an inspiration when you once fall in love with the work. I must have an old time quilting when I finish and ask in the girls to help me quilt it.

Very truly,
"Annt Annie."

Doctors Say;

Bilious and Intermittent Fevers which prevail in miasmatic districts are invariably accompanied by derangements of the Stomach Liver and Bowels.

The Secret of Health.

The liver is the great "driving wheel" in the mechanism of man, and when it is out of order, the whole system becomes deranged and disease is the result.

Is Dropsy A Blood Disease.

A little white boy came to my home nearly dead with dropsy. He was hardly able to walk across the floor. His feet and hands were so swollen, that when you pressed your finger on them, the impression would stay there some time. We used Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy on him, and he was soon a strong, well boy.

COME SOUTH, YOUNG MAN!

The following piece of advice is given in a recent number of Leilie's Weekly, of New York:

"More money has been made in the southern states in the last 20 years than will be made in the next fifty years in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and the chances for money-making in the south have only commenced. The price of iron for the world is now made at Birmingham, Ala., and that city will shortly make the world's price of steel. The south's industrial evolution, which began with the development of its iron industries, includes machine shops and factories, steel plants and hardware factories. The 3,000 new industries which have sprung up during the past year include fertilizer and phosphate works, wood-working factories, furniture, vehicle, agricultural and miscellaneous works, textile, flour and cotton seed oil mills, gas and water works, telephone system, electric light and power, and ice and cold storage plants, canneries and hundreds of miscellaneous plants. Nearly every southern state has increased its railroad mileage during the past year, and every southern harbor has increased its export trade. * * * If you seek new fields of opportunity, go south, young man!"

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand. These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

What are these remedies?
Fresh air, proper food and Scott's Emulsion
of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak throats, weak lungs and consumption in all its stages.

Mary had a little watch
Its face was white as snow
It strayed away one summer day
When a little watch should never go.
And when she got it back
It made poor Mary weep.
Instead of its old tick tick
It really went to sleep.
That was because she trusted it to nim compoop watch botcher to fix for her.
But Johnny had a little watch,
He wound it at the stem,
And ever where Johnny went
He took the little gem.
And when it needed "fixin'" he took it
to the undersigned.
Now Johnny is as happy as a big sun
flower that waves and nods in the breeze.
For his little gem keeps time, time, time in a happy rustic rhyme to the tintinnulation that so musically
sals from the bells.
The tinkling sleigh bells, the mellow wedding bells, the hungry dinner
bells, you, even the prett'y village bells.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't know it.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney poisons in the blood is liable to attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waiste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble. Kidney trouble can be detected although it be slow and deceptive. First, by analysis of the urine; second, by the simple test of setting the urine aside in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, when a cloudy or brick dust settling indicates it. It was for just such troubles that in His infinite power and goodness, the Great Physician has sent Swamp-Root to grow for the benefit of suffering mankind, leaving it to His servant, Dr. Kilmer, the great kidney and bladder specialist to discover it and make it known to the world. Its wonderful efficacy in promptly curing the most distressing cases is truly marvelous. You may have a sample bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, by mail free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper.
