

Loss of Flesh

When you can't eat breakfast, take Scott's Emulsion. When you can't eat bread and butter, take Scott's Emulsion. When you have been living on a milk diet and want something a little more nourishing, take Scott's Emulsion.

To get fat you must eat fat. Scott's Emulsion is a great fatterer, a great strength giver.

Those who have lost flesh want to increase all body tissues, not only fat. Scott's Emulsion increases them all, bone, flesh, brain and nerve.

For invalids, for convalescents, for consumptives, for weak children, for all who need flesh, Scott's Emulsion is a rich and comfortable food, and a natural tonic.

Scott's Emulsion for bone, flesh, blood and nerve.

We will send you a free sample. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT & BOWNE, CHEMISTS, 409 Pearl St., N. Y.

BRITAIN & GREGSON, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW, Asheboro, - North Carolina.

Practice in the courts of Randolph and adjoining counties; in State and Federal Courts. Prompt attention to business of all kinds.

Wm. C. HAMMER, J. A. SPENCE, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, HAMMER & SPENCE, Asheboro, N. C.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

ELIJAH MOFFITT, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Practice in all the courts. Special attention given to settlement of Estates. OFFICE NEAR COURT HOUSE.

Raleigh Letter.

Jan. 15.—Committee appointments are generally satisfactory although some changes might be made. The committees are very large. The Republicans have fared very well.

The question of mileage is becoming of interest. Representative Bowman proved over 900 miles, coming around by Johnson City and Morristown, Tenn., instead of driving over 40 miles through the country to Marion like his predecessors, getting under 700 miles. Something having been said about it, he arose to a question of personal privilege and asked that the matter be referred to a committee. It is now in the hands of the committee on salaries and fees.

Mr. Bowman is the Republican member from Mitchell. The mileage question is one many members have contrasted for themselves, the distance by the same route from the same place, often varying for different members.

Rumor says there have been enough promises made in the senatorial fight to take every office, from Governor down, for the next eight years. It is evident that somebody is going to be disappointed.

Many members are taking colds freely.

Jan. 16.—Work on the revenue bill is expected to begin at once. The matter is now occupying the attention of many legislators.

Many seem pleased that President Roosevelt has sent his picture and autograph for the Red Men's Bazaar next week and expect a nice sum for them. Such demonstrations are strong endorsements for the appointment of negro office holders in the South.

There are two brothers in the Legislature. They are John E. Vann, of Hertford, in the Senate, and C. S. Vann, of Chowan, in the House.

A prominent insurance man, Mr. Loder, supervisor of eighteen States for the New York Mutual Life, says he has seen twenty-seven Legislatures and that this one is the most intelligent of all. He especially remarked upon the neat and gentlemanly deportment of the members at all times.

There was a session in the Senate last night. It was the withdrawal of Mr. Carr from the race. It was entirely unexpected.

A number of additions have been made to several committees. Also some new committees were announced today.

There is no desire to far Legislate from offices created by themselves in Senator Mann's bill against it is a true index. His bill got one vote. It can never reach the House.

His was against such, but also, he was the only one who voted for it. The constitution ought to prohibit it. It saves too much of the business.

There is something wrong about heating and ventilating the Capitol. It has become so bad there is an almost constant cough all over the house.

Jan. 17.—The committee on salaries and fees reported favorably. Mr. Bowman's mileage case, so he draws by the route route. It seems that under the circumstances it was the best he could do at this season of the year.

The grand lodge was largely attended. Many Masons took a look at the Legislature, but apparently little interest in the Senatorial fight. The caucus last night made no nomination. The lot is practically unchanged. The last ballot, the thirty-first, was Overman 34, Watson 48, Craig 28, Alexander 3.

Representative Owens, Republican from Sampson, got his foot in it Saturday. The matter of appropriating $2,500 for the heating, ventilation and renovation of the capitol was under discussion. Mr. Owens favored it as he wanted to get rid of some of those Democratic microbes.

Mr. Curtis, Democrat of Buncombe, wanted to know if the Rep-Pop fusion microbes were his kind and Mr. Murphy, Democrat of Rowan, wanted to know if the Isaac Smith breed were his liking. Mr. Owens hasn't yet answered.

Mr. Statton, of Sagrove, attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge last week.

The Governor on the Liquor Question.

For many years the Legislature of this State has been repealing the limits in which liquor could be sold and manufactured until at the present time this business cannot be carried on in half of the counties of the State, while more than two-thirds of the counties have either by county or legislative action restricted the sale to incorporated towns. No good reason is apparent why the Legislature should not in all the counties apply the restriction which today exists in more than two-thirds of them. This should be done for the reason that in the country there is no police supervision of the conduct of the business. Those who live in the country have no protection from the evil results growing out of the manufacture and sale of liquor. In many places the lawlessness due to this business has driven good people who preferred to live in their farms into the towns for safety.

I recommend, therefore, that a general law be passed prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor throughout the State save in incorporated towns. The manufacture of liquor, even in incorporated towns, should be subject to the same restrictions that now apply to the sale. If your honorable body should pass this law I believe that you would see good results from it in the near future and your actions would meet with the approval of the best citizens of the State. In passing a statute on this subject care should be taken to avoid restoring the manufacture and sale of liquor where it is now prohibited by law. Stringent provisions should be made to prevent the operation of blockade stills. The State should no longer depend upon the Federal government to suppress this evil business. From the Governor's Message.

The liquor men of Wilkes county have raised a fund with which to fight the Watts, London and other prohibition measures in the Legislature.

James Bywater, an employe of the Elk Furniture Company, at Lexington, attempted suicide last week by swallowing rough on rats. Enemies were given and his life saved. Cause thought to be trouble in his family.

You might not at first think that there could be any connection between the boy with the gun and the specked apple in the barrel; but, you see, the boy kills the birds and the dead bird can't destroy the insects, which prey on the fruit.

In Cumberland county the school board have indicted the magistrates before the grand jury for failure to make returns of fines, and the magistrates have indicted the school board for misappropriation of public funds in payment of mileage and failure to make reports.

Amos Hanes borrowed a horse from Troy Clement in Davie county last week to get a jug of whiskey. In returning Hanes got into a swollen stream and the horse was washed down stream about 85 feet and mired in the mud, while Amos and the jug landed. The horse was pulled out the next day, but died from being in the mud so long.

The Governor has offered a reward of $300 for the apprehension of R. Lawrence Gardner, who is the author of the ruin and death of Miss Barabill, of Kingston. Little was known to implicate anyone until after the death of the unfortunate girl when the letters from Gardner were discovered asking her to take the medicine he had furnished. In addition to this reward by the State $200 is offered by private parties.

Senator Morris of Wake county, $20,000 to establish a factory for white youths.—Senator Spence has introduced a bill to give boarding house keepers $30 for failure to provide strangers with suitable room, bed and board.—Senator Baldwin has introduced a bill to allow all divorced persons to marry.—Senator Gordon has introduced a bill to prevent fire insurance companies from combining to raise rates, requiring yearly audits that such rates have not been entered into.—A bill to discontinue appropriation of $500 to Elizabeth City Normal School has been introduced.

Child Labor.—We think Governor Aycock quite right in the position he takes in his message on the question of child labor in cotton mills—favoring an enactment which will close the doors on children under twelve years of age as to day work and under fourteen as to night work. Cotton mill men are agreed, we think, on the proposition that it is not profitable to work children under 12; they could rather not have them and they being bound themselves in a pledge that from there can be no substantial objection to a law governing the matter. It would be a good thing for the operators. A superintendent wanting labor is often told by the worthless and heartless head of a family that he will take all of them—whereas now, and if the superintendent declines to take all, the family will take all the children, regardless of age. A law would regulate this—the superintendent then being in position to say that he cannot employ those under twelve—whereas it has been seen that a mere agreement does not hold. This law, however, to be effective, should prescribe punishment for a parent who lets about the age of a child who is really under the prescribed age limit; it would not be right that all of the punishment and approval, too, should be visited upon the mill man.—Charlotte Observer.

The Proposed Liquor Law.—The bill introduced in the lower house of the Legislature, Thursday, following the revenue plan of Governor Aycock's message, to restrict the manufacture and sale of liquor to incorporated towns, has merit in it. The distillers will of course object to it energetically, and if it puts a great many of them out of business, so much the better for them as well as for the rural communities in which they operate, for the distillation of liquor, as the business is carried on in North Carolina, demoralizes the men engaged in it as well as those who consume the product. And of good effect of the enactment of such a law would be the reduction of the numbers of revenue officers, who are so persistently active in all unproductive employments. There is no class of men, distillers or drinkers, who are more demoralized by these distilleries than the revenue officers, especially the store-keepers and gangers, many of these young men, who most often sink at violations of law in order to hold their jobs. That this bill, or one substantially like it, will pass, is a pretty safe prophecy, for the distillers and revenue officers probably have very few friends in the Legislature. The method by which these two classes conduct their business, and their campaign conduct, have been such as to alienate such sympathy as they might otherwise have had, and there will be few to mourn when one loses its occupation and the other its office.—Charlotte Observer.

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

The Old North State.

The Senate has confirmed the appointment of W. B. Steele as postmaster at High Point.

At Taylorsville January 13th fire destroyed the lumber plant of W. P. Ingram & Co. Loss about $5,000. No insurance.

J. G. Hankins was fined $50 last week in Guilford Superior Court for attempting to kill his wife while drunk.

The liquor firm of Coble & Bentz, of Greensboro, has gone into the hands of a receiver, Irvin White, of Winston, it is reported.

The liquor men of Wilkes county have raised a fund with which to fight the Watts, London and other prohibition measures in the Legislature.

James Bywater, an employe of the Elk Furniture Company, at Lexington, attempted suicide last week by swallowing rough on rats. Enemies were given and his life saved. Cause thought to be trouble in his family.

You might not at first think that there could be any connection between the boy with the gun and the specked apple in the barrel; but, you see, the boy kills the birds and the dead bird can't destroy the insects, which prey on the fruit.

In Cumberland county the school board have indicted the magistrates before the grand jury for failure to make returns of fines, and the magistrates have indicted the school board for misappropriation of public funds in payment of mileage and failure to make reports.

Amos Hanes borrowed a horse from Troy Clement in Davie county last week to get a jug of whiskey. In returning Hanes got into a swollen stream and the horse was washed down stream about 85 feet and mired in the mud, while Amos and the jug landed. The horse was pulled out the next day, but died from being in the mud so long.

The Governor has offered a reward of $300 for the apprehension of R. Lawrence Gardner, who is the author of the ruin and death of Miss Barabill, of Kingston. Little was known to implicate anyone until after the death of the unfortunate girl when the letters from Gardner were discovered asking her to take the medicine he had furnished. In addition to this reward by the State $200 is offered by private parties.

Senator Morris of Wake county, $20,000 to establish a factory for white youths.—Senator Spence has introduced a bill to give boarding house keepers $30 for failure to provide strangers with suitable room, bed and board.—Senator Baldwin has introduced a bill to allow all divorced persons to marry.—Senator Gordon has introduced a bill to prevent fire insurance companies from combining to raise rates, requiring yearly audits that such rates have not been entered into.—A bill to discontinue appropriation of $500 to Elizabeth City Normal School has been introduced.

Child Labor.—We think Governor Aycock quite right in the position he takes in his message on the question of child labor in cotton mills—favoring an enactment which will close the doors on children under twelve years of age as to day work and under fourteen as to night work. Cotton mill men are agreed, we think, on the proposition that it is not profitable to work children under 12; they could rather not have them and they being bound themselves in a pledge that from there can be no substantial objection to a law governing the matter. It would be a good thing for the operators. A superintendent wanting labor is often told by the worthless and heartless head of a family that he will take all of them—whereas now, and if the superintendent declines to take all, the family will take all the children, regardless of age. A law would regulate this—the superintendent then being in position to say that he cannot employ those under twelve—whereas it has been seen that a mere agreement does not hold. This law, however, to be effective, should prescribe punishment for a parent who lets about the age of a child who is really under the prescribed age limit; it would not be right that all of the punishment and approval, too, should be visited upon the mill man.—Charlotte Observer.

The Proposed Liquor Law.—The bill introduced in the lower house of the Legislature, Thursday, following the revenue plan of Governor Aycock's message, to restrict the manufacture and sale of liquor to incorporated towns, has merit in it. The distillers will of course object to it energetically, and if it puts a great many of them out of business, so much the better for them as well as for the rural communities in which they operate, for the distillation of liquor, as the business is carried on in North Carolina, demoralizes the men engaged in it as well as those who consume the product. And of good effect of the enactment of such a law would be the reduction of the numbers of revenue officers, who are so persistently active in all unproductive employments. There is no class of men, distillers or drinkers, who are more demoralized by these distilleries than the revenue officers, especially the store-keepers and gangers, many of these young men, who most often sink at violations of law in order to hold their jobs. That this bill, or one substantially like it, will pass, is a pretty safe prophecy, for the distillers and revenue officers probably have very few friends in the Legislature. The method by which these two classes conduct their business, and their campaign conduct, have been such as to alienate such sympathy as they might otherwise have had, and there will be few to mourn when one loses its occupation and the other its office.—Charlotte Observer.

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

Sam Jones comes after some parrots in his characteristic way. "The men are after the dollar and bring the children to hell. I'd rather preach to a hellish post than such people." The way to preach to these men is to find out what hole they're in and fire into that hole. They'll hold their breath. This country will never succeed in the last sense until we put God above gold, manhood above money and teach our children

SAFE CRACKER.

Get in Their Work at Tomlinson Chair Factory.

The office of Tomlinson Chair Manufacturing Co. was entered Wednesday night by safe crackers who got in their work, leaving the safe a wreck but securing only about $5.

The door of the safe was pried open with a sledge hammer; until the bolts and cement gave away. The inside door was then broken into pieces. The floor of the office was covered with debris and the tools used, sledge hammer, chisel and another small hammer were seen by. No dynamite was used. An entrance was effected through a window on the west side of the building which was found open.

The same parties tried to effect an entrance to J. J. Sechrist's store on the same night and for this purpose used a maul which belonged to Tomlinson Chair Co., and an ax. The safe door was pried partly open and the ax was found on the inside. A heavy bar on the inside failed to give way and the robbers had to abandon their work. The officers took up the matter at an early hour but have scarcely any clue.

Such depredations have been of frequent occurrence lately and it would be well to keep a close lookout.—High Point Enterprise.

High Point People Taken In.

A special from High Point to the Charlotte Observer says that H. B. McDowell came to High Point some three weeks ago claiming his home in Charlotte, and established a laundry on the corner of Factory and Hamilton streets. To-day the laundry is standing idle and his customers are clamoring for their clothes and his creditors are looking for their pay. McDowell represented himself as owning laundries at Charlotte, S. C., Danville, Va., and Charlotte, and was prospecting with a view of opening a laundry in Kingston. He did not bring any laundry machinery with him to this place, but leased an establishment from a local laundry man, pending the arrival of his outfit.

McDowell's first act, it seems, was to give a $5 check on a Charlotte bank to Mattie Ross, merchants at this place, in exchange for a pair of $2.50 shoes, securing $2.50 as a balance. Mattie Ross, sent the check to Charlotte and it was returned with the information that McDowell had no money in that institution. Mattie Ross immediately approached him and secured their laundry money.

Wachovia Loan only went into the office here and told the cashier he wanted to run his account with that institution and signed a check for one $25 on a Charlotte bank, secured by the cashier. A telegram to Charlotte brought the information that no money was deposited there in favor of McDowell. He also wrote a check for $5.00 in payment of help at the laundry, which was also cashed by the Wachovia Loan and Trust Company, and which was also said to be "no good." He had the cashier to order him some blank checks with the name of his laundry thereon. He handed with Mr. N. Ingram and left without paying a two-weeks' board bill. He secured some money also from Mr. Ingram, but by chance he managed to get this back. Other debts are reported to have been made by him and the cashier left in the hole. He had a lot of printing done at The Enterprise office and failed to get it. McDowell evidently thought things were getting too close for comfort and chose Saturday night to make his departure. The officers went down to his former place of business and found but few of the customers' clothing. It is said that McDowell is under a heavy bond for his appearance in Charlotte, today. He first came here several days ago and tried to buy or lease the High Point Steam Laundry and not succeeding, told the proprietor that he would run him out of business. A warrant will be issued for larceny of clothing against McDowell and an effort will be made to bring him back.

Los Lindsey, colored, as whose alleged mistress he is, is said to have mysteriously disappeared and that McDowell is evidently the biggest liar alive. These are the facts as given me by those concerned and the officers of the town.

McDowell was born in Concord township where his father and mother now live. McDowell came to Asheboro several months ago and established an agency for a laundry in Charlotte which he claimed to have been after this it turned out that he had forged his father or brother's name to a note for $1300 and succeeded in getting a bank to discount it. He was afterwards arrested in Baltimore. A compromise was arranged, his father mortgaging his home through his attorney Mr. Joe Spence to save his son from the penitentiary, and here he is at his swindling again.

The Things that Make a County.—Mecklenburg county now has 118 miles of good macadamized roads, and is contemplating the immediate construction of 119 miles more. No wonder the good county is progressing so rapidly in the material and substantial wealth of its people. Good roads and free rural delivery will make any county prosperous.

Items of Interest.

Judge Parker could carry New York, while Mr. Roosevelt could not.

The President didn't get any bears on his Southern trip, but he has a few Southern coons on hand that he would be glad to get rid of.

Anthracite coal is one article that has proved that it does not need a protective tariff.

Perhaps the most feasible solution for the Dr. Crum problem would be to send him as minister to Liberia.

There is a general suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt's strenuous effort to capture the Southern delegates was begun late.

The President may have satisfied his desire to interfere in everybody's business, but he has not strengthened his position by attempting to dictate to the Utah legislature.

A Republican majority in the House will not pass an anti-trust measure with the full confidence that it will be lost in the mass of senatorial procedure.

Senator Hanna, who aspires to the role of "the King-maker," confidentially suggests that there is excellent timber in Mr. Myron S. Hewitt.

The situation in the legislatures of Delaware, Kansas, Colorado and New York are comprehensive illustrations of Republican harmony.

Perhaps the reason it is so hard to get the services of respectable and moral colored ladies in the kitchen is that there are too many aspirants for positions of similar "downy beds of ease."

If the Senators were elected by the people they would not dare pursue their present dilatory tactics in the hope of preventing anti-trust legislation.

The next national Republican convention will be comprised of 447 candidates of which number 173 will come from the South and will cheerfully obey the mandates of Senator

Two of the great New York dailies which have heretofore been loyal to the President have turned on him. One is bitter in its ridicule of his anti-trust policy, the other is condemning his Southern policy.

After the brilliant example set by the late Senator from Michigan, by Senator Hanna and numerous senatorial Republicans, Mr. Adkins cannot be understood that it is not exactly becoming to insist on having a seat in the U. S. Senate.

President Roosevelt's rapid loss of strength in his own state indicates that the next Democratic candidate will come from that section and the question will probably fall on David R. Hunt or Alton B. Parker.

The Republican senators, headed by Beveridge of Indiana, have worked in late hours to construct, of the South Hill, a dam which would obstruct all anti-trust legislation and it looks as if they would be successful.

Senator Hoar is angry at the Attorney General for suggesting a rival trust bill. Senator Edkins is sensitive because a bill affecting commerce was not referred to his committee and senatorial dignity is to be met another barrier to anti-trust legislation.

Senator Hoar is closing his brilliant career in the United States Senate by making a noble fight against the duty on anthracite coal, a duty which it is admitted was introduced into the Dingley Bill simply for political effect and with no intention of cementing it into law.

Editor Ains His Domestic Grievances in a Newspaper.

In the Yorkville, S. C., Yeoman, of the 21st inst., is a most remarkable publication—an announcement by the editor, J. S. Drakeford, that he and his wife cannot live together in peace and that he surrenders the paper from that time and will go to another State and seek a divorce. Out of a rambling serenade, five columns in length, abounding in quotations of poetry and prose, this much is gathered and little more. There is a great deal of talk about God and heaven and forebearance, affection for children and their affection for him, his intention to continue to support his family, and all that. And all in all we do not suppose that there was ever, since the birth of Christ, a newspaper editor who gave his domestic affairs such an airing in his paper as does the editor of the Yorkville Yeoman in his issue of January 2, 1903. Drakeford, we think, once lived in Charlotte—Charlotte Observer.

FOR HARELESS

and Fiddle Bone Ointment. Itching Liniment is just what you need. It takes effect at once, and you will be astonished to see how quickly it breaks away.

It's this way: You can burn yourself with Fire, with Powder, etc., or you can scald yourself with Steam or Hot Water, but there is only one proper way to cure a burn or scald and that is by using Mexican Mustang Liniment.

It gives immediate relief. Get a piece of soft old flannel, saturate it with this liniment and bind loosely upon the wound. You can have no adequate idea what an excellent remedy this is for a burn until you have tried it.

A FOWL TIP. If you have a bird afflicted with Boop or any other poultry disease use Mexican Mustang Liniment. It is called a STABDAB remedy by poultry breeders.

The Greensboro Loan & Trust Co.

Capitol Stock, $100,000. "Take care of the Dimes and the Dollars will take care of themselves." Start a savings account for yourself in your old age. Start a savings account for your wife and each of your children and encourage them to save and add to it. Four per cent. interest allowed on deposits of $5.00 and upwards in our Savings Department, provided they remain three full months from the first day of any month succeeding the deposit. Send your deposit or write for full particulars to Greensboro Loan & Trust Co., GREENSBORO, N. C. The company also does a General Banking Business and acts as Receiver, Trustee, Guardian, Executor and Administrator of Estates. Safe Deposit Boxes in Steel, and Bargain Proof Vaults for rent.

Great Values.

We are offering to our friends and customers "values" in Dry Goods, Shoes, Clothing, &c. Dress Goods, &c. Shoes, Pants, &c. We have a full and complete stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Laces, Etc., which will pay you to examine. We have on hand a full line of shoes for men, women and children. Also a nice line of men's pants.

In addition to a general line of merchandise we also handle the best brands of Fertilizers and you will always find it to your interest to see us.

Miller & Wood.

Asheboro, July 30, 1902. Successors to W. J. Miller.

LISTEN!

Rock Hill Buggy Co., Rock Hill, S. C. Castro, Ga., August 21, 1902. I beg to state that your "Long-Winded" sale is a perfect success. Having the advantage over any other long distance sale that I have ever seen in that the old cannot run out on the ground, but must be used up on the square; and as the sale cannot get on the square to get it out. I am sure that this sale will set a new point out on the line, no matter how long the buggy lasts. The terms are absolutely the advantage, hence "listen" to our sale. Yours truly, W. S. HODGSON.

"Cannot run out on the ground." That's the whole secret told in six words. "But it must be used up on the spindle." Of course, if it cannot run out on the ground it must be used upon the spindle, and that is the reason we have the dodge on the balance of them. And it don't cost any more than the ordinary exte, but it will run twice as long as any of them. "The farmer appreciates this advantage." Anybody that don't want to be bothered to death filling a buggy every few days will appreciate a thing that don't cost a cent and so simple a child can understand it. Has run 2035 miles with one oiling.

ROCK HILL BUGGY COMPANY, ROCK HILL, S. C.

For sale in Asheboro by McCRARY-LASSITER CO.

Fertilizers.

Garner's Fried, Star Brand, Roysters High Grade Acid, 4 and 5 per cent. Potash Fertilizers. Any of above brands exchanged for wheat or corn. A full line of Hardware—stores, hammers, tools, implements, &c. Naomi Falls Store Co. RANDLEMAN, N. C.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what