The New York Tribune attacks Senator Simmons in the following editorial paragraph:

"The Democratic chamberlain who is found in the care of the hotel now occupied by that politician, is a first-class specimen of an eminent citizen."

"The Tribune is a very good newspaper. In the list of subscribers for the year, we should look to find the name of Senator F. M. Simmons, who at the North Carolina Society dinner on Wednesday night explained that the whole duty of the negro was to be 'chained to the mill.'"

BILL ARP'S LETTER.

The Atlanta Constitution.

"I am Jesus Christ, the carpenter's son. My mission is to save sinners. I fought in the civil war from Dalton to Johnston. Twice I have been president of the United States since the surrender and have attended all the religious up to date, but now as a Tennessee Yankee and will let me go to New Orleans. I can't get a passport because I am Jesus Christ. Can't you do something for me? I want to go and rejoice with those who rejoice and weep with those who weep."

"That poor fellow has my sympathy. Maybe if they had let him go with the veterans it would have restored his reason. I know it brightened up our boys and now they can't talk about anything else. Was there ever such glowing, glowing patriotism? It looks like the number increases at every reunion and that without pensioners. The Grand Army of the Republic has pensions, but it is unable to keep up the pension roll, the thing that Tom Beaton called 'the bottomless gulf of charities and gratuities.'"

"I saw it stated the other day that 70 per cent of the federal army were foreigners or foreign-born, and were fighting only for booty or booty or booty, and they got it all and the pension thrown in. Oh, that was a grand gathering at New Orleans. It seems to me that if I was a northern man I would say 'Look here, boys, we can't do anything with those rebels down south, and I move we quit trying. We've been working on 'em for nearly forty years and have never converted 'em yet.' As they marched through New Orleans 100,000 strong you could hear that same old rebel yell from St. Charles to Vicksburg. Old Father Mountain told me it bursted every telegraph wire south of Mason and Dixon's line and away up in Pennsylvania the Western Union had to cut down their poles for a hundred miles."

"But I'm distressed about Mississippi. Who is Governor Longino, anyhow? His name is not in any biography that I've got. I reckon it wasn't worth putting in. I reckon he is a foreigner or he wouldn't have invited Roosevelt, the slandering hero to Jackson, to help by the corner stone of the capitol. Roosevelt said that Jeff Davis was the arch-republican and while governor voted the bill that made provision to pay the repudiated debt, and he has never retracted nor apologized for that lie. I wonder if Longino knows that Governor Mead was the author of repudiation and gave as his reason that the money was borrowed from Bacon Rothschild, in whose veins flowed the blood of Judas and Sicily, and whose mortgages would confiscate our cotton fields and make serfs of our children. That's what he said in his message, but the legislature wouldn't vote for it, and it took five years to get the bill through. All this time Mr. Davis was fighting for his country in Mexico and got desperately wounded at Buena Vista and had to use crutches for six years. He never was in the legislature but he was ever governor, and yet Roosevelt, the slandering, lies the lie and Longino invites him down to lay the corner stone. Oh, my country! When will all this cant and hypocrisy cease? Oh, Mississippi! How are the mighty fallen!"

"Now these alterations are my own—neither the editor or any paper is responsible for them. My feelings are constantly coming in my own. I honor the feelings of Mr. Davis and have profound respect for his widow, and there is no limit to my contempt for the brute who put manacles on him or the conceited historian who slandered him. It is a comfort to despise them both."

"And now, three cheers for Indiana, the champion State for lynching negroes when they commit outrages on women! Not a week passes but there is a fresh case and the people turn out and scour the country for the brute. And now they are driving all the negroes out of a county where an outrage was committed. You see they have no chain saw, and they cut up the negroes with a hatchet and a saw. Lynching has almost stopped in Georgia because punishment is more speedy and there is a chain gang in sight in almost every county, but let a sure-enough lynching will surely follow. There are more than 7,000 men in our State who have not bowed the knee to Baal—and the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis should sleep in a bed in my house unless he was sick unto death."

"But enough of all this. It sounds like I am mad with somebody, but I am not. We are all happy at my home tonight, for our far-way boy is on his way home. We have just had a telegram from him and he will be here tonight. He lives in Mexico City and it has been three long years since we have seen him. This is Carl, the youngest boy—the pet of his mother—the one she loves the best and prays the longest for every night. He will stay with us a few days and then go away again and perhaps never see us any more. My wife has been saving the spring chickens for him and the flowers are not to be cut till he comes, and the strawberries are still bearing and the cake is in the oven. Nothing is too precious for Carl and he said Jesus will sing their old songs and rehearse their happy days when we lived in the country on our farm."

"Oh, the happy, happy days on the farm, before our boys left us and our girls got married!"

"But we have happy still and love everybody, except some—"

QUESTION ANSWERED. Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they would board of Apoplexy, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the stomach and regulate the action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and had headaches and other aches. You only need a few drops of August Flower in liquid form to make you feel better. There is nothing so good as August Flower. You can get the genuine only at Standard Drug Co., Asheville, and W. A.
