

Senator Tillman is having the fight of his life in support of the South Carolina secession. The preachers, prohibitionists, whiskey men and blind tigers are all against him. The Senator's friends are banking on him to win.

Gov. Glenn states that he observed in his recent tour of the New England States that prohibitory laws are not a failure, but a success. He states that in a city in Maine and other cities visited, young men are growing to manhood in dry towns without forming the habit of drinking.

Mr. G. F. Cochran of Hickory, N. C., has accepted a position with the Lexington Dispatch where he will do news work and write special industrial articles for that paper. Mr. Cochran is author of the "Dookey" letters recently published in the News and Observer and is a young man possessing fine newspaper talent.

Asheboro should have another factory, and should have it at once, it means money to those who have lumber to sell and it means employment for good men in the town. The Asheboro Lumber Co. will undertake to furnish power for any number of factories that may be established. Millions of feet of lumber are shipped from Asheboro every year.

One saw mill man in this county manufactured and sold two million feet of lumber last year, and nearly all of it was shipped from the county. The low price of land, cheap fuel, low house rent and many other advantages favor towns in this section as manufacturing centers.

Governor Glenn recently made an address before the meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the Presbyterian Church at Raleigh and declared for prohibition, straight out, and says he wants the people of the State to vote on prohibition. The Governor says he will actually support prohibition and if requested will stump the State.

Hon. H. B. Varner, editor of the Davidson Dispatch and State Labor Commissioner, has recently returned from San Francisco, where he attended the annual convention of commissioners of labor statistics. Mr. Varner as first vice president of the association acted as president during its sessions in the absence of the president, Hon. Carroll D. Wright.

Randleman chair factory with Messrs. Ford Ingold and John H. Ferree as managers is starting off well. They are making a high grade of chairs, as good a quality and as fine a chair as is made in the State. With the good timber we have in this section it is well to make it into a better grade of goods, and later work the inferior grade of timber into cheaper goods.

A reliable and trustworthy person informed us last week that the reduction in expense of conducting the External Revenue Department in the western district of North Carolina since the indictment of Revenue officers for extortion in office will more than pay all the expenses of the Government in its effort to ferret out the crookedness.

We are glad to note that Mr. R. F. Beasley editor of the Monroe Journal has declined the editorship of Virginia Pilot of Norfolk, it is said that the editorship has been offered to Mr. J. C. Cordell. We sincerely hope both of these gentlemen will remain in the newspaper business in this state.

Every now and then we see notices showing clearly that our home merchants sell goods cheaper than they are sold in towns outside of county. Recently a lady showed us a sample of goods which she had received from a large firm in another county in the state. Without letting the home merchants know of it she started out to ascertain the price of the goods in Asheboro, the first store she entered she found the same goods priced one dollar per yard, the merchant living in another town had quoted her the price, one dollar and a half per yard. Our people should do their shopping at home, home merchants can sell you goods cheaper than the large city merchants, because they are so much less in every way.

Lassiter, who now resides at Greensboro, but operates a lumber business near Carthage, was in Carthage Thursday. He thinks Greensboro is to be a second Atlanta. Carthage Blade.

The Eagle Burned.

On Tuesday Night of this week the Eagle Furniture factory at High Point was burned. Loss $25,000, covered by insurance. The origin of the fire was in a dry kiln.

The loss to the plant includes machinery, room, engine, room, dry kiln, a large amount of lumber and other property, and a conservative estimate places it at $25,000, with insurance.

The finishing room with a large part of manufactured product, together with the office, was saved.

The sample room was badly damaged by fire and water.

The company is capitalized at $150,000, and Mr. J. H. Miller, of this place, is the largest stockholder.

The officers are E. A. Snow, president; F. M. Pickett, vice-president, and Charles Ragan, secretary and treasurer.

County Correspondence.

Yesterday Lem Straley, of Julian, was convicted of illicit distilling. He will be sentenced to-day. Prof. W. W. Davidson, of Guilfordville, left Monday for Shelby, where he will have charge of the public schools the coming year. Ernest Caney, of High Point, who was recently released from the county convict force because of ill health is in jail again, this time for stealing a jug of whiskey from a man who had come here to attend Federal court. The Dixie Chair Company, of Trinity, will establish a branch at Julian which will turn out chair stock in the rough. Mr. W. H. Ragan, of High Point, principal owner and manager of the company, says one or two additional branches will be established in the near future. Mr. E. T. Stutler, of the Muir's chapel neighborhood, died suddenly last Sunday morning. He ate his breakfast as usual and died at 9 o'clock. The funeral took place Monday afternoon at Muir's chapel. Mr. Stutler was over three score and ten. He was a Confederate veteran, an honest, upright citizen and a good neighbor. For many years he was a familiar figure in the Greensboro Federal court, where he served as an officer. The residence of Mr. E. D. Aydelette, eleven miles northeast of the city, was entered by burglars last Sunday while the family were at church. The house was ransacked from top to bottom. Sixty-five dollars in cash, two pairs of shoes and several small articles were taken. Mr. D. C. Aldridge, of High Point, was here Monday and purchased a nice vacant lot on Asheboro St. near the end of the car line. He says the High Point people are investing freely in "suburban" property, of late, and as he considers the city a little more promising than Mechanicsville, he put his money here. Mr. J. T. Pruden, who lives on West Gaston street, had a buggy demolished and a horse injured by the collapse of a small bridge on the Guilford College road Saturday evening as he was returning from his farm. The old McAdoo place, west of town. The condition of the small bridges along this road has caused numerous complaints of late and they should be attended to by the proper authorities before they furnish a basis for a heavy damage suit. Mr. John Bradshaw has gone to Staunton, Va., to enter the military academy at that place. Dr. J. T. Rieves has traded his residence and store property on Asheboro street to Mr. S. S. Brown for the old Joshua Lindley nursery place of 115 acres west of town. He will continue to live on Asheboro street, however. Greensboro Patriot.
