

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle is The Hand That Spoils the World.

You have often heard it said that the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that spoils the world. The new science boldly declares that the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that spoils the world. Babies shouldn't be rocked.

Yes, it ruthlessly sweeps aside things about which cluster our most sacred memories, does this new science; but it has rewards to offer that more than compensate for the things it takes away. It saves the lives of thousands of innocents. It emancipates the mother from a thralldom that frequently wrecks her nervous system and brings her to a premature old age. It transforms the peevish, whining baby into a little creature all smiles and sunshine. Out of the baby it forms a child all sweetness and charm. In the child it inculcates habits of self-reliance that will stand him in good stead when he grows up to encounter the battle of life.

Will you not get in line with the modern ideas, all you mothers? Give the baby a chance—a chance to grow up healthy and strong, a chance to develop his own individuality, which is his most precious gift from God and with which you have not a shadow of right to interfere.—Frank Barkley Copley in "Give the Baby a Chance," in The Outing Magazine for June.

Governor Bob Taylor's Valedictory.

Hon. Robert L. Taylor, of Tennessee, who has just defeated Senator Carmack in the primary election for the senate, was twice elected governor of this state. At the expiration of his second term he declared he was done with politics; that he would never again be a candidate for political office; but it seems that desire for the sweets of office holding has overcome his antipathy to being a candidate. When he retired from the office of governor at the end of his second term he announced his determination to eschew politics for the balance of his life in the following characteristic valedictory:

Ladies and Gentlemen: I am about to shuffle off this mortal coil and fly away to the heaven of my native mountains, where I can think and dream in peace, safe from the sickening stings of unjust criticism, the sicken from the slimy talons of some (1) political vulture, safe from the slimy kiss and keen dagger of ingratitude.

I do not regret the somnambulist of a shattered dream, but with all the buds of hope bursting into bloom and all the powers of the future ringing with melody, I am contented with my lot in life. Three times I have worn the laurel wreath of honor, twined by the people of my native state, and that is glory enough for me.

To me there is nothing in this world so pathetic as a candidate. He is like a mariner without a compass, drifting on the tempest-tossed waves of uncertainty between the smiling cliffs of hope and the frowning crags of despair. He is a walking petition and a living prayer; he is the packhorse of public sentiment, the dromedary of politics. And even if he reaches the goal of his ambition, he will soon feel the break of the vulture in his heart, the fang of the serpent in his soul.

I am no longer a candidate. Never again will I be inaugurated into public office. The ark of my public career now rests on the Arrar of private life, and I stand on its peaceful summit and look down in the nodding flood of politics. The dove of my destiny has brought me an olive branch from happier fields, and I go hence to labor and to love.

"THE KIMBALL PIANO"

WHY AND HOW IT IS DONE
As above stated it is through the great liberality and progressiveness of the W. W. Kimball Co. that this contest is given and these valuable prizes distributed, and we are proud of the distinction of being selected by the company to represent them in this contest.
The Kimball Company manufactures and sell 35,000 instruments every year. Their product goes to every civilized country in the world. Kimball Pianos and Organs enjoy the greatest popularity of any instrument made.
This contest is given as a means of advertising the Kimball instruments, to fix the name "Kimball" indelibly upon the minds of all who may now or at some future time need an instrument. The company expects, of course, a greatly increased demand for their instruments in return for the valuable prizes given.
THE CERTIFICATES OF CREDIT
The Certificates of Credit given as prizes in this contest will be accepted at our store in Greensboro, or at our branch stores at High Point and Gastonia, at face value toward the purchase of any new Piano made by the W. W. Kimball Company.
Should an organ be desired we will accept 25 per cent. of Certificate towards the purchase of a new Kimball Organ.
After applying your certificate towards the purchase of an instrument the balance may be paid on easy payments.
THE ONE-PRICE SYSTEM
The W. W. Kimball Company was among the first of the factories to establish the one-price-to-all system. Kimball Pianos are sold everywhere on that basis. The instruments are marked in plain figures at the factory prices, and winners are thus assured of a bonafide reduction to the full amount of their certificates.
The number of Certificates is limited and are worth striving for. The largest is $125, the smallest $50.
