Mn. EDITOR:-While it is necessary to have good men and good Democrats for public office, yet it is important that we have men who have experience in public affairs and goo business judgment.

A candidate for an important office should not only have experience but possess wisdom and tact, sound discretion, court e s y, judgment. politeness and should give a square deal to every one. He should be a servant of the people, and should attend to the duties of the office carefully accurately and for the public good. He should be honest by nature and brave enough to do

The first and greatest requisite is fitness for office.

The present Clerk of the Superior Court, Mr. Wm. C. USE OF WIDE TIRES.

The effect of wide tires on traction on different classes of roads is well shown, says the New York Engineering Record, in some experiments made by the civil engineering department of the Iowa State college. The tires were one and five-eighth and three and one-eighth inches wide. On a well drained earth road of good grade the traction with wide tires was a little higher with slushy snow, and while the frost was coming out and at other times it ranged twenty pounds less to the same figure as with nar-row tires. On a badly drained earth road with poor grades, subjected to heavy travel, the wide tires required less traction than the others in dry weather and more when there was

On a well built, well drained grave road the narrow tires required less traction except when the surface was wet or covered with loose gravel. On a road of fine sand with its surface flat with the ground the wide tires a quired less pull in every case. On a make up for what they have lost in make up for what have only when the surface was smooth and dry and about the same facts were observed with experiments on a well drained cimier road under heavy

Two Terms Long Enough and Three Terms the Limit.

I have talked to quite a goodly number of our most prominent democratic voters in reference to our good officers holding office too long, and they all seem to be of one about long enough for any man to hold office, and all agree that three terms should be the limit, of any one man holding office in our coun-

I therefore suggest for the consideration of the people that the next Democratic convention adopt a resolution that three terms shall be the limit of any one man holding an office. I would be glad to hear from office. I would be glad to hear from the good work go on. This is a good order.

Offices belong to the people, and it belongs to the people to make the rules ty which the different offices shall be filled.
