Tribute of Respect.

Died August 26th, 1906, Miss Cornelia Wilson, after illness with consumption, aged 20 years and four months.

She professed religion two years before her death, but never connected herself with any church on account of ill health. She was a Baptist in principle and died in full triumph of faith. Her dying testimony was remarkable. A short time before her death she called each of her sisters and brothers to her side and asked them to prepare to meet her in heaven. A few hours before she died she sang very clearly the song that had been on her mind for many weeks.

"The time is swiftly rolling on When I must faint and die."

She leaves an aged and afflicted mother, five sisters and four brothers, and a host of friends to mourn their loss, but they mourn not as those who have no hope.

The body was interred beside her sister, Emma, and father, A. K. Wilson who recently preceded her, in the Ramseur cemetery. Rev. C. A. Wood conducted the service.

Card of Thanks.

Ms. Estor, will you please allow me space in the columns of The Courier to try to return my sincere and heartfelt thanks to the good people in Ramseur for their many kind acts and deeds shown me and my afflicted family, and especially in the long and serious illness and death of my daughter, Cornelia, who has just passed over the river. May the Lord bless them all and may those kind deeds be as bread cast upon the waters, gathering up many days hence.

Mrs. Adaline Wilson.

Jake Roach, the granite quarry superintendent recently shot by a negro, was badly out by another negro, George Foster, Monday. Mr. Roach is in the Sanatorium and the negro is in jail.
