BANK INSPECTION. 8.00 Lastry of Federal and State Inspec-tion Responsible For Failures. The failure of the Real Estate Trust 104.51 43.1 Company of Philadelphia appears to be the most disastrous of the many bank and trust companies that have lately failed. Outside of the banking bush ness the total trusteeship involves $86, 551,082. It is said the securities are safe, but nothing is known of the trust 17.03 funds. It is conceded that $7,000,000 of the depositors' money has been swallowed up in speculation. It was to be expected that the rotten Penguse-161.91 Pennypacker Republican machine, which controls the exsention of the banking laws, should have reported the 15.50 institution in sound condition a few months ago, but the disaster shows that any inspection that was made was either a farce or there was collusion between the officials and the corpora-tions. The national bank inspection of national banks shows a similar laxi-ty, us the failure of the Waish banks 110.55 at Chicago lately indicated. There must be a more thorough in-spection of all banks and trust com-4:50 panies to protect the people who are depositors from the locters who ap-pear to have possession of many fidu-log clary institutions, and President Roose 43.50 velt should see that the young man he appointed comptroller of the cur-rency attends to his business instead 146 of spending most of his time in the factional Illinois Republican squabthe people far better than trying to force fulls like placetic spelling on 10.666 a) them Governors of states must be forced 1 so by public opinion to see that the state banking institutions be thorough ly examined and the securities held in vestigated. Depositions in public is protected. Depositions in the banks know nothing of what is done with their money, and no foresight of theirs can make their money safe. Deposition and their money safe. Banks and trust companies are incor-porated either by the federal or state 43.92 provertunent, and the law provides or 21.28 should provide for strict inspection to protect the people from disbonesty and $2903.39 incompetency. ROOSEVELT REFORMS. Republican Reformers Are Impotent Without Democratic Help. Railroad rate legislation and other reforms could not have been enacted without the votes of Democratic con-gressmen unless Republicans had been united for them in both branches of $28.50 unified for them in both branches of congress. It is certain that at least there would have been no Republican majority for the rate bill in the senate if the Democrats had opposed it. When the railroads and their congressional friends saw that there were enough Republicans who would vote with the Democrats to pass the bill they at once decided to make the best of a bad bar-roin and accord couldings they could
