

MCIVER MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

Will be Held in Greensboro in State Normal College November 20th--Details of Program Will be Announced Later.

We are in receipt of the following invitation:

The Board of Trustees, Faculty and the Students of the North Carolina State Normal and Industrial College Greensboro, North Carolina.

Invite you to be present at the exercises in memory of its founder and president, Dr. Charles Duncan McIver, to be held at the College, Nov. 20, 1906 at 11 A. M.

All of the details of the program incident to this memorial meeting have not yet been arranged, and public will wait with decided interest in the manner the State will employ so to honor one of North Carolina's greatest educational sons and benefactors.

UNDER CIVIL SERVICE.

President Classified Deputy Collectors of Internal Revenue Regulation of Commission.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The President has made an order again classifying deputy collectors of internal revenue under the regulation of the civil service commission. There are about 1100 of these deputies. They were classified by President Cleveland, but were taken out by President McKinley in 1899. The action of President Roosevelt brings all employees of the internal revenue service under civil service and practically classifies all employees of the Treasury Department.

Judge Boyd on Judges.

At the Ebbitt is Judge James E. Boyd, of Greensboro, N. C., formerly assistant attorney general and now United States district judge for the western district of North Carolina. "I do not wish to be interviewed," said he last evening, "for I believe that a judge of a court should not always be appearing in print. I haven't anything to say about politics, for a judge should keep out of politics, because if he does not he cannot very well help being influenced to some slight extent. Judges are human, just as other people are, and so they should keep themselves entirely above controversy. The bench in the United States stands higher than any other in the world, and is cleaner than any other. The English judges may make an exception, but there are not so many of them, because England has not our dual Federal and State judicial systems. Everywhere, I think the Supreme Court of the United States is considered the highest tribunal of law on earth. And our bar stands high also, though I sometimes think we have not the profound lawyers we had a couple of generations ago; the profession has become more specialized. This is certainly so in the North, but in the South some very fine all-around lawyers are still to be found. There the old-fashioned lawyer still abides, and is a credit to the community. But, as I said, I have nothing to say that would be of any interest. I am here just to get my spectacles adjusted."

Cotton Estimate.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The amount of cotton of the crop of 1906, ginned up to November 1st, according to a bulletin issued by the census bureau today, was 6,892,597 bales, counting round bales as half bales, as against 6,457,595 last year. The number of active ginneries is given as 27,481, against 27,802 last year.

22 Of this North Carolina ginned 311,515 bales. The number of ginneries operating is 2,650.

The many friends of Capt. C. F. Siler will be glad to learn that he has decided to return to this country. He has been teaching at Angier during the fall, but, finding that the water, climate and people of old Montgomery were dearer to him than any other, he has resigned his position and accepted the school at Iola mine.—The Montgomerian.

The cooner's jury at Atlantic City has agreed to place the blame for the wreck at that place on Sunday, October 28th, upon the aged bridge tender, Daniel Stewart. He will be arrested for criminal negligence and causing the death of 53 persons.

Beginning Wednesday of this week the western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church South convened at Mt. Airy.

CURRENCY INFLATION

Scheme to Increase National Bank Notes 50 Per Cent.

HIGHER PRICES SURE TO RESULT

Per Capita Circulation Has More Than Doubled Since 1878 and Increased 50 Per Cent Since 1900--Beware of Republican Congressmen With National Bank Connections.

The American bankers' committee have formulated a plan for credit, or clearance, currency to be issued by national banks, in addition to the bank currency now issued with United States bonds as security. The amount proposed to be issued is not to exceed 50 per cent of the bond secured circulation outstanding, which amounted to $400,000,000 in 1905, but which has been largely increased since that date. The security for this proposed issue of credit currency is rather indefinite, the report of the committee stating:

"Before any bank can issue credit, or clearance, currency it must deposit with the treasury department or depositaries to be designated by the commission approved securities of the bank passed upon by the comptroller of currency's department to an amount 10 per cent in excess of circulation to be issued."

The approved securities of the banks probably mean the notes, secured and unsecured, that have been discounted by the banks, but that would seem to be a very poor security for currency and quite troublesome to handle on account of its constantly being paid or removed. As the comptroller of the currency's office has not shown any excessive ability in spotting out defalcations and other banking irregularities in advance of the failure of banks, it can hardly be trusted under the present management to exercise further discretionary powers for the protection of the public.

The people will indorse no law providing for bank currency that is not redeemable by the government, with no possibility of loss for the people or to pay for loss by taxation.

But there is another question that vastly affects all the people in this scheme for currency inflation, and that is its effect upon the price of commodities. The present inflation through the increased output of gold and the increase of the national bank currency from 90 to 100 per cent of the face value of the bonds deposited and the great number of new national banks authorized under the law which reduced the necessary capital to $25,000 has inflated the circulating medium from $15.32 per capita in 1878 to over $32 now, or over 100 per cent and over 50 per cent since 1900. To this inflation may be charged part of the great increase in prices, which is also largely due to the monopolies created by tariff protection of the trusts and combines. The inflation of the currency and the prices of commodities would seem to have gone far enough for the comfort and advantage of the people and to pass laws expressly for the benefit of the banking class and the Wall street speculators is special legislation and undemocratic.

As the Republican party is notoriously favorable to the banking and corporation interests, it is advisable for voters to pledge candidates for congress and state legislatures who will elect United States senators, that they will oppose further inflation of the currency for the benefit of the banks. The only demand for this asset currency is from the banks and from the Wall street speculators, who are constantly crying for more money to carry the burden of the inflated valuation of stocks, which are largely based on no real values.

Beware of Republican candidates for congress, but especially those who have national bank and trust connections. They are the Greeks bearing gifts and expect return compensation.

IT IS TO LAUGH!

Son-in-law Longworth Has a Warm Fight in Prospect.

When Son-in-law Longworth was renominated for congress, with the assistance of Boss Cox, in accepting the nomination, as reported in the Washington Post, he said:

"I shall follow first, last and all the time the leadership of President Roosevelt, not because he is my (at this point he was interrupted by shouts and laughter) friend and counselor (more laughter), but because of his great qualities of leadership."

But hanging on to father-in-law's coat tails may not save you, Nick, for Boss Cox has lost his power to count the fraudulent votes, and the old Democratic machine that was an adjunct of the Cox machine has been thrown out of gear and has been superseded by a new organization of the honest Democratic voters of Cincinnati and Hamilton county, and then there is the labor vote, which is after the Longworth and Roosevelt families for deeds of commission and omission.

Lodge of Massachusetts.

Senator Lodge denounces the Democrats of Massachusetts as "fomenters of class hatred, outlaws and nomads of politics." No doubt he is disturbed. His record on trusts, corporations, ship subsidy, the robber tariff, imperialism and labor legislation has made him odious to the people, and he is only taking advantage of his last chance to exorcise them. By the way, his private secretary was recently convicted of robbing the Republican campaign fund. The senator is to be commiserated.

Our Big Clubbing Offer.

By special arrangement with the Southern Agriculturist, the popular semi-monthly farm paper of Nashville, Tenn., we are able to give our readers the advantage of a clubbing offer which we believe is the most liberal ever made by any newspaper in the South.

In the first place, we will send the Southern Agriculturist a whole year free to any new or old subscriber who pays us for a year's subscription to our own paper.

This great semi-monthly farm paper goes twice every month into 50,000 southern homes, and the regular price is 50 cents per year. It is edited by southern men and women to suit southern conditions, and is just what our farmers need. It answers free of charge any question a subscriber may ask, and its advice is given in a plain practical way which any farmer can understand. All departments of farm life are covered, including delightful home and children's pages. Sample copies free at our office.

Surveys of Underground Waters During 1905.

In the annual volume entitled "Underground-water Papers, 1906," Mr. Myron L. Fuller, who had charge of its publication, reports that during 1905 detailed surveys of underground-water problems were conducted in Connecticut by Messrs. H. E. Gregory and E. E. Ellis; in Iowa, by Messrs. W. H. Norton and Howard E. Simpson; in Wisconsin, by Messrs. M. L. Fuller, A. F. Crider, and L. W. Stephenson; and in North Carolina by Messrs. L. W. Stephenson and B. L. Johnson. In Connecticut and Arkansas the work was completed and reports are in preparation. In Iowa and North Carolina the surveys were incomplete. Further work was done there during the past summer. —Bulletin of the U. S. Geological Survey.

Bill Nye's Cow.

Bill Nye is credited with having advertised his cow for sale as follows:

Owing to ill health, I will sell at my residence, in township 19, range 18, according to the government survey, one plush, raspberry cow, 8 years old. She is a good milk and not afraid of the cars, or anything else. She has undaunted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. (She is very much attached in her home, at present, by means of a log chain, but she will be sold to any one who will use her right. She is one-fourth short horn and three-fourths hysena. I will also throw in a double-barrel shotgun which goes with her. In May she generally goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall red calf with wobbly legs. Her name is Rose."

CARBUNCLE CURED.

Three years ago my system was in such a condition that I had a succession of boils—in all sixteen. They were mostly between my shoulders and on the neck, though I had one bad one near my right eye. As fast as one would get well another would come, and they troubled me and caused me to suffer all the summer. Finally they developed into a large carbuncle on my right shoulder—as large around as the top of a teacup. My whole arm was affected and caused me great suffering. I had to carry my arm on a pillow. It was September when the Carbuncle came and for six weeks it had to be dressed three times a day. Knowing the trouble came from blood I bought a box of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and took a half dozen bottles before I stopped and it cured me. By the time I took the six bottles, my Carbuncle was well and I have never had a touch of the trouble since. Mrs. E. Z. Taylor. (Now of High Point N. C.) Hookerton, N. C., August 16, 1904.
