WE HAVE LIVED AND LOVED TOGETHER. We have lived and loved together, Through many changing years;

VALETINE.

A fool answered according to his folly—Near the Allegheny mountains, an infidel judge was sitting with a circle of his friends, and ridiculing the account of the creation of our race as inspiration gives it,

Origindity of Valentine's day.

Valentine was a pope or bishop of Rome, who lived in the ninth century; who on this day established an annual custom of the poorer clergy, drawing patrons by lots for the commenced year;

A powerful preacher—A Kentuckian, who had listened to an eloquent and popular preacher, gave the following account of him.

"I'll tell you what it is," ejaculated he, "that's what I call a real tear down sneezer—he's a barkwell and holdfast too; he does't honey it to'em and muce his words—he lets it down to'em hot and heavy; he knocks down and drags out; he first gives it to'em in one eye, then in to'thery then in the gizzard, and at last he gets your head under his arm, and then I reckon he feathers it in between the log and the horn; he gives a fellow no more of a chance than a 'coon has in a black jack."

NEW GARDEN BOARDING SCHOOL.

To the Members of the Yearly Meeting of Friends of North Carolina.

The Yearly Meeting has at sometimes presented the subject of its contemplated Boarding School to the subordinate Meetings. It now becomes the duty of the Committee that have it particularly in charge, to inform our Members something of what progress has been made; the pecuniary state of the Institution, and the prospect there is of opening the School.

The Institution has been incorporated by the General Assembly of the State, and is called in the Charter "New Garden Boarding School, in the County of Guilford." Twelve Friends are appointed as Trustees, with powers similar to those usually conferred in such cases, viz: to purchase what may be necessary; or to receive gifts or legacies that may be offered for the benefit of the School.

A brick house has been erected 40 feet wide and 120 long—two stories high, for the purpose of school-rooms, offices, and lodging rooms for the Superintendents, Teachers, and Scholars. Since the erection of this house, it has been found necessary to build another near by for a Kitchen, Dining room, &c. This has also been built of brick, one story high, with a basement. It has been aimed to have all the work about them done in a substantial and durable manner, particularly the brick-work. It is thought that these buildings may be sufficient, when finished, to accommodate between 100 and 200 scholars. They are located about a quarter of a mile from New Garden Meeting House, in a quiet and retired situation, nearly surrounded by a natural grove.

About the time that the Yearly Meeting turned its attention to the subject of establishing a Boarding School for the guarded, literary and religious instruction of the youth of the Society, Friends in England offered a respectable donation to aid the undertaking, which has since been received. Also Friends of the Yearly Meetings of New England, New York and Philadelphia have sent pecuniary aid, and some valuable articles of furniture for the house. These Yearly Meetings have all, it is believed, established Boarding Schools for the instruction of their own children, on plans, larger and far more expensive, than what is aimed at here, although some of them may not have as many children to be instructed. They have all tried the system, and some of them a long time; they have seen the advantages resulting from it, and are, therefore, better able to judge of the propriety of a similar effort here; and of the advantages likely to result therefrom. Recommendations from such sources, have had the more weight, being accompanied as they have been, with substantial help in the undertaking. Influenced from considerations of these things, and from a belief that the substantial interests of the Society required it, the foundation for an Institution has been laid much larger, and consequently, more expensive than the committee otherwise would have felt justified in. If the committee had been governed in building, by the funds at their control, they believe that the interest of the Society, and the welfare of the rising generation would have been neglected; and that in a few years, if not at the commencement, there would not have been accommodations for all that would have sought admission into the School. It has been after much reflection, and a sense of the great responsibility resting on them, that a debt has been incurred in building of more than $3,000, after expending all that was necessary. And there will necessarily have to be an additional expense of a considerable amount before the School goes into operation. Loans have been resorted to, which it is hoped the liberality of Friends will enable the committee to pay.

The Members of this Yearly Meeting have long labored under great disadvantages, on account of giving their children a literary education; and those parents who have been concerned also to guard the moral and religious culture of their offspring, at the same time they desired them to be receiving literary instruction, have been generally disappointed; there being few, if any schools within their reach, but what were feeble, in the view of concerned Friends, to many objections. Some have made it a plea for leaving their native land, and moving to the West, that they might find greater facilities and fewer temptations in educating their children; and some, on account of the dangers there are in placing them for an education out of the pale of the Society, have neglected the necessary literary studies to qualify them for their duties, either in civil or religious society. Our Friends have felt the duty as great to educate their children, that they have, in some cases, shared them entirely among persons holding views on many religious subjects different from those entertained by our Society. In many such cases, the individuals that educated, have left the Society that had provided no insolation for their guarded literary instruction. Thus it has been, which course server has been pursued, the Society, its principles and its testimonies, within the limits of this Yearly Meeting, have suffered incalculable loss. Nearly or quite all the other Yearly Meetings in their Epistles to ours, have recommended the subject of a Yearly Meeting Boarding School. And now the establishment of one has been commended on a scale, it is believed, that will be creditable to the Society, and that may, perhaps be sufficiently large for the accommodation of the Youth that may apply for a number of years to come, of a numerous people. It is hoped that Friends will evince a liberality commensurate with the importance of the concern, so that the school may go into successful operation, unimpaired with debt, is not rather humiliating to consider that as yet, members of other Yearly Meetings have contributed more than our own members? although it is designed more particularly for the benefit of those in this part of the country. This perhaps has, in part, been owing to the difference of sentiment that for a time existed relative to the location, &c. But as the Yearly Meeting has settled that itself, and the houses are pretty much built, it is hoped that all the early difficulties on that account will give place, and that Friends will unitedly lend a hand of help, as most assuredly it is a laudable undertaking, and one very much needing a prompt ass. It should be borne in mind, that the efforts making are not for the present generation only, but for succeeding ages. And who can calculate the good that may be done by it, when it is recollected that it is to be a Yearly Meeting School; and that all the education and training of the youth are expected to be in accordance with the views of the Society establishing it.

Notwithstanding the embarrassments that have been, and we still in the way, the committee are desirous of opening the school as early a time as they conveniently can. Our Friends Dugan and Asenath Clark are employed as Superintendents and they are expected to take possession of the premises in a few weeks, in order to be making ready the accommodations that may be needed. It cannot be told at present the exact time that it will be prepared for the reception of scholars; but arrangements are making, and it is designed to be in readiness by the first of the Eighth Month, and it might be of material advantage for the committee to be informed previously to the opening of the School, the number of scholars that may desire to be admitted at the commencement, that the necessary teachers, and other conveniences may be provided. It is therefore desired that parents or others that may wish to enter should apply to D. Clark, at New Garden by the 15th of 4th Month next.

It will be well to state the age and sex of the scholars designed to be sent. Standing to be admitted under nine years of age, not for a shorter time than three months, longer terms are to be much preferred, and it is therefore desired that few if any may apply for a shorter time than six months, unless they may have sufficient reason for so doing. The price fixed by the Yearly Meeting in 1836 for board and tuition is $60 a year, one fourth to be paid in advance, and the rest in quarterly payments. The apparel of the scholars is to be plain, such as is usually worn by the society of Friends, and such garment ought to be carefully marked, with the name of the owner or appropriate initial letters. It is desirable that their outside clothing be of a brown color. If any scholars come with clothing, which, in the opinion of the Superintendents is inadmissible, he will prevent it from being worn in school, and furnish other if necessary. That scholars may labor under no disadvantages on account of class-books and stationery, it is designed to have a supply on hand to furnish there, on as favorable terms as they can be procured elsewhere.

The morals of the scholars will be particularly attended to, and the boys and girls prevented from associating together, except near relations at suitable times. Unnecessary visiting will be guarded against, and none permitted to leave the prescribed limits of the school, without leave. It will be expected for the teachers and scholars to attend the religious meetings in course at New Garden.

The course of literary instruction aimed at will be such as to qualify the scholars for usefulness, and that they may be creditable to themselves and to the Institution. As a knowledge of the principles and uses of created things has a tendency to expand the view, enlarge the mind, and raise the affections to the Great Creator; besides an acquaintance with the nature and uses of earth, rocks, minerals &c. may, it is believed be of material advantage both to the mechanic and the agriculturist. It is also said to be an agreeable study, and by the teachers having specimens to exhibit, instruction may be easily imparted to the scholar. It is desirable therefore to have a collection of geological specimens for the use of the school as soon as they can be obtained, and any present for a collection of this kind, or of any natural or artificial curiosities from our Friends will be gratefully received, and the donations recorded.

Letters containing information, or making enquiries, may be addressed to the Superintendent or either of the committee.—There is a Post Office at New Garden called "New Garden Post Office," and the propriety of individuals paying the postage on their letters, it is presumed will be seen by all.

PROSPECTUS

For publishing a large paper in Greenalborough, N. C. to be called The Southern Telescope.

The Publishers being desirous of seeing a paper established within the limits of N. Carolina, which will vie in respectability and in size with any other in the country, propose as soon as proper arrangements can be made, and their patronage is somewhat increased, to enlarge their paper to the size of the large city papers now issued,—printed on a superior sheet.

A principal feature in the paper as enlarged will be to give it more of a religious character, and make it what every publication of the kind intended for the benefit of mankind ought to be, commensurate with all their intellectual and moral wants; and promotive of their highest and best interest.

The proposed improvement seems to be called for by the wants as well as by the voice of the public, and in fact is manifestly necessary, if we wish to go pari passu with other parts of our country in the march of improvement. We do not by any means wish to arrogate to ourselves any superiority in the scale of intellectual attainments or purity of motives, but merely to make an humble attempt to meet the wants and wisdom, and promote the welfare of our common country, by extending so far as we can, the means of mental and moral improvement.

In proposing to devote a portion of this paper to matter of a religious cast—it must not be inferred that it is intended to be a sectarian sheet, or that in our selections in this line, we shall be prejudiced in our preference to such articles which are favorable to one particular sect or denomination.—We shall endeavor to be guided solely by our views of the real worth of articles and of the well-being and moral improvement of our readers.

A certain portion will also be devoted to light reading, such as tales, and articles of a miscellaneous cast, selected with an scrupulous regard to their beneficial and instructive tendency on the mind.

The paper will be apportioned and divided off under separate and distinct heads, so as to enable the publishers in its ample dimensions to present its readers with such a quantity of matter weekly, as cannot fail to give general and entire satisfaction.

Believing that a paper furnishing such a large quantity of matter, as this must necessarily contain on all subjects embraced within its sphere, would certainly meet with the wishes of a great majority of the people of this, and neighboring States, the publishers are buoyed up with such reflections in the hope of the ultimate success of the undertaking, and induced to offer this prospectus to the public, relying upon their generous support for the prosecution of the work.

The publication of the Telescope, as enlarged, will appear as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers can be obtained to warrant the consequent increased expense; and arrangements will be made to have forwarded to us in time for its commencement, all necessary additional materials, whenever appearances indicate a sufficient addition of names.

CONDITIONS.

The paper, as enlarged, printed on a large Extra Imperial Sheet, of purest white, with entire new materials, will be furnished to single subscribers at the low rate of $2.50—or 12 numbers of 50 individuals at $12.00 per annum—the money invariably to be paid in advance, and such who may subscribe before its appearance, to transmit us postage free, or pay into the hands of some one of our authorized agents the amount due, immediately on the reception of the first number. Subscription to the paper for six months is $1.50, for a shorter period than which, none will be taken.

Editors with whom we exchange, are respectfully requested to give the above a few insertions, and the favor shall be reciprocated.

N. B.—All names procured by our agents, or others, throughout the country, are requested to be forwarded by the first of March, when will be made known the success of the project.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.

RAN AWAY from me, on the 2d inst. a young boy, named DAVID LEONARD, about 15 years old, small of his age, yellow hair, light complexion. It is supposed he is lurking somewhere in Guilford county, probably on the waters of Pole-Cat, or Hickory creek. I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him to me in Randolph county, 4 miles North of New Salem, half that sum (five dollars) to any one who will give me information where he is, or confine him in any jail or place of safety in this State, so that I get him again. All persons are hereby forbidden to harbor, give countenance to, protect, or in anywise deal with said boy, under the liabilities and penalties of the law—as he left my service without any just cause; and as I believe, by the seduction of others, who will be likely to ruin his character and prospects in life unless I can succeed in reclaiming him speedily.
