Will be issued in the morning hereafter. There will, in consequence, be no issue Monday evening. It will appear promptly Tuesday morning.

A fine line of Hats, Caps and Furnishing goods will soon be opened opposite Eagle Hotel. Go See Whitlock's New Goods. Gov. Seales has been confined to his bed for some days by sickness. He hopes to be out in a day or two.

The new building on the Fair Grounds adds largely to the appearance of the grounds and will prove of great convenience in the display of produce. Mr. Venable says he is now delivering the finest soft coal he ever saw. And he is delivering it by the large quantity, too.

Hon. Thomas M. Holt, for years the able and successful President of the State Agricultural Society, having declined a re-election, Mr. W. G. Upchurch of Raleigh was elected unanimously. A splendid successor to a splendid officer.

Col. Frank Cox, with Supt. McBea, reached the city this morning. This may, and we sincerely hope will result in a most important business transaction for Asheville.

Entries for the Fair are being made already. The secretary's office will be open on Monday for the reception of all entries. It is necessary that entries be made Tuesday, when possible, as the books will be positively closed Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

Instead of Mr. "T. W. Joelyn" who has opened the Cash Clothing and Tailoring Store on South Main street, we should have stated it was Mr. F. W. Joelyn. It is a Joelyn all the same, and his stock of goods is very large and excellent. It will be formally and fully opened to the public Monday next. See his large advertisement and call on him.

The October weather is here, and the soft veil of the Indian summer is spread over the landscape. Through the dim mist of the indescribable vapor, the sunlight lends its aid to the glories of changing foliage, glorifying, but not dazzling with an assemblage of coloring that would have yielded the very ideal of "Tidals" delighting, but not astonishing, for the post-painter is always prepared for the extreme of the inconspicuousness of nature, splendid, but never extravagant. Nature is always harmonious and gorgeous as she may be, she is always toned down to perfect appropriateness.

We called in a few days ago at Moore and Falk's and dropped most naturally into one of their easy chairs. Whether they are willow or bamboo was a matter of little moment to us. We were satisfied of their luxuriousness and they fill all the requirements of the most indolent man or woman. We tried one, and we tried another, and we never reached a conclusion. They were all perfect; and if any one wishes to dream away a life of ease, go the house we name. If we had time, we would transfer the editorial department of the Citizen to Moore and Falk; and then such editorials as would emanate therefrom.

THE MISSING MANDAMUS. A CARD FROM DEPUTY CLERK ISRAEL.

To the Editor of the Citizen: I read a notice in your issue of the 16th inst. that I don't do a duty to myself in not publishing the following statement, in regard to what appeared in your columns yesterday, in regard to the lost "Writ of Mandamus." On Tuesday night on going home from the office I called at the post-office for the mail and in the box I found when reaching home one bundle of papers which on opening found to be marked "James McNeil vs. the Board of Commissioners of Transylvania County." In the bundle there contained two papers, one of which was a writ of mandamus and the other a writ of mandamus and on returning to the office I brought said papers to the office and laid them on the table. After Mr. James H. Morrison called at the office and the papers were lying on the table, I told him that I had received them, for the writ of mandamus, and handed him the writ and the writ of mandamus and he took out the writ of mandamus and read it and then replaced it and left the office. Some time after the writ was called in and I told him that I had the writ and would give it to him as soon as I saw the attorneys who desired to see them. I went early in the morning to your office (Citizens) and while there you asked what "news" or something to that effect, I then told you that the Judge had granted the writ of mandamus. On my return your Mr. Furman came back with me to the office and handed him the order for the writ and he remarked that was what he wanted and then he asked if he could take it to the office. I told him he could not, but that he could copy it, which he did. After he had commenced attending to the duties of the office and the papers still lying on the table before me, I had some business in the Register's office; I was in there but a very short time and I may or may not have gone into some other office, but do not recollect. Sometime in the morning Dr. Whitson came into the office and we had a conversation in regard to the papers, I told him what order the Judge had made, and we read one or two of the affidavits filed in the case, and sometime after, I think before I went to dinner I told him the writ of mandamus was gone, and I have since that time made diligent search for the same, and up to this time I have been unable to find the same. I have written to his Honor Judge Candler asking him to issue a duplicate of the lost one. The foregoing is a true statement so far as I recollect. In regard to the same, I say this is the first paper that I have received that I cannot say which way it went or where it went.

I would refer to the members of the Asheville bar as to any case of the paper in this office. J. M. ISRAEL.

THE SCOTTISH-CAROLINA BOOM BUSINESS. NEWPORT, TENN., Oct. 15. To the Editor of the Asheville Citizen: Dear Sir—Kindly insert the following in your paper and in future ask us, ourselves, to furnish you with information. We do not like to see you publish such incorrect statements as that in your paper of yesterday. About two of our temporary booms broke under the strain of the high water of Monday night, yet our river crews overtook all of the stranded logs the next day. Part will be shipped back by railway to the mill and the remainder rafted to Knoxville. We were prepared as far as Chattanooga in case of just such an emergency, we know the weakness of our temporary booms but could not strengthen them more than we did, or put in our permanent booms, owing to the long low state of the water previous to last Monday's sudden rise. Our temporary boom as far as capacity is quite safe and all its contents and the bulk of our floating cut of logs is still above us on the river banks and in the woods. The loss suffered by us is inconsiderable and to make up the loss of men and horses we are already at work on new booms and rafts.

Yours truly, ALEX. A. AMPHER, General Manager. [The Citizen did not publish what our friend refers to.]

OTHER HENDERSONVILLE LETTER.

HENDERSONVILLE, Oct. 16, 1885. News Editor—The weather is now fine and every thing is lovely. There are still a few visitors here and we learn that a goodly number intend spending the winter here. We know that those wishing to try our climate through the cold months could not be accommodated better or on more reasonable terms than here. Game is plentiful and the sportsmen can have a "good time." Capt. Four of your city and Maj. McNeil of the Spartanburg Rail Road came over and stopped at the Virginia House Wednesday evening and joined in a fox hunt Thursday morning with our city sportsmen and had a splendid chase of three hours capturing the game. There were twenty-three dogs and all did finely and our visitors were much pleased and promised to come again at an early day.

We were shown to-day two oxen that Capt. Morris will exhibit at your Fair weighing 21 lbs. each and measuring 71 inches in circumference and a best that can be beat, as it weighs 27 pounds and is three feet one inch and six inches of the nose to the end of the tail. A goodly number of "our folks" will be with you next week, if you will have a real good, old fashioned time and we know the crowd will see one of best Fairs ever held in the State.

Our city is coming to the front. Private houses are using gas, the hotels electric lights and young bloods are sporting shorts and stockings, which fashion suits some and some it don't. You bet. Yours truly, JOE ROBY.

A Hotel Man's Discovery. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—Mr. George H. Arnold, proprietor of the Occidental Hotel, says that the air is purer as we ascend, a man should not object to being assigned to a room on the uppermost floor; that he shouldn't mind taking a room, as it were, in view of the fact that St. Jacobs Oil so promptly cures rheumatism. He states that throughout California it is regarded as the great air-cure of the age.

THE BULGARIAN DIFFICULTY. BERLIN, Oct. 17th. The North German Gazette to-day, commenting on the situation in the Balkans, says: "Hope that diplomacy will succeed in peacefully settling the Roumelian difficulty has increased in view of the fact that the Bulgarian authorities have arrested leaders of several bands of Servian emigrants who had been endeavoring to stir up revolt against King Milan, thus depriving Servia of her pretext for war."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET. NEW YORK, Oct. 17. The stock market continues active and strong. The shut down affects over 7,000,000 spindles and 25,000 operatives. The strike was occasioned by owners posting notice of ten per cent reduction in wages.
