H. H. Lyons goes North to-morrow afternoon to buy his fall stock and then will go South for several months for his health.

Mr. Jordan Stone, Secretary of the Association, had the misfortune, a serious one for him, of losing his family horse. It was taken sick at the Fair Grounds Friday evening, and died yesterday morning.

The auctioneers of the premium tobacco sold at the Fair Grounds last Friday were J. B. Crenshaw and J. T. Barnett, commission merchants of Lynchburg, Va. We are glad to welcome these gentlemen to our boards.

We are pleased to meet in our city Mr. Toy, of Atlanta, Ga., who visits this section in the interest of the Estey Organ Company. The Estey organ is a very popular one hereabouts, very many being in use.

Mr. Hiram Rogers informs us that Mr. Erastus Ferguson, Mr. B. F. Clark, Messrs. John Justice and James Ledford, on Fines' Creek, have some of the finest tobacco this season he ever saw. Also Mr. Silas Green of the same locality.

We like always to notice the thrift and industry of our colored citizens. We notice with much pleasure the sale by J. R. Davis of Jackson county, of a horse raised by himself for which he obtained $210.00, bought on the Fair grounds last Friday. J. R. Davis is a colored man, and three years ago took the writer and Judge Shepherd from Webster to Franklin, and his intelligence and courtesy won upon both of us.

Chief Marshall Corpening, with his corps of excellent and attentive assistants, won the admiration and thanks of all concerned for their very constant and prompt services during the Fair. Everything moved along as smoothly as clock work. The superintendents of departments, and Judges, all did their work faithfully and well, greatly to the assistance of the association and the success of the Fair. Their labors were delicate and onerous, owing to the very large and superiority of all the exhibits, but they performed them well, and impartially, and we trust satisfactorily to every one concerned.

MR. FRANK REYNOLDS.

This gentleman gave us a pleasant call yesterday. He carries on a very extensive tannery at Ayer Post Office, Rutherford county, and his goods command ready sale, on account of their superior qualities. He purchases hides throughout this and adjoining States, and only buys such as are perfect in all respects; and his tanning is always excellent. He has a large trade in this section, and deserves it.

I herewith beg to call your attention to my well assorted stock of Fancy China and Japanese Glassware in all colors. Earthen and Stoneware, Japanese and Chinese wares in great variety. Silverware, Table Cutlery and Trays. I am offering extra inducements in price till Nov. 1st, in order to reduce stock.

A large and carefully selected stock of Clothing, Dry Goods, Fancy Goods, Hats, Boots and Shoes, Carpets, etc., at fixed and reasonable prices.

Be sure and call at McMullen's to examine and get prices on his goods before buying. He will take great pleasure in showing you.

If the people of Western North Carolina want to buy Furniture, Carpets, or Window Shades, they should not fail to call at McMullen's. He has the best and cheapest Goods in town.

WORTHY OF EXHIBIT.

Our friend Labarbe was in charge of the Ladies' department at the Fair. Of course, he thought every body who entered the hall with anything in their arms, had something to exhibit. The little nurse of Mr. Satterthwaite, Miss Hester Smathers, walked in with a very precious armful, neatly wrapped with beautiful embroidery, &c. Mrs. Labarbe spled something specially fine for exhibition. He approached the little girl, and holding out his hands to receive the package, asked: "this is something to exhibit?" The girl held on to her package, with a look of astonishment, which troubled the attentive officer, and he began to question, with a movement to take it. About that time a sweet little voice was heard beneath the folds, and the truth presented itself. It was Mrs. Satterthwaite's little baby. Mr. Labarbe had a hasty retreat. The baby was worthy of exhibition, but was not sent for that purpose.

HONORS TO WHOM HONORS ARE DUE.

No one will consider us invidious in saying that praise is especially due to acting President Fagg, Treasurer Holmes, Secretary Stone, Superintendent Atkinson, Vice-President Rollins, Capt. McLeod of the executive committee, for their special and constant efforts, for the past several weeks, in behalf of the Fair. Never did men work more earnestly, or constantly, under more adverse circumstances we might add, than they, and they have the consolation of knowing they worked to good, to magnificent results. They deserve the thanks of the people, and of the Association they bravely represented, for their faith and energy, efficiency and very successful services.

A RARE CHANCE FOR ASHEVILLE.—WHO WILL RESPOND?

Editors of Citizens.—We all value the efforts made by those interested in the Fair Association of Western Carolina, and appreciate the great good they have done, and will do, in exhibiting the wonderful resources of this favored land. There can be but one opinion of the display of farm products. It was perfectly magnificent, and if it could be preserved, for such a length of time, as to allow the numerous visitors here in the coming winter to examine it, they would surely form a very favorable opinion of the capabilities of this section. From their nature, however, it would be impracticable to preserve the farm products, but an opportunity is offered to keep here a permanent display of woods and minerals, which it is hoped our town people will not allow it to remain. We see from your issue of the 17th morning that Mr. Poindexter's fine selection of woods will be located at our Club Room, and it is to be hoped, the members of that valued institution will see that it is enlarged from time to time. And we are further informed that Dr. C. D. Smith proposes to place permanently on exhibition in Asheville, his very superior collection of minerals. He has thought of conferring this kindness on Asheville for some time past, but has been deterred by want of a suitable room. This difficulty is now removed and a location has been offered which Mr. Smith approves of, but he says it will require ten or twelve show cases to hold his collection, and surely we ought not to require him to incur this expense for our benefit. Will you not Messrs. Editors propose that a small fund be contributed for this purpose? Probably one hundred or one hundred and fifty dollars will suffice. Give us your views on the subject of MINERALS.

THE HOTEL ON BATTERY PORTER.

All the preliminary papers required to be signed to secure the completion of the grand enterprise contemplated by Col. Frank Cox were duly, and we may say enthusiastically approved and signed by the city authorities last night, and Col. Cox, by virtue of this proceeding, will enter upon the work at once, and it is there agreed that the hotel is to be completed within one year. The work of laying out drives, &c., &c., has already begun, as announced in the CRITIC, and the architects are busy completing the details of the grand building, and as soon as they conclude, which will be but a few days, work will be begun in earnest. We again congratulate our community, and all concerned, upon this most important undertaking in our city. It is but the beginning of a large amount of work in our city and section. The CITIZEN will be able soon to make some more very important announcements, of very valuable improvements to be made in and near this city. Now is the time for capital and energy to combine, and give our section a boom which will show our car of progress rapidly up the hill of a permanent and lasting prosperity.

NOT FORGOTTEN.

Editors sometimes have an oasis thrown across the desert of their pathway. This week, some of our friends who exhibited superb products, have remembered us, and for their act we are truly grateful. Mr. A. B. Fortune left at our office some superb corn and large pumpkins; Mr. Pless Israel some superior sweet potatoes, which would have done credit to Edgemoor; Mr. J. C. Curtis some premium corn. We intend to distribute the corn and pumpkin seed among farmers, thus endeavoring to do good to others as we have had good done to us. Mr. J. A. May, the popular nurseryman at Pigeon River, sent us 30 varieties of select apple trees; Mr. Satterthwaite, of Aiken, S. C., the Southern agent of that ne plus ultra of all grapes, the Niagara, remembered us with some of these delicious grapes. We were specially pleased to have some of the donors accompany their gifts with the declaration, "this is done in appreciation of the constant and continuous efforts of the CITIZEN to attract attention to and build up Western North Carolina." We sincerely thank our friends for their presents and their kindly sentiments.

A DASTARDLY OUTRAGE.

Friday night, about 11 o'clock, while Mr. A. P. Boland, who has had charge of some horses for the Fair, was going from the city to the Grounds, when near the depot, was violently struck by some person with a stick, or club. He saw two men standing in the road just beyond the bridge on Depot street, and as he reached where they stood, received the heavy blow on his right temple. He was badly stunned, and dropped into the bottom of his buggy. His horse took fright and ran with great speed, overturning the buggy near the depot, the horse also falling, throwing Mr. B. out, and rendering him senseless for some time. Finally policemen assisted him up, and also his horse, and accompanied both to the Fair Grounds. Mr. B. was much better last evening, and, fortunately, the horse was not hurt at all. The buggy was seriously damaged. Mr. B. is entirely at a loss to account for the attack, and attributes it to a purpose of highway robbery.
