Mr. N. G. Brown, of the Knoxville Chronicle was in the city yesterday.

The first live stock train under the new arrangement for moving stock went through last night.

The colored public school of this city, under the management of H. B. Brown, is evidently on an increase. There were 113 pupils in attendance yesterday.

Prof. Tatum will give his first lesson in the instruction of music at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms to-night, at 7:30 o'clock. Public invited to attend. Instruction on the Guitar, by note, if desired, given at the Carolina house.

Rev. Father, McGinity, Pastor of the Catholic church of this city, spent several days; this week with our countryman, N. P. Madore, Esq. He held services in the Catholic Church last Sunday morning, it being the first Sunday in the month, his regular appointment.

It begins to look at this writing that Prof. Smith's wet weather for this (third) week in February is about to come to pass. The week after will be cold, severe weather.

Justice Sommy certainly had a field day of it yesterday. A few of the wayward sons of Ivy township occupied his time and attention nearly all day. Peace bonds were required in two instances.

Prof. J. McFarland Hudson, C. E., reports that good prospects for magnetic iron ore, copper, gold and silver, have been discovered five miles west of Barnard station, on the French Broad river, Madison county. He also exhibited to us one of the finest specimens of crystal quartz we ever saw. The Professor says this country is very full of the most valuable minerals, which only need to be developed to make it the richest section of the Union.

ASHEVILLE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

At the annual meeting of the A. L. A., held in the library room on Saturday at 12 m., the following officers were elected:

President, T. W. Patton; Vice-President, Mrs. S. R. Kepler; Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. J. S. Leach.

The President appointed the following executive committee:

Misses Fannie Buxton, Anna Aston, Mary E. Brown, Fannie Patton and Nannie Penman.

FUNERAL OF COL. PULLIAM.

The last rites were performed yesterday over the remains of our late townsman, Col. Robt. W. Pulliam. His remains were followed to the Episcopal Church by a large concourse of relatives and friends. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: Thos. I. VanGilder, C. J. McKeane, William E. Williamson, W. B. Penman, Sr., W. T. Penman, Thos. W. Patton, William P. Blair.

The impressive funeral services of the Episcopal church were conducted by Dr. Buxton, assisted by Rev. Mr. McKeane, after which the remains were deposited in their last resting place. Peace to his ashes!

COL. BOB TAYLOR FOR GOVERNOR.

Col. O. C. King, of Morristown, in speaking of the Hon. Robert L. Taylor as a possible candidate for governor of Tennessee says: "Taylor is undoubtedly strong in the First District. How he is in the Second and Third I am not posted. He is a fine talker on the stump, and would make a spirited canvass."

ROBBERY AT LEICESTER.

While Mr. — Culbertson and family were absent from their home on Saturday, some one entered the house and robbed him of $270, all the money he had. No clue to the thief. All of our friends would do well to keep their money deposited in the bank, where it will be absolutely safe, and always ready.

A SUGGESTION TO THE CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY.

A friend in the city said to us yesterday that the item in yesterday morning's Citizen about the man who picked up brick enough in Richmond to build a house reminded him of the story of a church in Wheeling, W. Va., that was built of bricks brought together from Sunday to Sunday by the Sunday School children. A wink is as good as a nod, to the extension society and the children.

THE LATE PURCHASE PROBLEM.

Mr. S. P. Henry of Hawkins sends the following solution to the above problem: "A's land costs him 75 cents per acre more than B's. B's land would cost him 4.625 per acre. A's 75 cents more than B, would be 5.375. To see how much land each one would get: A. 5.375 x 100 No. of acres = 100. Cost of 2 acres would be 53.75 acres A's part. B. 4.625 x 100 = 46.25 B's part."

Mr. Henry also furnishes, correctly, the solution to the first grazing problem; but the correct solution having already been given we omit this part of his letter.

Our old friend Gen. Gehagan of Madison, gave us a pleasant call yesterday.

He always has something useful to say concerning farming, for he is one of the best farmers in Western Carolina. He mentioned a plan which his father always followed successfully in plowing. For instance, if he had a clover field which he wanted to put in wheat or corn, he would not turn under the clover growth, as is customary, but would use a tongue-plow, breaking the land deep, leaving the vegetable matter upon top of the soil to rot and protect the wheat.

Mr. Gehagan said, would make the land yield considerably more than the other system. Mr. Gehagan, Sr., gathered 27 bushels of wheat per acre from this method of tillage, and the land improved every year under his system. This suggestion may be worth the attention of our farmers. Suppose all try a part of a field that way, to see the result.

THE BAPTISTS OF WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA.

Speaking of the Baptist denomination of Western North Carolina, and their paper, a correspondent writes the Blue Ridge Baptist from Asheville:

Already the most numerous and progressive, they are fast becoming the most wealthy and influential people in the country, and in our opinion, nothing can add more to their prosperity and influence for good than the general circulation of a progressive religious newspaper. We believe that in the Blue Ridge Baptist we have a paper which is doing removal to Asheville, the Metropolis of the West, will mark a new era in the history of Western North Carolina Baptists and, the general material as well as religious development of our section. It has therefore, become the first duty of every Baptist to labor with might and main for the establishment and support of our paper, that its influence may grow, that it may scatter on every mountain and in every valley the seeds of truth and good works. Its removal to Asheville will be welcomed by all classes and denominations of our people, and from the first issue at this place, it will be regarded as an established and prosperous enterprise. No newspaper in our section ever began its career with brighter prospects or the more general confidence of the people.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT AT WHITTIER—A MAN KILLED.

WHITTIER, N. C., Feb. 5, '86. Messrs. Editors.—Yesterday our quiet town was shocked by the news of a terrible accident. Manly Conly, a carpenter working on the buildings here, had a young man by the name of Albert Morgan working for him. On yesterday morning heent Morgan to cut some fire wood. Morgan began on a large tree that had been cut in time and lodged on another tree. While he was cutting on the tree it slipped off the stump and turning fell backward. Conly heard the falling of the tree, but not the sound of the axe again, went to see after the cause and found Morgan buried under the tree some ten feet from the stump with nothing visible but one hand. Help was called in and the tree cut away and he was taken out completely mangled. His head was crushed, neck broken, both arms and thighs also, and his body nearly cut through.

Our town is progressing rapidly. T. A. C.

A FINE RESIDENCE DESTROYED.

We greatly regret to announce the destruction of the fine residence of Mr. Jas. Cortland, which occurred Tuesday afternoon. The fire was caused by a defective flue. It was one of the handsomest residences in Western Carolina, elegantly furnished throughout, and was a place of note, as well as refined hospitality. It was situated on the Hendersonville road, five miles this side of the town. The loss is about $30,000, insured for about $8,000. Mr. Cortland's many friends will deeply sympathize with him and his in their severe loss.

CYRENE COMMANDERY.

A regular convocation of Cyrene Commandery K. T. will be held to-night, at which the election of officers will take place. It is important that there be a full attendance. By order of Em. Com. JORDAN STONE, Sec.

WILL BE OF US.

Our young friend, Dr. M. H. Fletcher, of Dr. G. W. Fletcher, of Shufordville, Fla., some years resident physician of the City Hospital, Newark, New Jersey, reached his old home a few days ago. He is in Asheville with a view of permanently locating, having resigned his position for that purpose. Dr. F. stands high in his profession where he has been located since he graduated, and will be a valuable acquisition to our city, personally and professionally. We heartily welcome him as a resident.

EXTENDING HIS BUSINESS.

Our worthy townsman, Mr. S. H. Hancock, who has been steadily pushing his business for the past eight years has this week decided to leave his business, and has bought out the stock recently under the management of Mr. C. E. Lee, one door North of his old stand, and will in the future, run both stores, eventually intending to divide his business into two different branches, he is also running a branch store at Waynesville. We wish him continued prosperity.

FOR ASHEVILLE CITIZEN.

WHY NO PUBLIC SCHOOLS?

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 10, '86. Editors Citizens:—Will you please inform me (and by so doing oblige many others), when there will be a free school commenced in Asheville township. None of the money for the year 1884 has been expended, for it was not paid in, until 1st November of 1885 and now owing the funds of 1885, to be paid next November, I am not complaining, but want to know why we have not had any school since the expenditure of tax of 1883. ENQUIRER.

MARRIAGE AT HICKORY.

F. L. Cline, Esq. and Miss Novella, daughter of Mr. J. M. Lawrence, were married in the Episcopal church, at Hickory yesterday. Rev. J. A. Weston officiating. Mr. George E. Royster was best man, and the attendants were Mr. Charles Cline and Miss Lula Johnson, of Hickory; Mr. George McCorkle, of Newton, and Miss Ava Pleasant, of Asheville; and Mr. E. V. Jones, of Asheville, and Miss Rouch, of Salisbury; Mr. J. H. Aiken and Miss Eurie of Hickory. The bride and groom left on the afternoon train for a trip North.

PLEASE BE PARTICULAR.

We are generally short on stamps, and in fact of any which our respected relative, Uncle Samuel sees fit to turn loose upon a confiding people; but those of the denomination of five and ten cents are rather above your ability to readily utilize. Fractional currency, of the stamp character, one and two-centers, suit our purposes and general use much the better, and we trust our numerous friends who wish to unload on us will confine themselves to those of the smaller and send none of the larger denominations.

CAMPBELL AND SNAILS.

We mention these together, not that they have any relation to each other, but because both sustain each in its particular way, a most important relation to a subject that is agitating the public mind hereabouts. As certain and safe indications of approaching bad weather, either by a heavy rain to far surpass either the goose-hoed, the round-hog, or both combined. A man must spit gum camphire in a bottle of spirits, but neither the spirits or the man must get drunk; when a storm is brewing the camphire will rise in the spirits, and when the weather is fair, and promises to remain fair, the gum will settle at the bottom of the bottle. We were not informed whether it indicated the approach of domestic storms or not; if so, a bottle of this indicator will doubtless be found in every man's pocket, strictly for prudential reasons.

When the snail is dry the weather will remain dry and fair; whenever it assumes a damp appearance, look out for squalls soon. The snail in this particular, has a strong affinity to human nature. We have known violent storms to break loose among men who had passed from a "dry" to a wet state.

We have also learned that raw Irish potatoes and buck-eyes are a prevailing and popular habit in this country. It is told on Senator Vance that he fooled himself for fifteen years with a wooden buck-eye, some friend or enemy had palmed off on him.

MISS OLIVIA MILLARD.

The Goldsboro Messenger says: "Miss Olivia Millard, of our Graded School, has received and accepted a proposition to take charge of a department in the Asheville Normal School, during her next summer's vacation. Miss Millard held a position in this school last year. The fact that her services were sought so early for the next session is a high tribute to her efficiency."

Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, says there can be no controversy or deadlock between the President and the Senate. If the President does not choose to give the information called for in regard to removals or suspensions, that settles the question.

The Senate can only refuse to confirm his appointments and put the President to the trouble of reappointing his man at the close of the session. Senator Ingalls carries a very level head.

The unprecedented snow fall within the past forty-eight hours, covering so wide an area of the Mississippi Valley, is the precursor to freshets and floods that carry disaster in their sweep. It is not too soon to sound the notes of timely warning to people living in the bottoms to have a care for stock and fences. It is near the time of year for the annual spring flood, and this year, with the present indications, it promises to be above the average.—Exchange.

The appointment of Broadhurst as under home secretary, in the new British Cabinet, has caused a sensation in political circles. That gentleman being the first workman that has ever risen to a ministry appointment, is taken as an indication that it is Gladstone's intention to rely upon the masses against the influence of the aristocracy. The Liberal clubs are divided in opinion on the subject, the Reform and Devonshire disapproving the appointment, and the National Liberal enthusiastically approving it.

The hostility of the Whigs to Gladstone is intense. This is shown in the difficulty experienced by the premier in filling peeresses' posts in the Queen's household. The Duchess of Westminister and the Duchess of Bedford refused appointments and others they will follow their example.

Redmond, the Nationalist member in Parliament, in a speech at Monaghan to day, urged Irishmen to restrain their violent feelings and not to hamper the new Government which, he said, would take immediate steps to stop evictions.

The average daily mail received by the House is said by Postmaster Dalton, to be between 13,000 and 15,000 letters, an average of nearly forty letters per day to each Congressman, though some receive as high as 200.

Richard Bakrow, a Louisville drummer, has been found guilty of abducting a woman at Shreveport, La. The offense is punishable by confinement in the State prison for not more than five years.

It is rumored that Gov. Dorsheimer, United States District Attorney for New York, has tendered his resignation, with a view to devoting all of his time to his paper, the New York Star.

LATEST NEWS.

Senator Colquitt, of Georgia, will introduce soon, a bill providing local option in the District of Columbia.

L. M. Castell, a so-called preacher, is a fugitive from justice, for an alleged beastly assault upon his own daughters at Carnit, Ill.

A riot occurred at Christiansburg, Va., on the 9th, between some drunken rogues and the town authorities. The ringleaders were jailed.

The funeral of Mrs. Barbour, wife of Representative Barbour of Virginia, took place in Washington on the 9th.

The superintendent of the Jewish widows and orphans has been dismissed for reducing one of the orphan girls.

The French Chamber of Deputies, by a vote of 347 to 116, has rejected the proposition of the Radicals to extend amnesty to political offenders.

Rioters have again broken loose, in Seattle, W. T., on account of the Chinese. Troops had to be called, and they succeeded in suppressing the disturbances. Several of the rioters were wounded.

The police of Madrid, on the 7th suppressed a meeting of Federal Republicans because one of the speakers referred to the state of the monarchy as insecure. Two leaders of the recent revolt at Carthagena have been sentenced to death and the other to ten years' imprisonment.

A London dispatch of the evening of the 9th says:—An attempt was made this afternoon to renew on a small scale, the riotous demonstrations of yesterday. The city is thickly enveloped with fog. Straggling parties of roughs took advantage of the semi-darkness to congregate in some of the fashionable thoroughfares of West End, and they made no pretense of being working men, but were undoubtedly traps, foot pads and pickpockets.

The Prince of Wales gave a ball at St. James Palace this afternoon, and many private equipages containing members of the peerage and aristocracy were on their way to the palace. The rioters turned their attention to these carriages, seeking to stop them for the purpose of plundering their occupants. The thieves did not meet with much success, but they caused great apprehensions among the ladies by frightening the horses and making them unmanageable. After about half an hour the rioters were dispersed by police, but the feeling of alarm is spreading, and it is feared that there may be a more formidable outbreak after midnight. The police have been largely re-arranged this afternoon and have succeeded in dispersing the roughs who were attempting to commit robberies under cover of the fog.

The rioters have fled in various directions, and are being pursued or prevented from reassembling.

From another dispatch we get the following: The spirit of the mob is distinctly aggressive. Every carriage which happens to come within reach of the rioters is at once surrounded and its occupants hooded, kissed and insulted.

During the early part of the afternoon a gorgeous equipage was driven near the mob. Some said the turnout was the Lord Mayor's and the rioters at once made a rush for it, seemingly determined to tear the vehicle to pieces and stamp its occupants to death. The police, however, by a charge rescued the equipage and its occupants and got them to a place of safety.

The mob at present is simply a mass of undirected savages. Nothing, it would seem, but a want of some popular leader prevents the mob from exerting its strength in some organized movement which might bring about most disastrous results. During the day the police charged on the mob twice in full force, for the purpose of breaking it up and driving the fragments from Trafalgar Square, but both efforts were futile. The mob would yield a little at the point of attack, but bulge out in some other direction. The police could not surround or break it. Each failure of the police was greeted with cheers and yells.

At this hour, 3 p. m., the rioters are getting engaged at the frequent repetition of police hostility. The temper of the men is rising. Thousands of men are pouring down to the scene, and all the pavements in the vicinity of Trafalgar Square are alive with excited men, and rows on each side of the street being no where less than six men deep.

The increasing gravity of the situation has finally alarmed the authorities and they put forth all their energies to suppress the incipient riot. The police force on duty at Trafalgar Square was enormously increased and prepared for a well defined and exhaustive assault. This long struggle resulted in pushing the mob into the side streets and thus splitting it up. The police followed up their work and drove each fragment of the broken mob, until its elements were dissipated in the alleys and by ways of the town. Every precaution has been taken to prevent a reassembling of the mob.

A bill was introduced in the House on the 8th by Mr. Foran, of Ohio, which has created some excitement, and which will be of special interest to the people west and northwest. It provides that the government, may loan to actual settlers $500 on each quarter section they have entered upon, after proof has been made of lawful entry, the money to be expended in improving the land; but the settler must make oath that he is not worth more than $300, above the land upon which the loan is made, and is to be paid within five years, in amounts of $100 each year.
