COMPOUND OXYGEN.

Home Treatment.

WE ARE PERMANENTLY LOCATED IN Asheville, N. C., Office on Main Street, Pullman House, first floor.

We make a specialty of treating Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Shingles, Neuralgia, and, in fact, all chronic diseases, and all diseases resulting from an impure blood condition of the blood. If you are able to walk to the office, you CAN be CURED, in many cases cured by our new treatment. We use in addition to the Oxygen, the Medicated Vapor.

In this way we can treat the lungs locally, as we vaporize all medicines, and the patient inhales the vapor, holding it for a short time in the lungs—thus the medicine held in suspension in the vapor is deposited in the air cells, where it is taken up by the blood. It not only produces the local effect desired, but

A CONSTITUTIONAL EFFECT.
If you have any kind of Lung disease, come and consult us. We will not charge you anything for consultation.

THE OXYGEN GAS,
breathed two or three times a day, will restore you to perfect health through your lungs. There is no least danger connected with the treatment. The effect is pleasant, and the result permanent.

For Asthma, it is a specific as much as Quinine is for Chills. If you have Asthma, it will cure you, and the relief is almost instantaneous.

WASAL CATHARTIC,
our treatment will permanently cure you.

We have been using the
OXYGEN
AND
MEDICATED VAPOR
for some years, and in that time we have cured hundreds of cases of Consumption after they had repeated hemorrhages, and were given up by the best physicians in the land.

NO MEDICINE GIVEN.
All diseases treated locally. Quit taking medicine. Come to our office, and get nature's remedy.

We also pay special attention to RECTAL DISEASES, FISTULA, FISSURE, AND PILES, RECTAL ULCER.

We have an entirely new treatment, that is painless, the patient need not lose one hour from business or pleasure. We do not use the knife or ligatures, or the obnoxious injection. We can cure you, and are willing to INSURE a CURE, if you so desire.

NO CURE, NO PAY!
We send the HOME TREATMENT with chemicals to last two months for $10. We do not publish testimonials, but on application will furnish any number of post office addresses, names of patients who have been cured under our treatment. Consultation free.

MOORE & RONARDS.

Maj. J. W. Wilson, Mrs. Wilson and family, of Morganton, are at Battery Park.

We call the attention of the public, generally, to the advertisement of Mr. A. B. Sams, Jr.

The Ladies' Bible meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Ladies of all denominations invited to attend.

We sympathize deeply with our friend Mr. Kayes, of the Marion Bugle, on the loss of his little son. He died on the 14th.

The Summer Market entertainment held at the Swannanoa Hotel, Wednesday evening work realized $228, for the debt fund.

Bishop Lyman arrived from Polk county yesterday morning at 2:30 a. m., and leaves on Friday to make his annual visitation in Haywood, Franklin and Macon counties.

United States Treasurer Jordan is at the Hot Springs, with his family. Mr. Jordan is said to be one of the most social and pleasant gentlemen at the Springs, and is very popular.

There will be a masquerade ball for the colored people at Buncombe Warehouse to-night, August 19th, given by Prof. Michaux. Some of the costumes will be of an elegant character.

We have noticed several specimens of very tall clover, and we continue to have occasion to notice. Mr. M. J. Owenby has brought us one in some respects, the most beautiful we have seen. It is the second growth. His is 6 feet five inches high.

Mr. W. G. Corpening has a heavy contract on the railroad between Birmingham, Ala., and Memphis, with his headquarters near Birmingham. He wants 250 men to work on rock work and will pay fair wages. He will be in Asheville on the 25th inst.

Our friend Rev. P. P. McLean, one of Macon's best citizens, gave us a call yesterday. It was his first visit to Asheville in thirteen years, and he required a guide to keep him straight. We were greatly pained to learn from him that his loss by the recent burning of his mills &c., was total; that while he was insured in three companies, these had collapsed before the calamity, and therefore his loss was total. This is very severe upon a good and an energetic citizen.

HEAVY AND EXTRAORDINARY RAIN.
The rain that fell here Tuesday evening, to which we referred in our last issue, had some strange features. It did not fall from clouds driven here by the wind; but the sudden condensation of vapors in the atmosphere around and above, thickening and gathering by degrees until the down pour was heavy and continuous. The rainfall was much heavier in some parts of the town than in others. On White Pine street, at the east end, it probably did not exceed half an inch. On Haywood and Academy streets, by measurement made by Mr. A. J. Lyman, the amount that fell in one hour and thirty-five minutes was one inch and sixty-five hundredths, at the rate of an inch an hour, or two feet in twenty-four hours. There was incessant lightning, but only one or two violent discharges, and no damage done.

REAL BARGAINS NOW.

AN EXPLANATION.

We regret explanations, rarely ever indulge in them, but sometimes they are necessary. Our paper makers failed to send us our usual supply of paper for our WEEKLY, and hence we could not print our WEEKLY yesterday. We have supplied our friends however, with the daily, which we hope will satisfy them in our difficulty.

A SOUTHERN RESORT.

Our readers, neither at home or abroad, must become weary if we persist in pressing on their attention some of the many expressions of the good will, admiration, or otherwise drawn from the visitors to Asheville. We assure them we are exceedingly gratified in the use of material we have at hand; for the number of intelligent observers drawn here is large, and the temptation to write and publish irresistible. We are obliged to discriminate, not against any one writer, but that all sections may have the benefit of their reflections.

We use the following from the Philadelphia Times for several reasons. One is that the presence of the writer of this letter here emphasizes the fact that we have often stated that Asheville is not as well known abroad as our people flatter themselves it is. The writer, a gentleman of distinguished social and official position, in his search for a pleasant summer resort had not once heard of this place, and learned of it casually through the architect of the Battery Park Hotel. The gentleman is Mr. Daniel M. Fox for successive years Mayor of Philadelphia, one of the two Democrats who have occupied that position, since the war, a man beloved, admired, trusted, now holding an important position in the United States Mint, with which institution he maintains daily intercourse by telegraph.

Mr. Fox has manifested such sincere pleasure, not only with this country and climate, but with the people, at his unfeignedly cordial reaction that we are sure it will gratify our readers to have in his own words, his expressions of his views and feelings:

ASHEVILLE, N. C., August 13.

This is truly the land of the sky. It does seem as if the line which marks the distinction between heaven and earth has disappeared. The mountains bury their peaks in the firmament and the clouds repose in the valleys. Here, far from the monotony of the flat lands, nature presents herself in ever-changing varieties. The atmospheric effects will linger long in the memory. As I watch them, day in and out from the broad and cool piazzas of the Battery Park Hotel, old travelers assure me that they are not surpassed by the boasted glories of the Italian skies.

Asheville is in the heart of the Black Mountains in Western North Carolina and until within a very few years past, was comparatively unknown, owing to lack of railroad connections, but energy, enterprise and local pride have opened it to the country. Now it promises to be one of the most prominent resorts of the South. The Western North Carolina Railroad has executed through these mountains difficult and elaborate problems of engineering skill. The climbing of the ascents from Old Fort to Swannanoa tunnel is accomplished by the most startling features of tunnel, trestle and grade, the last varying from 60 to 115 feet per mile amid a region not so wild and rugged as the Catskills or the White Mountains, but serene, restful and beautiful, clothed with verdure so prolific that flowers and vegetation grow to the top of every peak.

This very country stands alone in the world for climatic salubrity, as you very well realize upon consulting Denison's Climatic Maps, made for the United States Government. Here it will be seen that in winter especially there is but a single belt of land west of 95 degrees of longitude, which comes up to the standard of moderate moisture, and this belt, almost twenty-five miles wide and one hundred and fifty miles long, extends from Asheville north-east into Virginia.

In this delightful and progressive little town, located upon a lovely plateau between the Blue Ridge and the Alleghenies, is old Battery Park, so named during the war from earthworks erected by the Confederates. Here in the midst of an enclosure made by the fortifications is located the Battery Park Hotel, built by Colonel Frank Coxe, of Philadelphia, a kinsman of Senator Bradley B. Coxe and vice president of the Western North Carolina Railroad. For miles in every direction from Mount Mitchell to Caesar's Head the hotel commands charming and impressive views. It is impossible to convey to you the impression produced by the play of the clouds upon the splendid range of peaks visible in us. The house opened on the 12th of last month and has been filled ever since. Lured by the deligh-

A LADY WISHES TO BE HEARD.

For the Asheville Citizen.
A LADY WISHES TO BE HEARD.
Mr. Jordan Stone:—
As you are the only one of the Editors I know, I beg to say that I have taken much comfort and encouragement in reading all those letters written by men about the Savings Bank and have deposited with Mr. Henry Penland $25.27, being saved by me out of my wages for the past 11 months.

My grandmother lived on Mills River, and used to spin and weave, and made all of mother's cloths. Grandfather was hardworking and saving, and when mother grew up they had saved enough to send all the way to Charleston for a silk dress which mother wore at her in-laws the day after her marriage with my father, who had lived much in Raleigh and had town ways and liked dress. Father was captured and died soon after the war from the effects, and as we had nothing much of the boys and I never had to work for ourselves and my ambition is one of these days to buy a silk dress from Mr. Sawyer for my own infirmary. But that event, Mr. Stone, seems a long way off for so few of these men are on account, and I would rather work and save for my old age, than marry a man and work for him and save nothing.

I am not used to figures, but the gentleman who wrote the last letter I like. He should have called himself Mr. Hardfast for my brother who has studied Algebra tells me that figures never lie.

If my letter can only be the means of encouraging some other girl to save and deposit, I will only say I am glad, for it does give a woman a mighty contented feeling. I propose to deposit $9 a month without fail.

Respectfully yours,
ANNA P. THREADEWELL.

ANOTHER ADDITION TO ASHEVILLE.

AND STILL WE GROW.
THE CITIZEN has already mentioned the purchase of the handsome property of Mr. Reuben M. Deaver on North Charlotte Street, by Mr. W. G. Raoul of Augusta, Ga., and the subsequent purchase by Mr. Deaver, of the valuable property of Mr. F. S. H. Reynolds, just west of the Iron bridge. There are 65 acres in this latter place, all well located, overlooking the beautiful French Broad river and city, adjoining the Tahkeestee farm, and the Gaston property, the latter of into is to be divided into fine lots for residences. Mr. Deaver informs us it is his intention to immediately divide the 65 acres subdivided with lots for residence and business purposes, with wide, handsome streets &c., &c. These lots will be sold cheap. The work of grading streets and laying off the lots is rapidly progressing, and will soon be completed. Parties desiring a good home, at a reasonable price, could call on Mr. Deaver at once for full information. Mr. Deaver is taking this course in recognition of the large and increasing demand for homes at reasonable rates in and near this city, and it is in keeping with the energy and local pride of that gentleman, who, since becoming a resident of our city has lost no opportunity to push it forward.

OPEN AIR "GARDEN PARTY."

The ladies of the Battery Park will give a garden party on the hotel grounds Saturday afternoon and evening (August 21st) to aid the Ladies' Association in removing the debt of Trinity Parish.

There will be tables of Fancy Articles, Flowers, Fruits, &c.

Afternoon Tea will be served at 5 o'clock.

Still they come. Yesterday morning three hundred or more excursionists reached here by the Asheville and Spartanburg road; and many others went to Waynesville or the Hot Springs. Last evening we saw a telegram dated Statesville, notifying the landlord of the Battery Park Hotel that a train, to reach here at 1 a. m., this morning was on the way with 150 passengers.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE.

Having sold out my Drug business I desire to close up everything at once. Parties whose names are on my books will find their accounts ready at the Music and Lamp store of T. M. REPUBLICAN CONVENTION IN MADISON.
Our friends the enemy, the Republicans of Madison, held their county convention at Marshall on Tuesday. We are informed that the meeting was a large one. Maj. W. W. Rollins presided. The following nominations were made:
For House Rep.—J. C. Pritchard.
Sheriff—Mitchell Chandley.
Clerk—J. J. White.
Register—B. T. Chandley.
Treasurer—John Nichols.
Coroner—Dr. Branks.

Delegates were appointed to the Senatorial convention without instructions.

It is useless to disguise the fact that the above is, altogether, a strong ticket, and being put forward in a republican county may reasonably expect to be successful. However, we have known strong tickets beaten. We shall see what will shall see.

THE NEW CEMETERY.

Up Haywood street, through the length of Academy street to a little way beyond Prof. Venable's residence, thence through somewhat desolate streets to the Encampment grounds, thence along their southern margin to near their western limit, and then the road to the entrance of the cemetery begins. It is a wide avenue, winding in easy curves through the uncut forest, wide, well made, well graded and following the easiest surface line. A quiet thoughtful drive of perhaps a quarter of a mile brings you to the entrance gate of iron work over which is thrown an arch bearing the inscription: THE ASHEVILLE CEMETERY.

Designating the spot with unmistakable precision. There is no mistake there. But was such precision needed? We are familiar with the Asheville Bank, the Asheville Bakery, the Asheville Lumber Co., and other titles suggestive of the business and the enterprise of the city. But it is necessary to carry these suggestions into the resting place of the dead. The only occupation connected with them is that of sorrow for their departure, tender care of their graves, and the perpetuation of their memory by the gentle arts of tasteful and picturesque ornamentation is left outside. True, through the parting foliage we catch glimpses of the city of the living. We see with our own eyes that the dead and the living are not far apart; we feel the force of the reminder, "in the midst of life we are in death." But we know that though so near, yet in many respects they are far removed. And this is the case with the living and the dead, and the difference is marked with outward significance.

We like the suggestion of Mr. Lyman that "Riverside" should be the title of the spot; appropriate from the music of the word, from the presence of the flowing waters, and because the stream itself sending up the voice which murmur soft and low, and mingle with the wailings of the mourner or with the gentle hush of the subdued sorrow, seems to ask its share in the expression of emotions passing under the portals of the grave. As yet few lots have been sold; but the work of decoration is going on, and in time no burial spot on earth will be more adorned by art or more enriched by the beauty and grandeur of surrounding scenery. So far the fact seems scarcely realized by the citizens of this place that a fitting resting place has been found at last for our dead, of that it is ready for use, and very few have taken the trouble to visit and learn how really fit and beautiful it is. It must be visited to be known; and then we are sure will soon be learned the memory of our parents and kindred. It is a plain block of blue marble surmounted with a sculptured frieze. There are inscriptions on each of the four sides. We give them, not only as those of the first monument, but as of a large and well known family. They are as follows:

1. Col. John Brown, Oct. 12, 1842, Aug. 28, 1848.
2. Maj. Wm. Brown, Dec. 6, 1841, Aug. 15, 1858.
3. Mary W. A. Brown, Oct. 15, 1838, Feb. 25, 1892.
4. Elizabeth J. Carter, Dec. 2, 1843, Aug. 15, 1883.

Capt. Wm. G. Brown, C. A., July 30, 1862.

Young, old, and middle-aged, all experience the wonderful beneficial effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young children suffering from sore eyes, scald-head, or with any scrofulous or syphilitic taint, may be made healthy and strong by its use. aug 19-21

The Battle begins in the earliest dawn of the child's existence. It is delicate, worms fission upon its veins, and as years pass they increase, and if not destroyed will kill. Shiner's Indian Vermifuge will destroy them and save the life of the child.
