OBITUARY.
Died, at the residence of her husband, M. G.
Jones, in Henderson county, N. C., on the 10th of Dec., 1886, Mrs. Annie Eliza Jones, aged twenty-one years and four months. The death of this very dear young wife and young lady was very sudden, being caused, as stated by her physician, by paralysis of the heart. Annie E. Jones was married to M. G. Jones of Henderson county, by the writer Oct. 26, 1881. Annie embraced religion at Shaw's Creek camp meeting when about 17 years old. She was a member of the M. E. church at Mills River Chapel. There her burial took place and her funeral was presided by the writer on the third day after her death, in the presence of many mourning, grief-stricken relatives and friends. There is a beautiful casket containing the body of Annie E. Jones, lovely in life, lovely even in the coldness of death.
On the day of her death about the middle of the afternoon, she called for her mother and her sister, and said, "Annie, I am going to die and go to heaven." Then she said, "Blessed Jesus!" Her husband was hastily sent for, at her earnest request, who when he reached her kneeling over her dying form in deepest grief, she expressed the greatest affection for him and soon fell asleep. As much as she was loved in this dear world as she had said, "The Master is come and called for me." All of the bright and shining angels, who were with her in childhood, gathered round her, and she called to wake in the likeness of Him who redeemed her and washed her from all unrighteousness in His own blood. For a child, her mother told me, she had knowledge of the life to come, and she was going to be at night.
By her acquaintances, young and old, she was greatly loved, by all her relations she was almost to idolatry, and yet she was not spoiled.
While passing through the world, she was with her, and passing through the deep river, the excellent character of her love, her love, her love, her love. The waters did not overflow her.
There she has gone to the Mount Zion, the Heavenly Jerusalem, the immortal company of angels, and the spirits of just men made perfect.
Was she not the child who she shall see King Jesus all His beauty, and see the tree of life and of the ever-flowing fruit thereof. There she wears a white robe and a golden crown; there is far-away happy country, far from this world of pain and sorrow, where there is no grief, no pain or death; there all tears are wiped away from every eye. She shall know that mysteriously, as the ways of Providence, we know but only in part. "What I do," said Christ, "you know not now, but that shall know hereafter." In a spirit of resignation let every one say "not my will but thine be done."
The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord Sleep sweetly, tender heart, in peace; Sleep, holy spirit, blessed soul;
While the stars burn, the moon increases,
And the great age of centuries Finally, shall they, fond mother, grief-stricken husband, dear uncle, aunt and friends ever see, ever meet, that dear, departed one again?
Yes.
* * * * *
"That each who seems a separate whole, Should move his rounds and meeting all The stars of earth and heaven should fall, Re-emerging in the general soul."
"Eternal form shall still divide, The eternal form shall still divide,
And I shall know her when we meet."
Jan. 11, 1887. J. F. WOODRIF.

INTERESTING READING MAT-TER ON FOURTH PAGE.

Quite a number of our country friends were in the city yesterday.
But little farm work can now be done, owing to the general frozen condition of the ground.
The Fair of the Knights of Labor closed last night. The receipts have proven all the managers could reasonably ask, and will aid the Knights greatly in their efforts to erect a lodge of their own.
The McDowell company rendered "Cammille" to a good house Friday night, and the comedy "Our Regiment" last night drew a full house. We unhesitatingly say this is the best company as a whole, that has ever visited Asheville.

A negro named Lawrence Williams, a railroad employe, was struck on the head yesterday evening at the depot by some white parties, receiving a bad wound. He was brought up town and his wounds attended by Dr. Watson.
Complaints still reach us from various sections of the failure of the CITIZEN to reach our subscribers.
We are endeavoring to prevent any mistake in our office, and whenever a specific complaint is made we will endeavor to have it corrected by the postoffice authorities.
The following beautiful little gem was found on the back of an old brief in a law office. The handwriting is peculiar, but easily recognized. It is not known whether the poem is original or who is the author. The cold cast-steel logic and clear reasoning of the brief contrast strangely with the tender pathos and beautiful sentiments of the poem:
"Tell me, my secret soul, O tell me, Hope and Faith, From sorrow, sin and death?
Is there no happy spot, Where mortals may be blest, Where grief may find a balm,
And rest a peaceful rest?
Faith, Hope and Love—best boons to mortal Ward their bright wings and whisper:
Yes, in Heaven."
FINE TURKIES.
Pratt and McIntire have 30 fine and fat turkeys, from Tennessee, which they will sell reasonably. Call and see them.
A GOOD CHASE.
Capt. Buck Thrush tells us of a splendid fox race on the mountains of Lower Hemlock during the recent heavy snow.
A red fox was started at 8 a. m. and run until 11 at night in snow ranging from 20 to 30 inches in depth, when he was finally caught; the direct line he made having been 17 miles, but this distance was probably doubled a dozen times.
Only three dogs that started in the race remained to the close. Capt. Thrush challenges the county for a better race.
Health is impossible when the blood is impure, thick and sluggish, or when it is thin and impoverished. Under such conditions, boils, pimples, headaches, neuritis, rheumatism, and one disease after another is developed. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it will make the blood pure, rich, warm and vitalizing. 14 ber of the best people in Western Carolina and East Tennessee, use the advermentioned, than any other paper. Rates are low, considering circulation.

WITH MANY THANKS
For the liberal custom given us, all last year and especially during December, we hope to deserve a continuance of the same. We have tried to carry a line of goods that would please all. Through the necessity of the very new and choice articles would cause us to be have asked but a reasonable profit on them, and tried to offer a good variety at all prices. Knowing that articles of real merit or artistic beauty are only appreciated here we hope to carry a better line than ever before, also in Crocker and Glassware in all trades.

THE ASHEVILLE LABOR AND LABOR CLUB.
An Asheville dispatch this explains an organization in our midst, to which reference has already been made:
"A land and labor club professing the principles advanced by Henry George has been formed in this city by Locke Craig and others. It is organized under the auspices of the central committee in New York of which John McLaughlin is chairman and Gaybert Barnes, secretary.
The Asheville club is designated in the party as Land and Labor Club No.
1 of the State of North Carolina. It is the inauguration of the Henry George movement in this State."
THE MENDENHALL QUINTETT CLUB.
This club will make its first appearance here to-morrow night, and we are pleased to know that the prospect is there will be a splendid attendance—a large majority of the reserve seats have already been taken. The company will give the highest commendation wherever it has appeared. The Rome Sentinel says of it:
"This musical organization is one of the oldest and best in the country. The only present member who was one of the founders is Thomas Ryan. Their music last evening delighted the audience, and each number was accorded liberal applause. As a company they have almost perfect, every passage and every note being carefully and delicately executed. The harmony produced by the instruments was excellent. Of Miss Alice Ryan nothing but good can be said. Although her voice is not of the strongest, it is sweet and clear. Her rendition of Lotti's "Bocca, Bocca, Bella," an Italian air, written about the year 1790, was artistic. Her voice is very flexible, and she has it under perfect control. Miss Ryan was rapturously applauded, and responded to an encore with "I've been Roaming," by Charles E. Horn. The concert was one of the most enjoyable ever heard here."

THE FARMER'S CONVENTION.
The convention of the farmers of the State convenes in Raleigh on the 18th. We presume the object is to consider any and all measures which it may be to the interest of farmers of the State to bring before the present Legislature. The cost from Asheville is $7.00 the round trip. Capt. Nat Atkinson and possibly others leave this morning for Raleigh to attend the convention.
THE PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION.
Capt. Thos. J. Monroe, chief engineer Carolina Central Railroad Company, has written to Col. Thad Coleman that he is ready to make the preliminary examination of the survey of the railway line between this point and Rutherfordton, pursuant to an order that effect from the authorities of the Carolina Central road. Capt. Monroe, in a letter to Capt. Atkinson, says:
"I am very glad that the people of your growing city have taken an interest in the extension of the Carolina Central Railroad, and I trust that the combined efforts of your city, the intervening counties, the C. C. R. itself, and others interested, that the extension of the C. C. R. may be early begun and finished to Asheville at an early date."
The Rev. Dr. McGlynn has decided not to oblige the sumptuous to Rome. The result in such cases is suspension from priestly offices.
The offense carries no personal dishonor in the church, and the suspended priest has the right at any time to have his case tried on his making submission.

Just What They All Say Hon. D. D. Hayes, of Salem, Ill., says he uses Dr. Woodcock's Compound Syrup in his family with the most satisfactory results in all cases of coughs, colds and croup, and recommends it in particular for little ones.

there by the track says: 'Look out for the locomotive.'" "Why, you fool I!" testily exclaimed the occupant of the carriage, "you are the party who is to do the looking out, 'I am? Well, how can I do that when I'm not inside?"
