The usual services Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Sunday school at 10 a. m. and services at 11. The Cora Van Tassel Comedy Company is billed for Asheville on the 10th 11th and 12th. It is highly complimented by the press. We regret to learn that Mr. X. Brand is quite sick at his residence on North Main street. His many friends hope he may soon be out again. The water pipes are being laid on North Main street, on Patton Avenue and on Bailey street. In a short time all the principal streets of the city will have a supply of water.

The small end of a cold wave reached us yesterday making it perceptibly cooler; but we are fondly hoping we will have no more blizzards this winter. Work will soon commence on two new and handsome store buildings to be erected on the old Pulliam residence lot on South Main street. One of the stores will be occupied by Messrs. Herren & Weaver. Sunday School and preaching Sunday morning at the church on Bailey street, the Rev. Mr. Carroll officiating. At 4 p. m. a church will be constituted, the Rev. Jos. E. Carter and other ministers assisting.

JUDGE ASHE DEAD. (Special to the Citizen.) RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 4, 1887. Judge Ashe died yesterday morning at Wadesboro, aged 77 years. He will be buried at that place Sunday. State oficers and Supreme Court Judges and officers will attend the funeral.

NEW COLLEGE BUILDINGS. Messrs. Atkins and Branner, of the Asheville Female College, have perfected their plans for the erection at once of a large and handsome building on the site of the present college building. It is to be 180x126 feet, four stories high, with living rooms in the building, the boarding house and the college to be consolidated, and is to be heated throughout by steam, with water in the building. There will be something over 100 rooms, with the chapel room or the second floor. Work will be commenced in about two weeks, the chapel will be ready for use by the time of the commencement this spring, and the whole building will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall session.

There is distress in Brooklyn ready because of lack of fuel, due to the strike of coal-handlers. This distress will become wide-spread at the North unless the strike is speedily ended. Maj. Henry Fink, who has been so long connected with the East Tennessee and Virginia system of roads, has it is said, been tendered the position of Chief Executive officer of the Richmond & Danville system. He has the question of acceptance under consideration, and will determine it in a few days. The Knoxville Journal, speaking of this appointment, says: "It is universally conceded that as a railroad man Maj. Fink is one of the most completely equipped in the whole country. Long experience and great natural ability combined, makes his services of value to any railroad system with which he may be connected."

THE LEGISLATURE

[Wednesday's session condensed from the News-Observer.] SENATE. Mr. Winston, a bill to exempt Goose Pond in Buncombe county, against the sale of liquor. The bill will relieve the sheriff of Bertie county, who lost several thousand dollars by the breaking of the National Bank at Norfolk—he having deposited in that bank money he had collected as sheriff—after some discussion was lost by a vote of 20 to 18. Senate bill 7, providing for an amendment to the constitution to exempt new manufacturing from taxation for five years, to encourage the introduction of industries, was taken up. The committee had reported adversely on the bill. After discussion the bill was defeated by a vote of 23 to 15. S. B. 102 was taken up. This bill was to provide for appeal to the superior court in cases where good bonds were refused acceptance by boards of county commissioners. The Judiciary committee had reported adversely to the bill. Considerable discussion was elicited during which Mr. Lenoir stated his objection to the bill was that it would give the state attorney general a right to appeal to the superior court in cases where good bonds were refused acceptance by boards of county commissioners. The bill was defeated by a vote of 27 to 13. HOUSE. The committee on penal institutions reported favorably on the bill to establish a department for the criminal insane and for the protection of the people. Mr. Mason, a bill to give physicians the benefit of the lien law, was taken up. The bill to establish a railroad commission for North Carolina was taken up as unfinished business. Considerable discussion followed, participated in by Messrs. Williams, Overman, York, Pritchard, Sutton, Fries, Ewart and Worth, and a motion to table was carried by a vote of 11 to 2. Pending discussion the House adjourned.

LYNCHBURG GIRLS AHEAD.

THEY RESOLVE TO PUT DOWN OR TAKE OFF THE FEMININE HIGH HAT AT THE THEATRE. [Lynchburg, News.] The city was startled yesterday by the announcement that the young ladies of the town had taken in hand the high hat business, and that resolutions had been unanimously adopted sympathizing with the young gentlemen and others who have to be tortured by high hats in front of them at the opera. The meeting was promptly called to order, Miss Consideration presiding, and on motion, the following resolutions were adopted with but one dissenting vote: Whereas, in view of the fact that we intend to attend the Opera House on the occasion of the appearance of Mlle Rhea, on Monday night, and Whereas, we deem it our duty to add as much to the pleasure of others as we may expect to enjoy ourselves, and Whereas, we have noticed that our high hats (on which is generally perched a lovely bird with much, but variegated plumage, calculated not only to obscure vision, but by the reflection of the brilliant rays of the sun, to injure the eyes of those who look at them, and Whereas, we are of the opinion that it is our duty to increase our height at the expense of our neighbor's comfort; therefore, be it most solemnly Resolved, That we will all attend the Opera House on Monday night, when that distinguished artist Mlle Rhea will appear, and we bind ourselves to appear without our high hats, and indeed to go without any at all if the weather will permit. Resolved, That we hereby urge our sisters to follow our example, and to do all in their power to aid us in breaking down the custom of wearing high hats at the opera. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in our city papers, and that a copy of them be forwarded to the families of any of the afflicted, and that a copy be sent to Mlle Rhea, with the request that she will use her best endeavors to have the spirit of these resolutions carried out, both in the interest of humanity and Christian charity, wherever she may be. Asheville girls are all such pretty and lovely creatures it is hard to decide whether they are more celebrated for their personal beauty, their engaging manners, or their general good sense. They keep step with the young men, to the music of the times, and never lag in needed social reforms which promote the comfort and happiness of others as well as their own. They will follow the example of the girls of Lynchburg to-night at the Amateurs' performance for the benefit of the Hospital. Now girls, won't you? The wife of Senator Ransom of North Carolina has educated all her boys for college. The Senator is a fine Roman himself, his pocket friend being Horace. The most dazzling neck and arms at the late Chinese ball in Washington were credited to Mrs. Daines, a Cuban lady. This is high praise, as the competition was said to be lively. The election of Turpie, dem., to the U. S. Senate by the Indiana Legislature—after a dead-lock of some two weeks—will be greeted with great satisfaction by the Democrats of the country. "Honest John O'Neil" was convicted of bribery, in having corruptly and feloniously agreed to sell his vote on the Broadway franchise for $20,000 while a member of the 1884 Board of Aldermen. The apparently reliable statement that Dr. McGlynn will go to Rome as soon as his health permits gives satisfaction to a large majority of his friends, who agree with the advice given to him by Michael Davitt. A genuine sensation has been the outcome of the suit of Abbe Roussel against Mlle. Annette Harahoux for forging the former's name to a check for 1,000 francs. The defense of the woman is that a liaison has existed between her and the abbe since she was 15 years old, and that, seeing that he was tired of their relations toward each other, she induced the abbe to sign the check while drunk. A Danville dispatch of Thursday gives the following additional particulars of the recent wreck on the Virginia Midland road by which 25 freight cars were wrecked: Fire broke out at the Virginia Midland wreck this morning and a special train was sent from this city with a fire-engine and hose. The train has not yet returned, and as there is no telegraphic communication with the scene nothing definite can be learned as to the extent of the fire. It must be several days yet before trains can pass over the trestle. All railroad communication is cut off, as it is impossible to make the transfer across the deep ravine, and the mails have to come by the Richmond and Danville route. Trains on this road are late and the Northern mails are eighteen hours behind time.

STATE NEWS.

Capt. W. W. Lenoir, of Watauga, came near being seriously hurt a few days since by his saddle turning with him while his horse was running. He was thrown to the ground and dragged a short distance, but the girl breaking saved him from any serious injury. Henderson Gold Leaf: Farmers should plant liberally of peas. The pea crop is the clover for the South, because a better substitute for clover cannot be found than peas vines, both for hay and enriching the soil. There is nothing that can be successfully grown that will enrich land as fast as peas vines. Says the Charlotte Observer of Thursday: "From a gentleman who came up from Wadesboro yesterday it was learned that Judge Ashe is rapidly sinking, and his death is almost hourly looked for. It is stated that for several days he has been in an unconscious condition, and unable to recognize the immediate members of his family. All hope of his recovery has been abandoned." Says the Durham News of Feb. 4: "C. C. Oakley has introduced a bill in the Legislature to prevent fraud and intimidation in political campaigns. Right he is. The country will be in a prosperous state when the colored man can vote the Democratic ticket without fear of ostracism by his own race, and the Republican senators quit saying that 'A nigger has no right to be Democrat.' Glad we are to see Mr. Oakley in the right path." In Nashville, this State, a few days since, three armed men rode up to the store of John Williams, a merchant, and called for the proprietor. When Williams presented himself the men demanded his money and safe key. He told them that the key was in his room. When he went to get the key he got a gun loaded with buckshot and fired through the front door. One of the outlaws was fatally injured in the high-heel. The remaining man fled unharmed. The wounded man has died. He declined any revelation whatever. A Washington dispatch says that Gen. W. R. Cox will undoubtedly be appointed by the President to the Turkish mission as soon as his Congressional term ends, on March 4th. Mr. Douglas, the managing correspondent of the New York Times' bureau, says Gen. Cox the following well-deserved compliment: "It is understood that the successful S. S. Cox, as minister to Turkey, is to be Representative W. R. Cox of North Carolina, and that his appointment will be made soon enough before the adjournment of Congress to permit the Senate to act upon his nomination. Mr. Cox is a man of good education. He served in the Confederate Army, commanding a division as Brigadier General at Appomattox, and has served in Congress three terms. He is a man of the strictest integrity, of good address, and of industrious habits, and his appointment will be regarded with great favor by those who know the man." V. W. A Winnipeg, Manitoba, special says the towns along the Pacific at the base of the Rocky Mountains have been snowed up for a week.
