INTERESTING READING MATTER ON FOURTH PAGE.
R. R. Jones, at the Pioneer No. 23 South Main street, opened the season for Mixed Drinks on the 15th of April, and will continue to serve them throughout the season. Milk Punches, Big Yellow, Whiskey Punches, Sanguares, and other mixed drinks called for, delivered free of charge, anywhere within the fire limits of the city.
We must have Aston or Harkins, Which?
Remember to vote for Aston and Asheville to-morrow.
Two hundred and three arrivals at Sibley's hotel during the month of April.
A young lady wanted, to become cashier of Turner's new restaurant. See notice.
A large number of people were on the street yesterday. Everybody seemed to be interested in something.
We are indebted to the Advance for the use of the cut elsewhere of the new building of the Asheville Female College.

The Sunday afternoon services at the Second Baptist Church on Bailey street will be held at 5 o'clock p. m. instead of 4:30 as now. This is the arrangement for the summer.
Zachary & Zachary received on Friday evening 12 Fatheps and 20 fat steers from Transylvania. They are doing their best to keep us in good meat, if we do go without butter.
Mr. Buckman's grand enterprise is attracting considerable interest on the part of our people. It involves the investment of several hundred thousand dollars now and later.
Mr. Jesse R. Starass will this week commence the erection of a three-story brick building on the present site of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, on North Main street.
Our people must work and vote and vote. We have very serious business on hand, and we must get right down to it like men. If we elect Aston and his ticket we have got to work, and work hard. Vote for Aston, and his ticket. A vote for this ticket is a vote for Asheville.

"SHAKE."
Pelham's "Milk Shake" is simply superb, made of pure rich Jersey milk, nicely flavored, and shaken up in a style to make it truly delicious. The little shaker is worth a king's ransom in the manner in which it is operated. Call and try this new and delightful drink.
GETTING ORIENTAL.
Messrs. Herring and Weaver have just received a very handsome addition to their stock of ladies' fine shoes and slippers. Among the stock is something very unique, elegant slippers. They are genuine Turkish slippers in various colors of Prussian, Russian and Persian leather. They are beauties, and look very comfortable. Call and see them.
RATIFICATION MEETING.
A large number of our citizens met last night to ratify the nominations of Messrs. Aston and Halyburton, Walker and Fitzpatrick. We close our press too early to give full proceedings. Enthusiastic speeches were made by different speakers, and all indicated a deep and earnest anxiety on the part of the people concerning the election to-morrow. Now to work, friends.
A LITTLE IRREGULAR.
But not enough to be noticed and perfectly sound, 200 sets Parisian Porcelain Plates 55c set. Hand Teas 55c. Best triple plate knives 1.85 set. Spoons and forks low in proportion. These are the bargains of the season (while the goods last.) Always the very lowest prices on Glassware, Lamps and Crockery. Law's Silver and China Hall, South Main Street.
New goods of various kinds received in the last few days. H. REDWOOD & CO.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.
For Mayor,
HON. E. J. ASTON.
For Aldermen,
MESSRS. R. P. WALKER, A. G. HALYBURTON, R. L. FITZPATRICK.
Parties have a list of the civic, and we are into one who attempts to vote to-morrow.
The regular meeting of the Tobacco Association will not be held until Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.
Mr. Henry Rogers, of Buffalo, New York, is in the city, attending the big land sale to take place to-morrow. He is greatly pleased with Western Carolina.
Mr. G. M. Blumenthal, of Saltillo, Mexico, has reached here with a view of locating. He will soon be joined by his family. We welcome him as a citizen.
Working men, Business men of Asheville, your good, your direct interests, the future of Asheville are at stake. To-morrow you must decide that which favors all these interests very seriously. We want an effort, for any cause, to make a mistake, or permit one to be made. Secure the election of the Aston ticket.

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
The following Executive Committee has been appointed for the city of Asheville:
Jos. S. Adams, chairman; T. C. Westall and E. C. Chambers.
A MARVELOUSLY FINE SHOWING.
The Spartanburg Herald says:
"The census of Asheville has just been completed. The population amounts to 7,258. In 1880 the city had according to the census then taken, 2,616 souls. This shows an increase of nearly two hundred per cent in less than seven years. A marvellously fine showing for our sister city."
IMPORTANT SALE TO-MORROW.
Mr. C. W. Malone, commissioner, will sell Monday at the court house door in Asheville, eleven thousand acres of splendid land. This land lies in Jackson and Transylvania counties, and is said to be valuable for the quality of its soil, timber, and mineral prospects. This is a rare chance for a safe investment. One of the projected railroads from the South to Asheville will run through this land.
CLOSE DOORS.
It has been suggested that all of our business men close their doors to-morrow, and devote the day to working for Asheville. The Aston ticket will be elected if good earnest work can secure it. Let the day be spent in earnest efforts and appeals in behalf of that ticket which promises best for our city. No one can reasonably hesitate which ticket that is. Close doors, gentlemen, and let the work begin.

THE TOWN FULL OF LOAFERS.
This is the caption of the following from the Augusta News. The writer does not seem to be discriminative, and does not distinguish between streets full of transient visitors, whose business for the time is idleness—loafing if you please—and the resident population. We venture to say that among those last there is less loafing than in any place of its size in the South. There are mostly some things to do and attend to. A place growing as Asheville is naturally attracts many from other places in search of employment; and among these will be found those with "no money and no means," for places cannot be found for all.
Three young men of this city intended going to Asheville or vicinity next month to obtain employment to pay expenses while there, but was much discouraged on receiving the following from Asheville:
"There are more loafers here than I ever saw in any town of the size. The streets are full of them, many asking for clerkships. The cause is hunting employment and failing to get it; no money and no means. Print this to warn those who would otherwise be benighted. Business in every department is strained to its utmost capacity and my advice to those who would seek a place where money getting on trees is to stay where they are if they make a living, or go elsewhere and save expense."
MARRIAGE OF MR. ALDRICH AND MISS COLYER.
The Statesville Landmark thus alludes to the recent marriage of our young friend Mr. L. C. Aldrich:
"Mr. Locke Chunn Aldrich, a locomotive engineer on the Western North Carolina Railroad and the eldest son of Mr. Lester S. Aldrich, the veteran who ran the first engine ever on this road, was married yesterday to Miss Edith Colyer, at the residence of the bride's father in this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. P. Waters, of Morganton, in the presence of a company of about 40, and was followed by a handsome wedding breakfast which did great credit to Mrs. Colyer and which was much enjoyed by the guests. The breakfast was hardly disposed of and fireworks sent before train time was at hand, and at 12:38 the bride and groom left on the western train for Black Mountain station, where a largely attended reception will be given them this evening by their parents. Mr. Aldrich is a most worthy and exemplary young man and his bride is an amiable and highly esteemed young lady who will make in all respects an excellent wife. The young couple has the Landmark's very best wishes and its congratulations upon the auspicious beginning of their married life."
The Citizen most sincerely unites with the Landmark in good wishes and congratulations.

Health Notes.
The summer is once more on us, and while we may, in our excellent climate, reasonably hope to pass through it without a visitation of the frightful scourges which are so terrible in some parts of the South, yet we must expect the usual amount of summer troubles. Among these, diarrhoea or summer complaint is most to be dreaded. Fortunately this may be rendered harmless by using Dr. Lytle's Elixir, which should be found in every family.

ASHEVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE—THE NEW BUILDING.

The Asheville Female College has been a source of very extensive social and educational influence for all the Southern States for more than forty years. Back in the days before the war when we had no railroads it was not unusual to see a score of carriages on the day before opening drive up to the classic campus bearing the daughters of the wide-awake planters, lawyers, merchants, etc., from the surrounding States.
As the Asheville Academy it was presided over by Dr. Dixon, who has slept for many years in the Presbyterian churchyard. A simple but beautiful monument, erected to his memory by his pupils, commemorates his virtues and their devotion to him.
As the Western Conference Female College it was presided over by Drs. Rowley, Carlisle and Cummings. It passed into its present name and relations as the Asheville Female College under the presidency of Rev. James S. Kennedy, D. D. The institution has throughout the South hundreds of alumnae, who will rejoice with the citizens of Asheville and the present patronage at the sight of so magnificent and commodious a house as that which is now arising on the summit of the beautiful campus.

The new College building, the picture of which is given above, will be ready for the reception of pupils by the 1st of September. It contains under one roof study and class rooms, a magnificent chapel, library, literary and missionary halls, studio and art gallery, museum, dining hall and bath rooms, double parlors and sleeping chambers for family, faculty and more than one hundred pupils—2 pupils to the room. The auditorium will be in two parts, one for work and the other for exhibiting paintings. It is of two stories height, and is lighted with both lateral and sky-lights. The observatory is 85 feet in height, and will command a view of the city and of the scenery which environ it, for twenty miles. The house has 680 feet of handsome veranda. It is to be heated by the best steam heater throughout both halls and sleeping apartments. The sleeping rooms are furnished with open grates also, to be used in case they are preferred. This prudent arrangement insures the adaptation of the house to the wants and necessities of all who may come.

The proprietors are making arrangements for the shipment of some extra quality German pianos from a Berlin manufactory and also for some of the best American makes. The house is to be finely carpeted and furnished throughout with new and elegant furniture.
There can be no doubt but that this enterprise and expenditure on the part of the present administration will be appreciated by the patronizing territory and result in a larger increase of patronage. New engagements from Virginia, Wisconsin and elsewhere have already been made for places in the fall term.

The patronage of the last year was 18. The patronage under the present administration has extended to Southern States.
The teacher of instrumental music is Miss Thekla Burnmeister, of Germany, who is a sister of Richard Burnmeister, of the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore. Her playing is exquisite and her presence at the College assures the public that the advantages here given in music are not to be excelled anywhere.
An engagement will in a few days be concluded with a distinguished singer and teacher to take charge of vocal music.
This new edifice will be one of the handsomest and most imposing structures in the city. Mr. A. L. Melton, the Architect, has devoted much time and pains to the work, and in the design has evidenced a taste, skill and ability rarely excelled.
The present management of the Institution is an able and successful one, and the future of the College promises greater results and blessings than it has ever accomplished in the past.

THE WORKING COMMITTEE.
The following gentlemen have been appointed a working committee for to-morrow's election:
A. R. Cooley, J. H. Carter, Milton Jarvis, A. T. Summey, L. Swiggood, Dr. J. M. Stevens, C. E. Graham, J. Y. Jordan, N. T. Chambers, Duke Hall, Wm. D. Johnston, J. H. McKenna, E. B. Lockwood, Dr. E. Baird, J. H. Woody, F. S. H. Reynolds, L. C. Baird, Thos. Young, C. F. McCarthy, C. E. Lee, J. M. Ingle, B. C. Barnard, Jesse Starnes, J. A. Branner, James Sevier, J. R. Rich.

BROOM CORN.
The Citizen has had a good deal to say in the past about the value of broom corn, and it has nothing to take back. There is a broom factory here now, and our arguments are strengthened. The farmers have a market for a new product, and the factory keeps the money at home to circulate here. Every housekeeper must have a broom, and the North sends them to us. That's the way the money goes.
On this subject the Lynchburg Advance says:
"We know of no crop which will pay the farmer better, or cost less producing. The factory here, though yet in its incipency, turns out an average of fifty-five dozen brooms every day, and employs about twenty-five hands, at good wages. Many orders are on file, which it has been impossible to fill. With increased facilities, which will soon be provided, the factory will produce at least five times as many, and there is ready sale for all. Our country friends will readily see the value of broom corn as one of the most valuable products of their farms, and we assure them that broom cannot raise too much. It costs less than tobacco; is more easily raised and handled, and pays a much better profit.
Besides, it has been demonstrated that we can raise better broom corn here than can be imported from abroad. Raise broom corn!"

INVESTIGATING THE ASHEVILLE AND SPARTANBURG RAILROAD.
"The Columbia Record informs us that the Railroad Commission will leave that place next Wednesday morning about 9:30 o'clock for Spartanburg. They will go on a special train tendered to their use by General Manager Thomas of the R. & D. system. The object of the Commission's trip is to carry out the resolution adopted at the late session of the General Assembly of South Carolina, which resolution commands the Commission to investigate the management of the Asheville & Spartanburg railroad, and ascertain if the largest amount of business done therefor is done in the interest of towns, counties and individuals who contributed to building of the road."

CITY AFFAIRS.
The Board of Aldermen were in regular session yesterday morning. Mayor Aston and Aldermen Powell, Murray, Scott and Rankin present.
The petition of the Asheville Street Railway Company, for the running of a dummy street railway from Patton Avenue down Bailey street and across the French Broad, was considered, and passed its first reading. [The petition is published in full elsewhere.]
A proposition from Mr. H. A. Gudger to remove the rubbish from the city was accepted.
The question of a graded school in Asheville being considered, the following resolution was adopted:
Resolved, That an election be and is hereby ordered to be held on the 16th of June, 1887, by the qualified voters of the city of Asheville, under the provisions of "an act in relation to public schools in the city of Asheville," ratified the 7th day of February, 1887, a certified copy of the same from the Secretary of State now on file in the office of the Secretary of the city.
An erroneous statement of "Gath" recently cited the case of Spartanburg, South Carolina, an illustration of the immense growth of prohibition in the South. The statement continues to go the round, although it was some days ago corrected by our occasional correspondent "Boggy" in letters to the Cincinnati Enquirer and The Star. The fact is, that Spartanburg voted for prohibition twice—"went dry" as the local phrase goes—but, the experiment proving detrimental to business, and a failure as a temperance measure, it "went wet" and voted for a license law at the most recent election at which the question was submitted to the people.

HIGH BEEF AND LOW FENCE.
Asheville beef is higher than the Asheville "political" fence which separates the two parties, for we have paid Mr. W. A. Fuller of Transylvania county, since Feb. 19th, for 94 steers, $338 17.—and the fence is so low that a man of Mr. F.'s stature can occupy both sides. Success to Mr. F., however! And our customers seem to entertain the same sentiment, for they buy three of our steers every day. We received 20 steers last evening, which will be sold daily at No. 12 North Public Square.
Very respectfully,

VOTERS OF ASHEVILLE.
It is said that when the sober, thoughtful people of this country have facts fairly before them they generally act wisely and justly.
This fact was verified by the action of our citizens in committee assembled on Friday night, in nominating the one above all others best equipped for Mayor of our city. We congratulate our people on the good judgment they have manifested, but we warn as well as congratulate our people. Nomination may not in this case mean election. We warn there is danger from the enemy that confronts us. If we would make effective the good work we have begun we must not slacken our efforts until the matter is placed beyond doubt by the votes we can poll on Monday.
Let every man lay aside personal considerations and give himself to this one work until we can proclaim to an anxious public that E. J. Aston is again the Mayor of the city.
We want Anglo-Saxon rule.
ASHEVILLE.

A telegram to the News-Observer of the 28th says: One of the most remarkable and horrible accidents on record, marred the pleasure of yesterday's railway celebration at Clinton. Some of the companies of the Second Regiment were in the procession, in command of Colonel William C. Jones, of Wilmington, the gallant young colonel of the regiment. Colonel Jones rode at a home. The animal went fairly wild at a noise and unusual sights and dashed into a group of marshals. Colonel Jones was thrown from the horse and his sword, which was in his right hand, struck A. James, one of the marshals, fairly with the point in the back near the spine and transfixed him, his point protruding three inches beyond the breast-bone, and then snapped near the guard. The blade was pulled out by the point. Colonel Jones was stunned and is utterly unmanly by the dreadful occurrence. Physicians say there are hopes that James may live.

THE WORLD TURNED UPSIDE DOWN.—Steele Mackay has his own ideas about how to bring up children. Recently, in a conversation with a gentleman, he said:
"I never whip my boys. I do not think that a father is justified in using force to train his children. When any of my boys are disobedient I make them whip me. They feel that much more than if I punish them. Recently I overheard two of my boys quarrelling, and one said to the other:
"If you don't stop that dad will make you lick him."

65th ANNIVERSARY OF GEN. U. S. GRANT'S BIRTH DAY IN ATHENS, TENN.
GRANT MEMORIAL UNIVERSITY.
ATHENS, TENN., April 28, '87.
Editor of the Citizen.—As your Buncumbite hasn't given you any dots from Athens for some time, he thinks this a splendid opportunity to "put in." The students of the University here last year petitioned the Faculty to give the 27th of April as a holiday, as that was the birth day of General Grant, in memory of who the University had been named. But the Faculty declined to grant the request. The students became somewhat indignant at this and almost every student positively refused to attend chapel in the morning or recitations during the day. This caused considerable excitement throughout the country and was known as the famous strike at Grant Memorial. So it seems as if the strike had been effective. This year it was announced several months before hand that the 27th April would be inaugurated as a holiday in memory of him whose name the institution bears. The morning of the 27th dawned delightful and before 10 o'clock more than one thousand people had arrived from the country, and by train. Among these were at least two hundred battle-scarred veterans who had bared their bosoms to the storms of battle and persecution during the dark ordeals of the late war. At 11 o'clock the people thronged into the University Chapel where they were entertained by appropriate music and patriotic speeches by Dr. Spence, Capt. Wm. Rale, of Knoxville, Dr. Carter, of Chattanooga, and others. Governor Taylor had been expected, but by noon a telegram had been received from him, stating that owing to rush of official business he could not be present. About 3 o'clock a fine dinner was served on the campus, picnic style, after which the people listened to short, witty and patriotic speeches from both the Blue and the Gray. The Grand Army of the Republic was well represented and added greatly to the exercises by engaging in Bellum tricks generally. The G. A. R. are making preparations to erect a Science Hall in connection with the University this summer, in memory of Gen. Logan. The school is on a boom here as well as the town. She sends out 17 seniors this year and has an enrollment of 300.
BUNCUMBITE.

For the Asheville Citizen.
The Morganton Star says: Col. S. Med. Tate has been appointed National Bank Inspector with a salary of $3500, and mileage and expenses.
—Mr. C. E. McKesson has been appointed U. S. Commissioner for Burke county.
Inquiry was made the other day for the flag borne by the North Carolina regiment (Col. Payne's) in the war with Mexico. The flag cannot be found. The flag-staff was found here in an out-of-the-way place, and has been presented to the Governor.
The Venable Military School at Asheville is to be equipped with arms, &c., by the State next week. There are now seven military schools in the State. The State Agricultural and Mechanical College will have a military department, even though the Legislature struck that feature out in the act establishing the college.
The Greensboro Patriot says: The result of the work of Caswell court last week was the sending of Willis Lea, for horse stealing to the pen for 10 years, Wyatt Henderson for watch stealing 7 years; Rev. Matt Stephens, corn stealing, 6 years; Allen Jackson, (a consumptive for hospital treatment) for leather stealing, one year, all colored.

The Charlotte Observer says: Work was yesterday begun on the new railroad between Monroe, N. C., and Atlanta, Ga. Several contracts have been let between Monroe and Chester, S. C., but the authorities of the road seem as yet undetermined on which side of Monroe to form the junction with the Carolina Central. This will however, be settled in a few days, when work will be started at Monroe. It is understood that several contractors will begin work in a few days.
The Kinston Free Press says Mr. Alfred Wingate was drowned at Kelly's mill pond, near this place, Sunday week.
The man was missed by his people but they felt no uneasiness about him till the next day. They then found his fishing nets and tackle missing, and going to the pond found a boat with his coat and a lot of fish in it and made a strict search for his body, but could not be found. They searched for a week, until it was found—the Sunday following the one on which he was drowned.
It is supposed that he was drunk and fell out of the boat and was drowned while in that condition.
He was a poor man and drank a good deal of liquor, but was reputed to be honest. He leaves a wife and two or three children.
