SWEET CHARITY.
The congregation of the First Baptist Church have raised sixty dollars to support an orphan child at the Thomasville Orphanage, and all the money has been paid in. This is like our friends—they always do things of this kind graciously and well.

which prevailed, the moon being completely obscured by heavy black clouds which hung very low and like a pall over the doomed district. Rumbles were heard from depths below which gradually became louder and numerous Springs hidden for years sudden found opening and began to bubble upward in constantly increasing streams. The terrified inhabitants not pausing for household goods or chattels, gathered their offspring and rushed away from the doomed spot, and some of them are still putting as much distance between them and the sinking land as possible.
Loss of property incalculable. A large area of corn and tobacco is a total loss.

The CITIZEN, with latest Associated Press Dispatches will be found regularly at all hotels and news-stands in the city. When the supply may be exhausted at those places, call at the office.
Our telegraphic dispatches are very interesting.
Mr. M. L. Lee, a prominent merchant of Goldsboro, N. C., is in the city.
No mails since Monday—with our scissors idle, it is a little difficult to edit a paper.
Real estate has been moving in Asheville during the past two weeks—along the streets.
The beautiful residence of Mr. A. J.
Lyman, on Merrimon Avenue, is nearing completion.
An Eley on a Muddy Pavement attracted considerable attention and interested in our city yesterday.
We were greatly pleased to see Gen' Vance on our streets yesterday. He is still feeble, but improving rapidly.
The Grain and Grass Exhibit opens to-day in the Farmers' Warehouse.
Admission free to all. Be sure and call.
The DAILY CITIZEN is not only rapidly increasing in circulation in the city, but out of it. We are bounding onward now.
Mr. R. A. Hunter and his force laid over 1400 feet of gas mains down on Chestnut street yesterday, reaching White Pine street.
Mr. McIntosh, and Mr. Mark Rhinehart, Dr. Allen, of Waynesville, and Mr.
Frank Smith, of Franklin, reached the city yesterday, to attend the druggists' convention to-day.
We hear that the Opera of Red Riding Hood will be reproduced next week.
We sincerely hope the next entertainment will not have such weather to contend with.
Our subscribers at Peck post office, Madison county, and Turnpike, complain of not getting their papers. We do insist that post masters and route agents give more attention to these matters. There must be gross carelessness somewhere.
Water-mains are being extended from E. corner of Charlotte down Chestnut to White Pine street. It will prove a great convenience to that immediate section—whenever the pump on the summit can persuade that festive straggler into our majestic stand pipe.
Our people were delighted yesterday with one of the most brilliant showers of rain of the season. For about ten minutes the performance held a very large audience spell-bound, so to speak. It cooled the atmosphere, and had a rather pressing effect upon the dust, it did good.
Solicitor J. M. Moody returned from Madison Court yesterday. The only important case on the criminal docket was that of Pinckney Knox, colored, charged with burglary with the intent to commit rape. He pleaded guilty to an assault with intent to commit rape, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Messrs.
Morrow and Rumbough were assigned by the court to the defense, Solicitor Moody represented the State.
Judge Montgomery is dispatching business with ability and energy. He is now engaged on the civil docket, and will probably be engaged all of this and the next week.
Our people and authorities are giving very earnest and thoughtful consideration to the graded school organization.
The most important step in this enterprise will be the first taken, and upon that will depend to a very large degree the success or failure of the school. The best, most conservative business men, men acquainted with the general principles and principles of such a school, should be chosen on the board of managers, and these should exercise the greatest care in the selection of officers. If this school is made a success it will be worth very much more than it will cost, in many respects, to our city. We, and one people are very anxious to see it start out with the very best foot foremost.

SCRAPE OF THE MUD.
We suggest again, and do so at the urgent solicitation of a large number of our citizens, that the mud on Main street and Patton Avenue be scraped off now before it becomes compact. It is certainly offensive, as mud or dust, for its smell is mud, or inhaling it as dust, is not only offensive, but may be otherwise seriously objectionable. Scrape off the mud, and save us now and hereafter.
ADDING TO THE DISPENSARY.
Mr. V. L. Norman, representing Messrs. Hall & Ruckel, importers and manufacturers of medicines, has added to the splendid display being made of druggists' goods, etc., in the court room, aluded to yesterday. And Mr. Norman has contributed to the display most handsomely. The whole affair is most attractive, and the druggists, physicians and the ladies especially are invited to call and examine.
There being no room for further addition in the court room, Mr. S. Bryant, representing Messrs. Powers, Taylor & Co., wholesale druggists of Richmond, has opened an elegant display in a room situated on the corner of Main and call down and examine.
JUMPED THE TRACK.
A freight car, attached to the division train on the Murphy Division, jumped the track yesterday near Cross-ties, and ran across a trestle on horns before the train could be stopped. It was a right lively job, and a narrow escape, but no damage was done, and nobody was hurt.

WHAT BUNCOMBE SOIL WILL DO FOR COLLARDS.
Last winter our progressive townsmen Col. Joe Branner, proprietor of the Asheville Greenhouses, sent to eastern Carolina and procured some regular full-blooded collard seed. Collards down in that country grow anywhere from five to seven feet tall, and whole families can subsist not only under but on the branches thereof. Mr. Branner's anxiety to secure those things which stand highest as vegetable food plants, prompted him to get these collard seeds. He sowed them in his green house; when they were about three inches high he transplanted some to two-inch flower crops, with just about two square inches of Buncombe soil as nourishment. They were placed out in the garden where they could get the weather and latter rains, the dews of heaven and the sympathetic rains of a July sun. The plants flourished and fattened upon that Buncombe soil, but when they had reached the modest height of about two or one-half feet they halted, and "so to speak, and fell up and round out, and turned out to be as pretty white, hard, round cabbage heads as one could want, weighing at this time about four or five lbs.
Mr. E. L. Brown, at Sawyer's, (who came from the east himself), is exhibiting one of these collard-cabbages with great delight, as showing what Buncombe soil will do if given a fair chance. When it comes to turning an eastern collard to a mountain cabbage he thinks the principle of evolution is getting in his best tricks.
Mr. Branner, while disappointed in his collard experiment, is rather fascinated with his cabbage luck, and visions of a new and, possibly, unodoriferous grade of kraut please him in his dreams. He has always thought there was a missing link between the kraut business, and he thinks the cross between an eastern collard and a mountain cabbage will supply the link.
Col. Williamson submits this problem: if two square inches of Buncombe soil will make a five-pound cabbage out of a collard, what would a whole acre of our soil produce? We shudder to think of it.

THE FESTIVE FLY AND ITS ENEMY.
Fly paper is a mean invention which does grievous injury to the tender and confiding nature of a fly.
Being moist and soft and sticky, it appeals to him as being something good to eat. Alighting he gets one foot mired and doesn't like it.
Nothing but complete freedom of movement satisfies an American fly. He beats the air with his wings and tails to get loose. A happy thought strikes him. He uses the other hind leg to pry out the first, and gets that leg into trouble.
Then he thinks if he puts down his two middle legs and pushes rear hard, something will break loose.
The experiment is a failure. He then yells for help, and other flies come to his rescue. They interlace legs and pull, but find the fly still fast. Then they roll him on his back, thinking he may be easier in that position, but he is anchored firmer than ever. Then they ask him to remain just where he is until after luncheon, and not get stuck up any more, and then they go off and forget all about him. He remains feebly gesticulating with his two remaining legs, and finally gets tired and abandons himself to death.
Subsequently the paper is thrown into the back yard, where a toad steps on it, and it takes him a week to comb the flies and pith out of his fur.

OUR CANADA FISHERY QUESTION.
[By telegraph to the Asheville Citizen.] CHICAGO, August 3.—A Times special from Ottawa, Ontario, says: Deputy Minister of Fisheries informed correspondent last night that an order had been issued by the Government releasing, on condition of their paying mere nominal fine, all American fishing schooners recently seized within the alleged prescribed 3-mile limit. There is evidently something in the wind and development toward an amicable settlement of the fishery trouble of the department. It is evident a climax has been reached and an amicable settlement of the great fishery troubles is in the near future.
