The Citizen, with latest Associated Press Dispatches will be found regularly at all hotels and news-stands in the city. When the supply may be exhausted at those places, call at the office.

Rev. W. R. Atkinson, of Charlotte, is in the city.
The weather yesterday was as near perfect as we can have it in the summer time.

Dr. H. A. Costner of Chicago, a native and former resident of the Old North State, is at the Battery Park.

Bishop Northrop will conduct divine services at St. Lawrence (Catholic) church this morning at 11 o'clock. The public invited.

Col. Thos. B. Keogh, of the Greensboro North State is in the city, stopping with his family, at Battery Park. We were pleased to meet our friend.

Last week a gentleman came from Catawba county for treatment for his wife at the hands of Drs. Hargan & Gatchell, having seen their advertisement in the Citizen. It pays to advertise in the Citizen.

Rev. J. G. Schaidt, late pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church, Knoxville, Tenn., will preach at the First Baptist church this Sunday morning, and Pastor Dr. W. A. Nelson at night, at the usual hours.

Mr. A. H. VanBokken of Wilmington, with Mrs. VanBokken are at Mr. A. T. Sonney's, having visited the Hot Springs, and also the Waynesville Sulphur. The health of Mr. Van B. is about what it was when he first came up.

Rev. Jas. Y. Fair, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Charlotte, N. C., will preach in the Presbyterian church of this place this morning. The services will be unusually interesting as the Pastor Rev. W. S. P. Bryan will be regularly installed. Mr. Fair enjoys a splendid reputation as a pulpit orator.

The Knoxville Journal says: "One of the noblest of Asheville now is a new hotel, large enough to accommodate all who may wish to visit our beautiful city, and fitted up with modern appliances."

Never mind about this neighbor, tell your visitors to come over to Asheville—we have the hotel accommodation there would want, and they can run over to Knoxville every morning, attend to their business, and return to their hotel in this city at night.

The Transylvania Pioneer says: "The Citizen takes us to task for publishing the killing of forty-two rattlesnakes at one time in this county, as it might deter people from coming here. That might be so, and we should have stated that the place where they were killed was an almost inaccessible region in the mountains. Very few citizens of this county, or even the oldest inhabitants, have ever seen a rattlesnake."

This is putting the incident in its proper relation. We would not have the mountain country stripped of all the subjects of adventure. We like to hear that somewhere in the depths of the wilderness a bear, a wild cat or even a panther might be found to give zest to a tour. In these wilds a rattlesnake does not come as a surprise, for it gives point to the corner grocery or even the quiet fireside when the hero of an adventure returns to his home. What we object to in the item in the Pioneer was the impression conveyed that rattlesnakes were lying about loose everywhere in Transylvania.

The Allman House, FRANKLIN, N. C. One of the best hotels in the State, where neatness, comfort, elegant fare elegantly served, can always be found in the above house at Franklin, N. C., now under the management of Mr. S. P. Brittain. There is no more inviting place in the country for a sojourn than Franklin and the fact is shown that it is appreciated by the rapidly increasing number of visitors. And Mr. Brittain gives to his guests such accommodations as ensure satisfaction, and induces prolonged stay. The Allman House has been crowded all the summer, so we are informed.

We are now receiving our fall importations, and goods especially selected from leading makers. All are invited to examine our large and varied stock—replete with the latest novelties and fancy goods—before buying. You will find here not only one of the largest, but also the most complete and best selected assortment of China, Glass, Silver, Cutlery, etc., etc., in the State. The lowest prices always at Law's, 59 S. Main st.

William Gooch, sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty years for the killing of Mr. Cheatham in Raleigh, has escaped.

Judge Hall yesterday was thought to have slightly improved, a change which was gladly hailed by many anxious friends.

Knoxville wants a soap factory. We have thought for some time she needed one. So much lye ought not to go to waste.

The Charlotte Chronicle calls an attempt at burglary "a midnight Silhouette." We feared we would get down to this sooner or later. Federal aid to education is evidently not needed in the Charlotte precinct.

State Treasurer Bain advises sheriffs of the State to make no further arrests of drummers selling or offering to sell without license until after the November term of the Federal court at Raleigh, but to take the names of all such for possible future use.

Chedister has declared his independence. Yesterday afternoon the Lone Star flag was flung to the breeze. The Star six feet from point to point was a mere twinkler way up yonder; but the broad stripes were not dimmed in splendor. It is a Washington flag.

The Brevard Pioneer says: "We are informed by those who profess to know, that while the corn which was overflown in the late freshet has been damaged considerably, yet seasons have been so very favorable that twice as much will be made this year as last, notwithstanding the damage by water."

The Franklin Press gives the following: "In removing Mr. J. Johnson's old wooden store house last week, the workmen found beneath the floor a Spanish coin a hundred and sixty-four years old."

Uncle Jack lost this coin when he and it were both young. We are glad he has recovered it.

The Salisbury Watchman says: "There is no market in the State, that, for an abundance of things to subsist upon, will excel ours. We have everything, of every kind that other people have, and more besides." Yes, and as many handsome women to the square yard as any place we have ever known.

The many friends of Miss Nellie Moreland will be pleased to learn that she has returned to Asheville for the summer. She is accompanied by her handsome, intelligent cousin, Miss Annie Raphael of Mobile, Alabama, and by Mr. and Mrs. Wylie of the same city. They are stopping with Mr. W. T. Reynolds on Woodfin street. We hope their visit will be a pleasant one.

Henry O. Marcy, M. D., of Boston, Mass., President of the Climatological Bureau of the International Congress to meet soon in Washington, D. C., was in the city a day or two ago. Dr. Marcy wrote a paper some time ago which he read before the American Medical Association, the afterwards published in pamphlet form, on the climate of Western North Carolina. This paper was the direct result of a personal investigation of the climate and country the author having traveled this portion of the State on horseback and in carriage. We hope that some of the foreign delegations may come up to the mountains to see what we have here in the way of climate, scenery and real estate.

The Lenoir Topics says: "At a 'Bazaar' held in Asheville, last week there was an election held as to who was the most popular lawyer, doctor, young lady, &c. &c. Our old friend Joe Adams carried off the honors as the most popular lawyer. Joe would have gotten a nice vote on the score of good looks too, if they had voted on the question, notwithstanding that he and Judge Graye are not considered particularly handsome by certain persons in Mitchell county."

The prize in this instance was a handsome peacock, with a magnificent spread as to tail, and it was not only the good looks of Mr. Adams which elicited the large majority he received, but the well known fact of his proudness thereof. Friend Joe spreads his peacock tail now with evident satisfaction.

M. E. Church South. Preaching at the M. E. Church South this morning at 11 o'clock, by the pastor Dr. W. W. Bays. Preaching also at night. Strangers invited. Seats free.

STICKY FLY PAPER! This useful article now on sale at Pelham's Drug Store, is being used by nearly every household in the city. The paper (which is not poisonous) is gummed and sweetened we know not how, but in such manner as attracts the little pest, the house fly. Mr. Fly, upon beholding the tempting sheet, at once tries the efficacy of the luring mass, only to meet immediate extinction. You can buy it at Pelham's, at 5c. per sheet, or 5 sheets for 25c. Try it by all means and secure some money.

See our bargain 5 and 10c. counter. We also call your attention to our Stove and Hardware Department in which line we are manufacturers, keep constantly on hand a full and complete assortment of Tinware, Stoves, Ranges and Heaters; sole agents for the celebrated Farmer Girl Cook, the leader of all stoves. Give us a call before you buy your heating stove, we will save you money. Special attention paid to Roofing and Gutting, satisfaction guaranteed.

For standard goods and lowest prices, call on the W. C. KELLEN & Co., 12 Patton Avenue.

A SAD DEATH. Mrs. Louise, wife of Wm. M. Dickson, Esq., died yesterday afternoon at 4:27, after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. Dickson was a native of Sumner county, S. C., and is a step-sister of Mr. James Carson of this city. The death was quite unexpected until Friday night, and is peculiarly sad in that she had been married not quite a year.

The deceased was a graduate of the Asheville Female College of the class of 1885, and was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Funeral arrangements are deferred, awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Dickson's father. Announcements will be made at the different churches this morning.

PROTECTION ASKED FOR. We are requested to call attention to the colored carnivals, festivals, or by whatever other name the pandemonium rages may be known, which take place in the Banner Warehouse two or three times a week, and which are continued beyond reasonable limits. It is an annoyance of the neighborhood, it exceeds annoyance; it runs into the province of grievance, nuisance, and makes residence in the vicinity a curse. There is reason in asking, "Please stop it, it is carried into a curse to all but the participants. If these have rights, so have others."

We learn the authorities have been appealed to, and have taken no action. We call upon the authorities to give ear to a complaint which is made, not by captious, but by patient though much suffering citizens.

"FANCY PRICES FOR ASHEVILLE LOTS." The Raleigh Biblical Recorder says: "No town in North Carolina can, for any considerable length of time, sell its town lots at New York prices. That is what they are doing in Asheville. A friend told the writer that a former Raleigh man recently made $21,000 in a trade for a small lot. Another told him of a lot fifty feet square that sold for $25,000. Hurrah for the western metropolis!"

How do you know that prices will not be maintained? The fact that prices are maintained and even advanced is just as easy to be recognized, as it is to predict a collapse, and far more just to consider the fact, and let that fact stand for itself, than to endeavor to bring about the collapse. The owner of a spot of ground in New York, 28 by 37 1/2 feet, recently received $709,000 for it. Of course our Recorder friend would say the party refusing was a fool. Yet it was his own property, he was on the spot, and doubtless knew quite as well as the editor afterward its value in dollars and cents, either as a marketable article, or to himself. It is just so in Asheville. Our prices do not yet approach New York prices, we regret to say, but the people who own their property, and those who come here to buy, are entirely capable of judging of its value. No property in Asheville has sold for its full value yet, even now, and not a piece has been bought that could not be transferred at an advance. But it is not just as easy, any more just, to recognize the fact of the good growth of a city of the State, than we would not predict calamity, and thus, so far as the insinuation can go, do much, possibly, to stop that growth? Asheville is growing, and nothing can stop her. We cannot help being somewhat surprised at the insinuation of such articles as the above, and to fail to see the occasion for such.

NORTH CAROLINA HONORED. The great Farmers' Convention recently in session at Atlanta unanimously elected Col. L. L. Polk, editor of the Progressive Farmer at Raleigh permanent President.

The convention adjourned to meet in Raleigh on the third Tuesday in August 1888.

CHILDREN'S CHURCH. The installation of the Presbyterian church on Sabbath morning, will be followed in the afternoon at 4 o'clock by a meeting of special interest to the Sabbath School not only of this but of the various other churches of the city.

Rev. Mr. Fair of Charlotte will preach the sermon, which will be devoted to subjects connected at once with the Sabbath School. Other ministers will also take part and the meeting will be a notable one.

DIED. In the city yesterday, at the residence of Mrs. Trenholm, Mr. Marshall S. Perry. The deceased was a native of New York, and at the time of his death was 24 years of age. His Uncle Dr. John Perry was with him at the time of his death. The remains will be taken to New York for interment.

Mr. Perry had been in Asheville about two months, and his general temper had won to him many friends who grieve sincerely at his untimely fate.

HILLSBORO REORDER. We have received the second number of the above paper published in Hillsboro by Ex-Solicitor F. N. Studwick, and ex-Senator C. E. Parrish, talent enough, we assume, to guarantee a good paper and a most important aid to the Democratic party.

The paper comes to us with a name strangely homelike for years past and parcel of ourselves. Every feeling and every wish are enlisted in the success of the enterprise.

WELL SAID. The Hendersonville Times says: "In last week's Times mention was made of the new enterprise of Messrs. C. J. Edney and John Delvaux in the planting of a vineyard. Since then we have learned that others in that neighborhood purpose doing likewise, and it is very probable that in a few years many acres in this section will be devoted to the vine. There can be no risk in the business, because any one, however, inexperienced he may be, can gather grapes and press out the juice, which can be sold to wine-makers at good prices in the unfarmed state. If every farmer would plant a vineyard, and give it a reasonable amount of attention, he would soon find himself in possession of a money product of more value than his corn, wheat, and oat crops combined."

The Tobacco Convention—An Important Meeting—Good Work Done.

MONROE CITY, Aug. 21. The Tobacco Convention, which assembled here on Wednesday and closed last night, has been a most pleasant affair in all respects. Expressions are unanimous, voting the meeting a success beyond the hopes of the most sanguine. The Convention chose as its President Mr. J. S. Carr, of Durham, and for Secretary Mr. W. A. Bobbit, of Oxford. It resolved itself into a permanent organization, with annual meetings, organized on the 4th Tuesday in August, and Morehead City was chosen as the permanent meeting place.

Your representative from Asheville, Mr. C. C. McCarty, was in active attendance as the only delegate from the mountain city. Among other honors conferred upon him he has been chosen one of the Vice Presidents of the Convention. Mr. McCarty ably represented the tobacco interests of the whole of a eastern North Carolina.

Some important legislation was enacted which will be given to the world in due time. There were present about 75 tobacco men from all parts of the State and a number of visiting friends from other sections. The Southern Tobacco Journal, published in the interest of tobacco in North Carolina and Virginia, was endorsed by the convention and a vote of thanks tendered to the editor for the interest he has taken in the meeting.
