A GRAHAM TURNIF.

Mr. R. L. Cooper brought to our office

In the fall of 1884 I was in such poor health that I was obliged to cancel all of my lecture engagements for the winter, and to give up writing for a time. I went to Asheville and placed myself funder the care of Drs. Hargan and Gatchell. Contunuing their treatment I improved in health and strength. GAINING 20 FOUNDS of flesh; and feel better than I have for years.

I regard their oxygen treatment as being of great value; they, themselves, are gentlemen of skill, and worthy of the confidence of the public.

"I endorsed JudgeGary's statement on Fielden's case," he said, "and also He hurried up to the office as added a few points that occurred to soon as he entered the hotel and, without waiting to register, inquired eagerly: "Any letter for me?"

The clerk sorted over a package in regard to Schwab that I thought with the negligent attention that the Governor ought to know, but I comes of practice. then flipped one -a very small one-on the counter. The traveling man took it with a, curious smile that twisted his pleas-

> He smiled more as he read it. Then, oblivious of other travelers who jostled him, he laid it tenderly against his lips and actually kissed

> A loud guffaw startled him. "Now, look here old fellow." gaid a loud woice, "that won't do. you know. Too sponey for anything. Confess now, your wife didn't write that letter.'

> "No, she didn't," said the trayeling man with an amazed look, as if he would like to change the subject. "That letter is from my best girl."

> The admission was so unexpected that the trio of friends who had caught him said no more until after they had saten a good dinner and were seated together in a chum's oom.
