TO THE PATRONS OF THE CITIZEN. The withdrawal of Mr. Stone from the CITIZEN, elsewhere referred to, renders it necessary to close up the business affairs of Furman, Stone and Cameron. The debts of the concern must be adjusted at once, and to do this, those who are indebted to the firm must settle their accounts. The firm have struggled, and few men have done, to not only maintain their business, but to give to Western Carolina a paper equal to its requirements. To do this we have not counted our own labor or circumstances. Regarding our individual wants, we have labored to do our duty by the people of this section. The gross amount of business secured us we cannot complain of, but we feel we have reason to complain that our books show an indebtedness to us for labor we have already performed and for materials and other things furnished to the CITIZEN. The amount of this indebtedness is $1,000.00. The amount of this indebtedness is $1,000.00. The amount of this indebtedness is $1,000.00.
