Chief of Police Waddell, who has been playing Job for some days, is much better.
Mr. J. Adger Clarke, who has been quite ill at Wilmington for some days, returned yesterday. He is much better, but still quite feeble.
Dr. W. D. Hilliard, who has been absent for some days on professional business—called to Wilmington to attend Mr. J. Adger Clarke—returned yesterday with that gentleman.
The street cleaning goes on bravely. For Heaven's sake, and the city's sake do not fail to go to the back lots of the public and private buildings, and have them well and thoroughly cleaned.
Mr. J. M. Thrush sold yesterday to the C. E. Graham Manufacturing Company a house and lot, bought from Mr. Pearson last June for $1,900, for $2,500. This does not look like Asheville property is on the decline. This was near the Old Depot.
As soon as the committee appointed Thursday night secured $25,000 subscription to the Co-operative Industrial Association let a meeting of subscribers called, and it that amount can be at once utilized let work be begun at once. If our people will just go to work Asheville will soon have very much additional to be proud of.
The entertainment at Battery Park Thursday night was for the benefit of the Hospital, and we are pleased to learn a nice little sum was realized. Aside from the object of the entertainment the large audience enjoyed a most agreeable performance. We regret a list of the dramatic persons has not been furnished us. Some very excellent talent, however, contributed to the occasion.
From the remarks made by Maj. Rollins, Thursday night it is evident that more prize and other rooms needed in the tobacco handling business are absolutely demanded now. This was not generally known before, the public believing that individual enterprise had kept pace with the requirements of the trade. We are glad Maj. R. gave the information. Our people can put their money to no better or more profitable purpose. Let arrangements be made at once to erect a building, to cost say $25,000, to be provided with all necessary machinery, for a first-class, commodious packing-house, stemery, &c. It will pay.
A GOOD START.
Up to last night about $20,000 had been subscribed to the co-operative Industrial Association. Let everybody subscribe, and raise a half million of dollars. It can be done.
TRUE.
The Knoxville Journal says: "Wild speculation in real estate has done this country more injury in the past two years than the gambling in futures on the stock exchanges."
Asheville is the only growing place we know of which has not suffered from this "wild speculation."

The cleaning of the pavements yesterday causes all our people to feel better and to walk more pleasantly.
A slide near Swannanoa tunnel yesterday caused some delay in the train from Salisbury, a transfer having to be made. It is hoped it will not prove serious.
Those who are not yet members of the Board of Trade are requested to call on Mr. Holmes, secretary, and join. Let us all unite so as to be ready to cooperate for the good of Asheville.
Why the mud scraped from the gutters of Main street and Patton Avenue should be dumped upon the vacant lot corner of Patton Avenue and Haywood street passeth all intelligent understanding. It must be based upon a new scientific theory.
Dr. F. T. Merriweather leaves this morning for New York, where he will take a special course in the hospitals upon surgery and the diseases of women. Mrs. Merriweather accompanies him as far as Louisville, Ky., where she will spend a few weeks.
One of the committees yesterday got over one thousand dollars subscribed to new factories, another fifty one hundred dollars. If the other thirteen committees, whom we did not hear from, did as well, the four hundred thousand dollars wanted will soon be secured.
We have been informed that upon one lot where some very serious sickness has recently occurred, filth has been permitted to accumulate to that degree that it is a surprise that sickness did not occur earlier. It matters not in what quarter such may exist, or who may be affected thereby, a case of fever caused by such neglect hurts the city as much as if it all occurred on Main street. It is these by way and backlot places which require more constant attention than our public thoroughfares, and some people do not seem to know or appreciate when their premises are filthy. Such as these should be instructed, first by at least one personal, official supervision of a cleaning, and a fine to follow neglect thereafter.
PROTECT THE ANIMALS.
Is there a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals in our city? If not, we ought to have one in the hands and under the management of the ladies. No organization of the kind has ever amounted to anything in any country where managed by men. We therefore hope that one will be organized here, and that the usual mistake of putting men at the head of it will not be made. Let us hear from our readers on this subject.

A FINE BULL CALF COMING TO ASHEVILLE—A GRACEFUL GIFT TO GEN. VANCE.
Col. Herbert S. Greenleaf, a gallant soldier in the U. S. service in the late war, now of Rochester, N. Y., has sent to Gen. Vance a fine Jersey bull calf. The Col. says in his letter:
"Please accept the bull calf sent you yesterday, as a slight token of my regard for a certain 'Rebel Brigadier,' the worst of the lot!"
This calf was sired by "Victor of Saint Helier," and the mother is "Lady Dee" found on page 177 Stevens' Catalogue of Jerseys. Lady Dee's record has tested 23 lbs of butter in 4 days.
The General will have a lot of Holsteins on his Riverside Farm near Asheville, in the spring.
SCRAPE YOUR SIDE WALKS.
We invite attention to the following city ordinance:
Sec. 537: It shall be the duty of all occupants of improved property, and owners of vacant property, in front of which the sidewalks have been paved, to keep such sidewalks clean, and to do such sweeping and scraping as may be necessary to remove snow, ice, clay, dirt, and trash therefrom and to render the same passable, comfortable and slightly, and the gutter open, and free from obstruction as far as such lot extends. If any rubbish, dirt, ashes, or any other thing be placed or left, without lawful authority, upon such footway or in such gutters, the occupant of such lot shall remove the same; if twelve hours elapse after the notice of the Chief of Police, or by any other officer or police, without such removal, the occupant shall be fined five dollars.
The police were busy yesterday calling attention to this ordinance; and we notice that much scraping was the result, much to the comfort of pedestrians. Let the good work go on. We are requested to state the above ordinance will be rigidly enforced.

ASHEVILLE WILL GROW!
HER ADVANTAGES MUST BE DEVELOPED!
Her People Have Said it. Greatly to their Credit, and Asheville Shall Grow.
Steps taken to Secure Four Hundred Thousand Dollars.
The large court house was well filled Thursday night, in obedience to the call of President Graham of the Asheville Board of Trade, to consider and devise ways and means to establish other industrial enterprises in Asheville. Not only the members, but the character of the crowd showed that the people are not only alive but aroused to the best interests of the city and ready to cooperate in its up-building. The meeting was composed of those who by their energy, their brains, and their labor build up communities and upon whose shoulders generally the burden of development falls. It was a good meeting, and, as the result shows a determined purpose to place them in the front of the movement. It was a meeting of the Board of Trade and President Graham called the Board to order.
An invitation was extended for all who were not already members of the Board to join, and over fifty did so.
After some business pertaining to the Board was transacted, the special object of the meeting was taken up, and President Graham addressed the meeting upon the necessity for the establishment of manufacturing enterprises, of various kinds in this city if we would have it what it should be. He said that nature designed it to be. Referred to what had been recently accomplished in other places, by the people getting together and forming a co-operative association organizing companies, members to pay say fifty cents per share, or one hundred dollars in the case of a cotton factory was established; and only a few weeks thereafter, the movement had been so successful that the company had determined to double its stock. After many illustrations of the advantages of such movements—their safety to the subscribers and benefit to the community, Mr. G. then said he believed Asheville could easily form such an association and secure subscriptions to a capital stock of $200,000, to be paid in weekly installments of fifty cents per share of stock, the par value of stock to be $100.
Capt. McLoud was called upon and heartily endorsed the proposition of Mr. Graham, and was gratified that such a movement was inaugurated, and that Asheville had every natural advantage for large industrial enterprises; he knew that capital was ready to come—and all that was needed was for our people to show their own interest in the capital and it would come rapidly. But very much could be done within ourselves, on this co-operative plan, and he was strongly in sympathy with the movement.
Mr. W. W. Rollins was called on, and entered with his accustomed zeal and enthusiasm into a discussion of matters of interest to Asheville. He not only sympathized with but would unite in all enterprises which our people would undertake; but there was one industry already here, struggling for such recognition as would make it what it ought to be, and enable it to do more for Asheville and our surrounding people. He trade here than anything else we could undertake, and that is our tobacco interest. The product is raised at our doors by our own people; it ought not only to be sold here, but ought to be manufactured and prepared for the consumer here, so that all the benefits of its handling would accrue to our people. We need more factories here, more prize and packing rooms, and need them now badly. Capital that was ready to go into the tobacco trade here was withheld because of the want of such rooms as would accommodate the trade. He did not wish to be understood as desiring our people to ignore other industries, for he recognized all the great advantages of the diversity of enterprise; but in considering what we shall undertake he wished to impress upon our people that which we now have which only needs proper encouragement to make it the best paying enterprise which Asheville can undertake.
Maj. Rollins made several allusions to some other matters, not exactly connected with manufacturing but vitally concerning the welfare of Asheville which we could not make a most hearty response from the audience.
All the remarks of the evening were well received.
A resolution was adopted directing the President to appoint a committee to solicit subscriptions to a capital stock of $200,000, to be paid in weekly installments of fifty dollars each, and payments to be made weekly at the rate of twenty-five cents per share. The following committee was appointed:
N. H. Atkinson, G. A. Shuford, C. D. Blanton, H. S. Hawkins, J. G. Lindsey, W. F. Vander Wolf, W. W. Rollins, Dr. H. B. Weaver, R. T. Reynolds, N. P. Chedister, H. C. Hunt, C. T. Rawles, W. T. Pennington, A. A. Featherstone, M. M. Leardor.
Books for subscription were opened, and EIGHTEEN THOUSAND, FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS were at once subscribed. There is no doubt, but that FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS will be secured within a few days. This shows more strongly than anything else the purpose of our people to go to work, and to make Asheville what she ought to be. We hope in a few days to announce that an organization has been so effected that ground may be selected and work begun.
Capt. Atkinson offered the following which was adopted:
WHEREAS, This meeting is informed that there is to be a large excursion of Northern citizens to reach Knoxville on or about the 22nd inst., and
WHEREAS, It is important to Asheville and Western North Carolina that they should be given an opportunity to see our beautiful city and section;
Therefore be it resolved, That a committee of three members of this Board be appointed by the President to secure such excursion and Knoxville—coming and returning, and that said committee meet said excursion at Knoxville at the time of their arrival and invite them to visit Asheville, and to reach North Carolina during their stay South.
The following committee was appointed: Nat Atkinson, W. W. Deming and H. C. Hunt.
The meeting then adjourned, subject to the call of the President.
[For the Asheville Citizen.]
CO-OPERATION IN ASHEVILLE.
The meeting of the Board of Trade at the Court House Thursday night was an important one, and it was well attended. The court house was filled and the vast crowd, composed of every element of Asheville's population, showed the interest our people feel in the movement. The original plan of making the shares one hundred dollars each met with disapproval. Mr. J. G. Lindsey's motion to place them at fifty dollars was heartily approved and adopted without dissent, and we think, very properly so. This part led to serious reflection on the part of some of our citizens, and it has been concluded, that instead of placing the shares at fifty dollars, they should be fixed at $10 each. What we want is co-operation. That means that we want every member of this community, as well as others from elsewhere, to be interested in the scheme. In order to ensure this we must place it within easy reach of every person. We venture to predict that if the shares are fixed at ten dollars each, Asheville will take one or more shares, if they are fixed at ten dollars who would not take any interest whatever in it at fifty dollars. They feel that they can pay ten dollars. They feel at the same time, that while they might be able to pay fifty dollars in full, yet if they take a share they might lose all they had paid should that by way of some accident, the enterprise should fail. Let us try the shares at ten dollars each, and give all a chance to co-operate and feel direct interest in the movement.
MOVING.
H. H. Lyons has moved his drug, Medicines, &c., into the handsome corner room of the elegant Barnard Building, where they invite their friends to call.
SALE OF THE M. E. CARTER PROPERTY.
Capt. M. E. Carter sold this week, and has transferred, his elegant home property on French Broad avenue, reserving a large portion of the lot, to Bishop Northrop of the Catholic Church. The residence will be used as a convent, and an elegant church building will soon be erected. The price paid for the property was $15,000.
GOOD 'UNG POWER.
Mr. E. P. Davis, auctioneer of the Farmers' Warehouse, on the 9th inst. sold 256 piles of tobacco in ninety-eight minutes. He is required to sell 120 piles an hour—two piles a minute. His Thursday's work was sixty piles ahead of time. Mr. Davis says he can run ahead of time any day and get as good prices as any auctioneer in North Carolina or Virginia.
QUARTERLY MEETING.
The second quarterly meeting of the Riverside and Center street church, M. E. Church South, will be held to-day and to-morrow 11th and 12th.
The Presiding Elder, Rev. Dr. Carroll will preach at the Riverside church on both Saturday and Sunday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.
A protracted service will be held at this church during next week, conducted by the pastor and Rev. J. F. Austin. All are invited to attend.

Do Men Gather Figgs of Thistles?
It is as reasonable to expect figs from thistles as to look for good results when poor ones are planted. You plant a scum you cannot gather apricots, and if you sow poor and old seeds you cannot have large and solid cabbage heads, nor round and regular tomatoes, nor perfect and juicy cantaloupes. The moral of this is, Be sure you get good seeds to avoid disappointment. Landreth's seeds are regarded the best all over the United States, and you can get the best crop at Pelham's Drug Store.

LATEST NEWS.
Congress.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—SENATE: Mr. Edmunds, from the committee on foreign relations, reported a bill to incorporate the Maritime Canal Company, of Nicaragua, and said he would move to take it up as early next week as he could get the floor. Placed on the calendar.
Mr. Mansford, from the committee on printing, reported a joint resolution for the disposition of undisturbed copies of records of the rebellion, reports of the tenth census and reports of the public land commissioners. The resolution gave rise to a long discussion, in course of which Mr. Vest gave expression to his ideas as to the value of publications of the government printing office. He said he had a room in Washington in which there were several hundred volumes of public documents bound in calf at the expense of the government which books he could not give away, he could not trade them off, he could not dispose of them unless he put them in the fire. He had asked a dealer in second-hand books to make a bid for them, and his offer was one dollar for the lot, the dealer thinking that the offer was a personal favor to him. The upper portion of the capitol was crammed to the roof with books, and he had been informed by an architect that if a spark of fire touched that material the gas from it would blow off the roof and yet there was a continued stream of these publications pouring out of the government printing office. The money might as well be taken and thrown into the Potomac river. Finally a joint resolution was passed. It puts the undistributed copies of the documents mentioned, of the quota of ex-members, to the credit of their successors in the Fifty-fifth congress, and in the case of ex-members who have no direct successors on account of the changes of the boundaries in congressional districts copies are to be sold at cost or distributed to the libraries yet unsupplied.
The resolutions offered on the previous days were then taken up in their order. The first was Mr. Plumb's resolution as to the inefficient postal service and it went over. The next resolution was that offered by Mr. Riddleberger to consider the extradition treaty with Great Britain in open session. Mr. Riddleberger said he heard it suggested by the senators around that there was no occasion for further consideration of that matter, and he thought they were probably right. He thought the British lion's tail had been twisted by a vote of 23 to 21, and he only wanted to state this fact now in open session. Mr. Riddleberger's allusion was to a vote in secret session yesterday, by which a consideration of the treaty was postponed to next December. The next resolution was that offered by Mr. Riddleberger to amend rule 37 so as to have the executive business considered in open session. Mr. Riddleberger said he had offered a resolution looking to a change of the rules under which change he thought he could get the so-called British treaty considered in open session. Further remarks by Mr. Riddleberger were opposed by Mr. Hawley who rose to a point of order and said that the senator from Virginia was constantly and defiantly violating the rules of the Senate.
"I did not hear the remark of the senator from Connecticut," said Mr. Riddleberger.
"I made the point to order," said Mr. Hawley, "that the senator's remarks are out of order because they are a conscious and willful defiance of the rules of this body which he has taken an oath to support."
The senator from Virginia said that the presiding officer would not be allowed to take up any matter of executive business when the doors of the Senate chamber are open. I wanted to ask the chair (Mr. Riddleberger went on to explain) to listen to what I said, that I wanted the resolution disposed of; but I do not propose here or anywhere else, to be called out of order at all times and under all circumstances.
Further remarks were summarily put off by the presiding officer instructing the clerk to read the next resolution.
Several resolutions of inquiry were adopted.
The Blair bill being taken up as unfinished business was laid aside after the statement by Mr. Hawley that he wished to speak upon it next Tuesday, and that another Senator wished to speak upon it next Monday.
The Senate bill appropriating $50,000 additional for the public building at Pensacola, was taken up and became the text for general discussion to the creation of public buildings. At conclusion of the debate the bill was passed.
House:—Bills of a local but not of general importance were acted upon in this body.

CHEAPER RATES FROM
We learn from the Journal of yesterday: "Capt. T. A. Frierson returned yesterday from Cincinnati, where he attended a meeting of the Central Traffic Association. He is one of a delegation of gentlemen interested in southern immigration and development, and his business before the association was to arrange for excursion rates from points in the north and northwest to southern cities. For some time efforts have been made to secure reasonable excursion rates to the south, but for some reason these efforts have failed of success.
Capt. Frierson stated to a Journal reporter last night that his mission was successful as far as the Central Traffic Association was concerned. He said that he laid the whole matter before the association; first the excursion movement is not for selfish ends, but for the upbuilding of the entire south. He showed the passenger agents wherein they had made concessions to the west in the shape of reduced rates, and now that the tide of emigration is turning southward it would be but justice to the people of the northwest, as well as the South, to make the same concessions.
The president of the association stated in reply that the fault has been with the roads South of the Ohio; that the different lines working under the Central Traffic Association had tendered reduced rates on former occasions, but as a matter of business they could not afford to haul passengers to the Ohio river at reduced rates and turn them over to the southern lines to be transported at three cents per mile. He also considered it proper for the southern roads to take the initiative and first offer the reduction. The association then agreed to make such a reduction rate from all points in its territory as the southern roads will agree upon. They also agreed that the rate is established to distribute free of charge any and all advertising matter regarding the South as may be sent them.
The rate committee of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association will hold a meeting in New Orleans to-morrow. Capt. Frierson left on the early train this morning to attend the meeting. He is confident that he will be successful in his mission. If low rates can be secured, thousands of people will visit this section in the next few weeks.

Chief of Police Waddell, who has been playing Job for some days, is much better.
Mr. J. Adger Clarke, who has been quite ill at Wilmington for some days, returned yesterday. He is much better, but still quite feeble.
Dr. W. D. Hilliard, who has been absent for some days on professional business—called to Wilmington to attend Mr. J. Adger Clarke—returned yesterday with that gentleman.
The street cleaning goes on bravely. For Heaven's sake, and the city's sake do not fail to go to the back lots of the public and private buildings, and have them well and thoroughly cleaned.
Mr. J. M. Thrush sold yesterday to the C. E. Graham Manufacturing Company a house and lot, bought from Mr. Pearson last June for $1,900, for $2,500. This does not look like Asheville property is on the decline. This was near the Old Depot.
As soon as the committee appointed Thursday night secured $25,000 subscription to the Co-operative Industrial Association let a meeting of subscribers called, and it that amount can be at once utilized let work be begun at once. If our people will just go to work Asheville will soon have very much additional to be proud of.
The entertainment at Battery Park Thursday night was for the benefit of the Hospital, and we are pleased to learn a nice little sum was realized. Aside from the object of the entertainment the large audience enjoyed a most agreeable performance. We regret a list of the dramatic persons has not been furnished us. Some very excellent talent, however, contributed to the occasion.
From the remarks made by Maj. Rollins, Thursday night it is evident that more prize and other rooms needed in the tobacco handling business are absolutely demanded now. This was not generally known before, the public believing that individual enterprise had kept pace with the requirements of the trade. We are glad Maj. R. gave the information. Our people can put their money to no better or more profitable purpose. Let arrangements be made at once to erect a building, to cost say $25,000, to be provided with all necessary machinery, for a first-class, commodious packing-house, stemery, &c. It will pay.
A GOOD START.
Up to last night about $20,000 had been subscribed to the co-operative Industrial Association. Let everybody subscribe, and raise a half million of dollars. It can be done.
TRUE.
The Knoxville Journal says: "Wild speculation in real estate has done this country more injury in the past two years than the gambling in futures on the stock exchanges."
Asheville is the only growing place we know of which has not suffered from this "wild speculation."
