Early in April, '87, Messrs. N. T. Sherman and E. B. Stevens, of Oneida, N. Y, arrived in Asheville for the purpose of establishing this industry, believing that money could be made in such an enterprise, as well as materially aid in the development of Asheville as a manufacturing centre. In this they were not mistaken, for from the start their success has been phenomcnal. In September of the same year Mr. Stevens withdrew from the firm leaving Mr. Sherman in full control of the factory. A few questions from the reporter drew forth the following facts from Mr. Sherman yesterday morning: During the ten months the factory has been in operation he has sold over 140,000 cigars; the capacity of the factory is 1,000 cigars per day. (this means the manufacture from the raw weed until the time the cigar is put in the box and stamped) the tobacco used is Havana, Sumatra, and choice leaf bought in Penn-Taylor Burnett in this city.
