TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1888 ANOTHER STREET RAILWAY PROPOSED.

Inasmuch as all other propositions submitted and contracts made to construct a street railway in this city have failed, a party submitted a proposition Friday night asking the privilege of constructing a line from the depot up Southside or Cleveland Avenue to Church, up Church to Willow, via Willow and Water streets to Patton Avenue and such other streets, alleys, etc., as may hereafter be agreed upon. It is stated this only contemplates the construction of a line from the denot to or near the public square, while the charter confers the right of extension. Capt. Atkinson objected at the Friday night meeting to the way from Wilmington to Wrghtsgranting of this charter without the ville will begin Monday. The iron requirement that a system con - of June the road will very probably pretending a large portion of the be in operation. Troops will be city be incorporated and required transported over the road from to be established by some stated Wilmington to the encampment at time. This mentleman thicks a e impany can be organized to agree to tilis, and to that end has called a meeting for to day at 11 o'clock, to be held in his office. If such can be organized, the gentlemen we mington is progressing with very satisfactory rapidity. Much interest in this important line is manifested that lave yet ben put on this market learn, who asked for the charter by the people along it. Three sur-Friday night wiil at once withdraw their proposition, and gladly vield shall be done at once, is a matter for the authorities to consider, to be governed as they will be by the very best proposition submitted for complete system at once for the city fails, we can see no good reason construction of a street railway in Asheville has been discussed for some years, and several propositions have been submitted to the authorities, and privileges granted, but, nothing done. If our people will do as they can well do, organize and construct a system, we would prefer to see it done. It will pay the stockholders, as well as the city. But, if we cannot get all we want at once, we cannot concur in the suggestion to refuse the construction of a part-from the center of the city to the depot-which when once established will compel, at an early date an extension to such portions of the city as may require such facilities. We hope, however, that Capt. Atkinson's

We have one serious objection, E. V. JONES. however, to the charter presented Friday night, namely, the privilege of running the line on Church and Willow streets, we care not what sort of motive power may be used. The relationship of these streets to several of our largest churches and their painful narrowness, should prevent their use for say sort of railroad purposes. BRAVE MEN.

The dispatches of Saturday informed us that the members of the posts of the Gran | Army of the R . public-ex-soldiers of the United Plates Army of the late Civil Warparticipated in the Confederate memorial services at New Orleans on Friday, adding the "offerings of these posts were very elegant and included a magnificent flower piece for each veteran Confederate."

To an honest, true American citizen. North or South, such an announcement should occasion to surprise. it is only the conduct which brave men will exhibit toward the brave; as Americans, it is only such as men true to their colors, on real estate line. We can supply you, either side, can exhibit. We do not complain that the Ingalls, the Shermans, the Blaines, the Allisons, do not sympathize with such sentiments or such conduct. A man who c util 1 rove his loyalty during the war by denouncing Grant and Lincoln fr "not pro ecuting the war with sufficient vigor" while he was running for civil office at home or serving as Judge-Advocate over courts for the trial of Kansas henroost-robbing j-yhawkers, is not expected to sympathize with such trally American sentiments or court trally American sentiments or court that the great hearts of the honest, reliable, brave people of this sentiments, and the war improved method on Yunson's system in from four to five an exten war by denouncing Grant and Linhonest, reliable, brave people of this
