

DAILY EDITION.
Furman, Stone & Cameron,
Editors and Proprietors.
SUBSCRIPTION:
DAILY, One Year, $6.00
Six Months, 3.50
WEEKLY, One Year, 1.00
Six Months, .75
Advertising Rates Low.

The Asheville Citizen.

VOL. IV.—NO. 15.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 9, 1888.

PRICE 5 CENTS

D. W. FURMAN,
PROPRIETOR
Citizen JOB Office,
13 PATTON AVE.
Our facilities are second to none!
LEGAL BLANKS,
LETTER HEADS,
BILL HEADS, &c

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Compound Oxygen
Dr. Hargan & Gatchell
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Dr. Hargan & Gatchell
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

One Price Store.
A large and very attractive line of Men's, Boys' and Children's Suits ranging from low priced goods to something very fine.

THE DAILY CITIZEN
Will be published every morning (except Monday) at the following rates—
One Year, $6.00
Six Months, 3.50
Three Months, 1.50
One Month, .75
Our Carriers will deliver the paper every morning in every part of the city to our subscribers, and parties wanting it will please call at the City Office.

Arrival and Departure of Passenger Trains.
SALISBURY—Arrives 6:30 p. m.; leaves for N. C. at 7:00 p. m.
WILKES—Arrives 7:30 a. m.; leaves for N. C. at 8:00 a. m.
SPARTANBURG—Arrives 8:30 a. m.; leaves for N. C. at 9:00 a. m.
WASHEVILLE—Leaves Asheville at 8:00 a. m., and arrives at 8:30 p. m.

New Advertisements.
GOOD BOARD—J. L. Wilkie.
BEEF PROPOSALS—F. M. Scroggs.
ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE, B. L. Morgan.
Hon. Fred C. Fisher, of Charleston, S. C., is in the city.
The thermometer yesterday registered 76° in the shade.
No cases were tried in Mayor Harkins' court yesterday morning.
Mr. Weldon E. Williamson has returned from a trip to Danville, Va.
The North Carolina Press Association has been called to meet at Morehead City July 18.
J. A. Hester, Esq., a prominent citizen of Memphis, Tenn., was at the Swannanoa yesterday.
Mr. B. L. Morgan informs us the west outlook of South Hominy section is very unfavorable.
Small tobacco breaks were had at the Farmers' and Banner warehouses in this city yesterday.
Rev. T. M. Myers' services are very largely attended, and his labors have been crowned with great success.
Mr. J. C. Pritchard, of Ray, Madison county, and republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, is in the city.
J. M. Levy, Norfolk, Va., and A. Hammond, Baltimore, Md., were the noon arrivals at the Swannanoa yesterday.
Mr. J. M. Campbell yesterday sold for Beattie, Blanton & Co., one lot on south side of Patton Avenue to Mr. F. L. Saunders for $500.
The North Carolina Teacher for June has been received, and contains a frontispiece representing the new teacher's hall at Morehead City.
The burning of Capt. Cooke's residence Friday morning is another striking and destructive example of the incompetency of the water-works system.
The nuisance on the corner of Pulliam and Water streets should be abated. A long-suffering public cannot stand everything, and they are tired of it.
A pleasant party of friends, assembled at the hospitable residence of Capt. and Mrs. M. J. Fagg, on Mercur Avenue last evening to meet Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morgan.
The stock of goods recently owned by W. B. Anderson & Co., South Main street, will be sold at auction this morning at the Farmers' warehouse by Thomason & Johnson, auctioneers.
We learn that a petition was being circulated in the city yesterday soliciting names for the purpose of having the liquor license tax increased by the county commissioners at their July meeting.
A colored man, who's helping to unload an iron safe at Howell's store yesterday afternoon, had one of his feet severely bruised by the slipping of a crowbar, with which he was helping to move the safe.
The hook and ladder truck started to the fire Friday morning, but was abandoned in front of the Grand Central hotel, for want of men enough to pull it. A very useful contrivance is a hook and ladder, three-quarters of a mile away from a fire!
The art rooms of the Asheville Female College was most attractive place last evening. Large numbers of ladies and gentlemen attended the levee, and greatly enjoyed the excellent exhibit of the work of the young ladies of the college. The attendance of the hour precludes a full description; will make amends

Silver and Silver Plated Ware
At close prices. We carry one of the largest stocks and can offer many inducements to buyers, both in style and quality. Our prices on Knives, Forks and Spoons defy competition. Our line of solid Silver Jewelry compose all the latest designs.
Newest shapes in Millinery, the very latest just received last day of week. Call early and make selection.
Sensible people who make their purchases of goods a simple problem as to where they can get the most value for the least money will never regret the time spent in looking over the new stock of Clothing, Hats, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Trunks and Valises, just received by the Big 22, Patton Avenue. ditw

The police made one arrest last night.
Chief of police Waddell is very much indispensed.
Mr. E. H. Folenwider has returned to the city.
Mayor Harkins, like Job, of old, is afflicted with boils.
Dr. H. F. Burgin, of Old Fort, N. C., was in the city yesterday.
Mr. J. W. Fowle, proprietor of the kaolin works at Dillsboro, is in the city.
One of Maj. J. G. Martin's fine horses broke his leg last night, and had to be shot.
Mrs. W. W. Barnard and children have returned from a month's visit to Virginia.
Mr. M. Hyndman, of Shelby, N. C., has accepted a position with M. J. Fagg, of this city.
Miss Mollie Baird has returned to the city after an absence of several months in Raleigh.
Rev. G. C. Rankin will preach at the Asheville Female College tomorrow morning and evening.
Miss Belle Barnard, of Danville, Va., is in the city and will spend the summer with her brother Mr. W. W. Barnard.
Miss Lula Kerley, an accomplished young lady of Burke county, is teaching an interesting school at Black Mountain.
Rev. T. K. Brown who has a contract on the C. K. & W. railroad, is spending a few days with his family at Black Mountain.
The Asheville baseball club will play the Weaverville club a match game at the latter place, Wednesday.
Mr. M. V. Moore, of this city, representing I. Whitehill & Co., will leave Monday on his usual summer trip in the interest of that firm.
Daisy & Carter, auctioneers will sell at public auction, at the Farmers' warehouse this morning a quantity of furniture. Also a horse and buggy.
Maj. B. G. Gaden, of Vein Mountain Gold Mine, was in the city last evening, on his way to Hendersonville, where he will spend several weeks, on pleasure bent.
Mr. G. A. Mears, will next week open a bakery, confectionery and grocery store, in the building formerly occupied by W. B. Anderson & Co., on South Main street.
Messrs. J. D. Crowell, C. S. Copeland, Spartanburg, S. C.; B. G. Gaden, N. C.; Bert Henochsburg, Atlanta, Ga., and E. T. Jones, Baltimore, Md., were at the Swannanoa last night.
At the Grand Central last night: M. V. Moore, W. J. Atkins, W. W. Vandiver, A. R. Brown, Knoxville; G. W. Payne, R. & D. R. J. A. Irvine, Columbia, Tenn.; M. S. Hastings, Pine Bluff, Ark.
An exchange well and truly says: "Capt. R. B. Davis, of Hickory, one of the most prominent tobaccoists in the State, made an eloquent speech at Raleigh last week in the Stedman caucus. He is a fine speaker as well as raiser of fine tobacco."
It was one of the most elegant speeches we ever heard.
Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Reeves tendered an elegant reception last night at their residence on Spruce street to Dr. Frank Ramsey and bride, a large number of friends being present. The happy bride and groom certainly enter upon their new career under the most pleasing auspices, with the best wishes of hosts of friends.
Arrivals at the Grand Central yesterday were O. E. Williams, Indianapolis; T. G. Padgett and wife, Spartanburg, S. C.; W. J. Carly, J. H. Perry, J. H. Hollingsworth, Newport, Tenn.; J. J. Spain Hendersonville; G. A. Seteler, S. C.; N. R. Hampton, Polk county; Ed. Foster, Fairview; Andy Lowery, Frankfort; J. W. Fowle, Dillsboro; H. F. Burgin, Old Fort.

The City Doesn't Pay For It.
We are requested by Mr. L. Swicegood, to state to the public that the street sprinkler is his own individual property, and is not under the direction and management of the city council, as many people suppose. The city, Mr. S. states does not pay one penny towards running the sprinkler. It is run entirely by subscription from merchants doing business on the different streets in the city. Several merchants on Patton Avenue have refused to contribute towards sprinkling that street, and consequently Mr. Swicegood states that he feels in no way obliged to lay flying real estate on that thoroughfare, until such contributions as will meet expenses are made by the aforesaid business men.
Gents' Furnishing Goods at "half price"—9 Public Square. ditw
Parties frequently have advertisements inserted "ill forbid," and allow them to remain longer than they suspect, and then object to paying for such insertions. Our space costs are not so high. We hope there will be no further misunderstandings upon this point. It is much more satisfactory all round, to fix length of time and agree to rate of charges in the beginning.
New Millinery, beautiful colors and designs, just in at Whitlock's. ditw

Neat Typography.
One of the neatest and most artistic pieces of job printing we have yet seen executed in this city, is the annual announcement of the Asheville Female College, turned out by the firm of Randolph & Kerr, mercantile and general job printers of this city. The arrangement of matter, quality of paper, and general typographic get up of the circular is excellent. The map printing and tinting on the last page is equal in every respect to that done in our largest cities.
Who Are Most Benefitted.
Here is a frank statement, taken from an appeal sent out by the "National League" clubs to manufacturers and monopolists:
"We want money and want it at once. It may not be of your personal knowledge, but it is a fact that the manufacturers of Pennsylvania are more highly protected than anybody else and make large fortunes every year when times are prosperous."
As the Washington Post well remarks on this point, "we have the mask thrown aside, and the painted harlot of protection exposed in all her ghastly depravity. Men and brethren, shall we not make a strong and manly effort to overthrow this corrupt cabal. Or shall we, like cowards, submit tamely to their demands and yield to the systems of organized highway robbery, which they have practiced for many years?"
There is no pretense that the laboring man is most benefitted by the high republican protective tariff; but a recognition that the bloated manufacturers of the North are alone the beneficiaries, and to these go the appeals for money to us in debauching the ballot-box and aid in keeping up the present system of oppression.
Citizens Take Notice.
Below will be found the circular issued by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen relative to sections 618 and 619 of the Code of the city of Asheville. The proper sanitation of Asheville is a matter of the greatest importance, and we trust that our people will make all possible haste to comply with the law as set forth in that circular.
The Mayor and Aldermen of the city respectfully call the attention of all good citizens to the following ordinance, to the effect that the condition of the city, and especially every one to not only keep their own premises clean and in first rate order but to keep an eye on the condition of their neighbor's premises and report to the chief of police or sanitary inspector any violation of this ordinance.
We cannot, even in this healthful place be free from disease and sickness unless the city is kept clean. If the citizens do not comply strictly with the requirements of this regulation the sanitary inspector has special instructions to enforce the law to the letter. That our sewerage system is complete, and especially during the coming summer, we must double our exertions in respect to this matter. You must not delay it another day if your premises are not absolutely clean. The inspector is now on the rounds and will be during the entire summer and will spare no one in the discharge of his duties.
Sec. 618. The owners and occupants of all lots in the city of Asheville, upon which privies are situated, shall be responsible for the cleanliness of the same, and no privy shall be permitted to stand so near to any street as to be offensive to the passer-by, or permitted to remain in such a filthy condition as to be a nuisance or a source of danger to the public health. Any person or persons violating this ordinance shall be fined five dollars for each day it so remains; and all privies shall be thoroughly cleaned monthly, and oftener, if the inspector shall so require.
Sec. 619. It shall be the duty of the owner or occupant of every lot, all persons having, owning or controlling privies, not connected with the sewerage, within the sanitary limits, to have and use water tight receptacles, in which to receive all excreta; and it shall be the duty of such persons aforesaid to cause the contents of such receptacles to be deodorized or mixed with dry earth or fire coal ashes daily. Should any person or persons fail to comply with the requirements of this section thereof, he shall be fined ten dollars.

Take Notice.
I have taken William & Hoyt's, Rochester, N. Y. line of Misses', Children's and Infant's Shoes. They are the best wearing and neat style shoes that can be found anywhere. M. Levy.
Notice to Housekeepers.
The furniture, table ware, plated ware, pictures, ornaments, &c, formerly in Turner's Restaurant will positively be sold on Wednesday the 6th of June, at the Farmer's Warehouse in Asheville at 11 o'clock. These desirable articles will be on exhibition at the warehouse on Tuesday and on the day of sale.
Notice to Advertisers.
Parties frequently have advertisements inserted "ill forbid," and allow them to remain longer than they suspect, and then object to paying for such insertions. Our space costs are not so high. We hope there will be no further misunderstandings upon this point. It is much more satisfactory all round, to fix length of time and agree to rate of charges in the beginning.
New Millinery, beautiful colors and designs, just in at Whitlock's. ditw

THE FEDERAL BUILDING.
The Location Discussed at a Meeting Last Night.
A very large meeting was held last night, and free discussion of best site for the federal building indulged in.
Messrs. Nat Atkinson, Johnstone Jones, Sawyer, Chedester, W. T. Reynolds, Graham, Campbell, Dr. Williams, Slagle, and J. S. Starnes favored Patton Avenue. Messrs. Guider, Furman, E. D. Carter, J. S. Adams, Gwyn, favored near east of public square, while Messrs. Pennington, Martin, Rawls, D. C. Waddell, T. A. Jones favored South Main street.
Mr. Linton was present, and heard all who desired to speak. He will leave to-morrow for Washington, where he will determine the matter and report.
The Platform.
Of the National Democratic party is worthy the careful reading and fullest endorsement of the people of the whole country. It simply travels a great deal and visit many counties this summer. Farmers everywhere show an interest in this new work.
Will Visit Macon.
Mr. John Robinson, the Commissioner of Agriculture, will be in Macon county next week and will, for the first time, organize a farmer's institute west of the Blue Ridge. He will also establish a county experimenting farm. He says he expects to travel a great deal and visit many counties this summer. Farmers everywhere show an interest in this new work.
Lt. Francis Winslow.
The Raleigh correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch says:
"Lieutenant Francis Winslow, United States navy, has completed his survey for the State of the oyster waters. It was a great work and he has devoted to it two years of hard and earnest work, for which the State owes him a special debt of gratitude. The surveyed lands are rapidly being taken up. There are a great number of small buildings and many large tracts have been entered."

Battery Park Hotel.
Manager Steele is busy at work renovating and refitting the Battery Park hotel. New furniture, carpets, etc., are being put in, and extensive repairs are being made. Pending consideration politics get the upper hand, and several telegrams and bulletins were read as part of the speeches. Mr. Cox read the announcement of Thurman's nomination, and a scene of wild confusion followed. Nearly every able bodied Democrat was on his feet shouting and cheering, and banianing which had not been so prominent this morning mysteriously appeared in every hand. One enthusiast tied one to the stick of an umbrella and waved it vigorously. An enterprising reporter dexterously dropped one of the flaming symbols on each wing of the handsome golden eagle perched above the speakers' head, while the reading clerk, Neil Brown and Outwalt, of Ohio, displayed on the desk a large picture of Thurman surrounded by an aggressive roster.
Mr. Biggs, of California, added to the excitement by calling out in a voice broken with emotion, "I have worked thirty years in California to see Thurman nominated. Thank God he is now on the second place."
Finally, by Mr. Mill's efforts, the House was brought back to consideration of the pending amendments Dingley's amendment of yesterday was first amended and then rejected. Several other amendments were offered and rejected. The concluded consideration of the proviso attached to the lumber sections, and after the clerk had read the next article on the free list, "salt in bags, sacks, barrels or other packages, or in bulk, when imported from any country which does not charge an import duty upon salt exported from the United States," the committee rose.
Advertisers, Notice.
Advertisements or charges for Sunday Citizen should be handed on Friday evening or early Saturday morning to assure insertion.
Carriacole's Choice Cologne.
Fragrant and lasting, put up in quart, pint and half-pint, manufactured only by W. C. Carriacole, 20 S. Main street. ditw
A Choice Stock.
Of California canned goods, Ritter's Preserved fruits, Mince coffee, Salad dressing, Keystone Pickles, Grated Coconut, apple syrup, Catsup, fresh candies, Wilson's Crackers, Hats, Books and Shoes—cheaper than anybody else offers them in town, at Whitlock's. ditw
New Sateens.
at Whitlock's. ditw
New stock Bleached Domestic including Fridge of West, Wazamita, Fruit of Loom, 104 Bleached and unbleached meeting, just in at Whitlock's. ditw
Large stock of Mohr and Surah Silks, all shades, at Whitlock's. ditw
Miss Flora Whitlock, respectfully announces that she is now prepared to give lessons in INSTRUMENTAL and VOCAL MUSIC, thorough instruction given. For terms apply to No. 29 Woodland street, Asheville, N. C. ditw

Mad Dogs on Hominy.
Mad dogs have been doing great damage on South Hominy. Mr. Pink Thompson had a fine milch cow and a good horse bitten and had to kill both this week. No person, so far reported, has been bitten. Nearly every dog in the section has been killed. The people of that settlement have been greatly alarmed for some time. After Mr. Thompson killed his horse and cow the people on Curtis' creek and Morgan's branch turned out by general agreement shot every dog on either creek, of high or low degree, determined to stop the disturbance which has prevailed more or less since last October.
Another Ranaway.
Yesterday evening a horse belonging to Mr. J. H. Herring, and driven by Mr. R. L. Graham, of this city, became frightened in front of Sevier's stables on South Main street, and ran into the Racket store, throwing Mr. Graham, out of the vehicle, and against G. A. Seteler, the show windows of the store. The horse ran a short way down the center of the store when he was stopped. Mr. Graham had his left wrist severely cut by the broken glass, and the buggy was slightly damaged.

City Council.
The regular weekly session of the city council was held last night. Present, Mayor Harkins, Aldermen Miller, Scott, Westall, Wolfe, Fitzpatrick and Rankin. Capt. W. W. West, of the Graded School Committee, was before the Board in regard to an appropriation to meet the expenses of said school for the ensuing year. No definite action was taken by the Board in the matter.
Advertisement for Choice Cologne.
Fragrant and lasting, put up in quart, pint and half-pint, manufactured only by W. C. Carriacole, 20 S. Main street. ditw
A Choice Stock.
Of California canned goods, Ritter's Preserved fruits, Mince coffee, Salad dressing, Keystone Pickles, Grated Coconut, apple syrup, Catsup, fresh candies, Wilson's Crackers, Hats, Books and Shoes—cheaper than anybody else offers them in town, at Whitlock's. ditw
New Sateens.
at Whitlock's. ditw
New stock Bleached Domestic including Fridge of West, Wazamita, Fruit of Loom, 104 Bleached and unbleached meeting, just in at Whitlock's. ditw
Large stock of Mohr and Surah Silks, all shades, at Whitlock's. ditw
Miss Flora Whitlock, respectfully announces that she is now prepared to give lessons in INSTRUMENTAL and VOCAL MUSIC, thorough instruction given. For terms apply to No. 29 Woodland street, Asheville, N. C. ditw

Senator Morgan of Alabama heard the hypocritical radical party in its den on Thursday in the Senate on the Fisheries treaty. Mr. Morgan asked leave to alter the preamble and series of resolutions on the subject of the pending fisheries treaty, and Mr. Prance moved to refer them to the committee on foreign relations. The preamble recites that the report of the committee on foreign relations on the treaty raises a question whether the President had authority to negotiate such a treaty, or to appoint plenipotentiaries without previous consent of the Senate, and the resolutions to declare that the treaty has been duly negotiated and is lawful and valid.
Mr. Morgan insisted that he had a right to speak on the motion to refer, and in spite of the objection of Mr. Sherman and the ruling of the chair that he (Morgan) was out of order, Morgan proceeded, announcing that he intended to make this morning the speech which he made in executive session; if the Senate would give leave to have it printed he would do so without delay on the 10th of June.
The presiding officer, while ruling Morgan out of order, said that he had no means of enforcing his ruling, that was for the Senate, not the chair.
Mr. Morgan, with apparent indifference to the ruling, proceeded with the reading of printed slips of his speech in secret session. One of the sentences of his speech was "The Senate may make war necessary, as I am very much afraid we are doing here to day. In an allusion to the Republican Senators, Morgan said that the only preparation which they were making was an attempt to enlist the sympathies of the disaffected subjects of Her Majesty. Their action, he said, was doubtless with a view of exciting antagonism of Irish voters to the President because of his alleged subservency to British influences. That charge rankled with justice. Congress (he said) had given to the President the power which he has used to do so, and he was charged in the opinion of the majority of the committee on foreign relations with usurpation and with abuse of constitutional power, because he had sought to find a peaceable way to get the rights claimed by the United States, and the threat had been made by the committee of future dealing with the President held in reserve for the time being.
Mr. Morgan finished reading at 1:50 and the resolutions went over until to-morrow.

Mr. Morgan of California added to the excitement by calling out in a voice broken with emotion, "I have worked thirty years in California to see Thurman nominated. Thank God he is now on the second place."
Finally, by Mr. Mill's efforts, the House was brought back to consideration of the pending amendments Dingley's amendment of yesterday was first amended and then rejected. Several other amendments were offered and rejected. The concluded consideration of the proviso attached to the lumber sections, and after the clerk had read the next article on the free list, "salt in bags, sacks, barrels or other packages, or in bulk, when imported from any country which does not charge an import duty upon salt exported from the United States," the committee rose.
Advertisers, Notice.
Advertisements or charges for Sunday Citizen should be handed on Friday evening or early Saturday morning to assure insertion.
Carriacole's Choice Cologne.
Fragrant and lasting, put up in quart, pint and half-pint, manufactured only by W. C. Carriacole, 20 S. Main street. ditw
A Choice Stock.
Of California canned goods, Ritter's Preserved fruits, Mince coffee, Salad dressing, Keystone Pickles, Grated Coconut, apple syrup, Catsup, fresh candies, Wilson's Crackers, Hats, Books and Shoes—cheaper than anybody else offers them in town, at Whitlock's. ditw
New Sateens.
at Whitlock's. ditw
New stock Bleached Domestic including Fridge of West, Wazamita, Fruit of Loom, 104 Bleached and unbleached meeting, just in at Whitlock's. ditw
Large stock of Mohr and Surah Silks, all shades, at Whitlock's. ditw
Miss Flora Whitlock, respectfully announces that she is now prepared to give lessons in INSTRUMENTAL and VOCAL MUSIC, thorough instruction given. For terms apply to No. 29 Woodland street, Asheville, N. C. ditw

Mad Dogs on Hominy.
Mad dogs have been doing great damage on South Hominy. Mr. Pink Thompson had a fine milch cow and a good horse bitten and had to kill both this week. No person, so far reported, has been bitten. Nearly every dog in the section has been killed. The people of that settlement have been greatly alarmed for some time. After Mr. Thompson killed his horse and cow the people on Curtis' creek and Morgan's branch turned out by general agreement shot every dog on either creek, of high or low degree, determined to stop the disturbance which has prevailed more or less since last October.
Another Ranaway.
Yesterday evening a horse belonging to Mr. J. H. Herring, and driven by Mr. R. L. Graham, of this city, became frightened in front of Sevier's stables on South Main street, and ran into the Racket store, throwing Mr. Graham, out of the vehicle, and against G. A. Seteler, the show windows of the store. The horse ran a short way down the center of the store when he was stopped. Mr. Graham had his left wrist severely cut by the broken glass, and the buggy was slightly damaged.

City Council.
The regular weekly session of the city council was held last night. Present, Mayor Harkins, Aldermen Miller, Scott, Westall, Wolfe, Fitzpatrick and Rankin. Capt. W. W. West, of the Graded School Committee, was before the Board in regard to an appropriation to meet the expenses of said school for the ensuing year. No definite action was taken by the Board in the matter.
Advertisement for Choice Cologne.
Fragrant and lasting, put up in quart, pint and half-pint, manufactured only by W. C. Carriacole, 20 S. Main street. ditw
A Choice Stock.
Of California canned goods, Ritter's Preserved fruits, Mince coffee, Salad dressing, Keystone Pickles, Grated Coconut, apple syrup, Catsup, fresh candies, Wilson's Crackers, Hats, Books and Shoes—cheaper than anybody else offers them in town, at Whitlock's. ditw
New Sateens.
at Whitlock's. ditw
New stock Bleached Domestic including Fridge of West, Wazamita, Fruit of Loom, 104 Bleached and unbleached meeting, just in at Whitlock's. ditw
Large stock of Mohr and Surah Silks, all shades, at Whitlock's. ditw
Miss Flora Whitlock, respectfully announces that she is now prepared to give lessons in INSTRUMENTAL and VOCAL MUSIC, thorough instruction given. For terms apply to No. 29 Woodland street, Asheville, N. C. ditw

OUR BOSTON LETTER.
Interesting Society Events at the Hub
Boston, May 31, 1888.
There has stood over us the past few weeks that inexorable Nemesis with broom and brush, and paint and whitewash, the annual Spring cleaning, which turns every household into chaos, that order may come, and makes the Spring a time of dirt and confusion that the Summer may be clean and peaceful.
Well that is over now, and we have found ourselves the past week plunged into the May anniversaries. The programme for the week has given an immense number of meetings, of several religious denominations, and of all kinds of moral and educational societies. Selected from the many those most characteristic of this period, we went last Sunday morning to the Church of the Unity, Rev. Mr. Savage's, to hear Mr. Laura Ormiston Chant of London. Mr. Savage represents the advanced wing of the Unitarians, and his pulpit is the only one which Mrs. Chant has been invited to occupy in this city.
Mr. Savage conducted the preliminary service of prayer and singing as usual, then in his characteristic style gave the address. She is a medium sized lady, with clear colorless complexion, dark hair thrown back from a broad forehead, and dressed in a neat gown of soft wool, and her voice which is of wonderful sweetness, could be heard distinctly in all manner of the church. Her subject was the "Progress of Religious Thought in England," and she held the audience perfectly for more than forty minutes—but we thought she represented only a small number of English thinkers, as Unitarianism represents only a small number in this country.
Tuesday afternoon came the meeting of the Unitarian Women's Auxiliary. The Church of the Disciples, Rev. Mr. Clark's, was packed with ladies, and a few gentlemen.
Mrs. Andrews, a white haired woman, of grave and stately manners, presided. Papers were read by two bright ladies from Brooklyn and New York, who said it was a new thing for them to appear in public. These papers were followed by a paper read from Mrs. Wilkes of Dakota, a missionary who travels from point to point in that State, selecting the most promising for missionary work, and starting services in school-houses and halls, as far as possible. Mrs. Wilkes has a remarkably sweet voice, and wins in manner, and she appeared strongly to the luxurious daughters of the East. "To come over to Macedonia and help them," closing this appeal with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion." Miss Lezette of Wisconsin then spoke, saying she was the first ordained woman minister beyond the Mississippi. She asked for money for her little church, and a lady suggested that while their hearts were warm, a collection should be taken. This resulted in the hundreds of dollars, being immediately contributed.
Then came the address which gave the greatest delight to all, that of Pundia (Mahab) it was her farewell address before this society, as she soon will leave the United States, carrying to India thirteen thousand dollars, raised to build a school for the poor in that country. In this work the Episcopalians, Ladies of Trinity, were the pioneers, but the Unitarian ladies and those of other denominations have given generous help. The Pundia is lovely, a person, with dark complexion and soft eyes, and has a beautiful smile in her flowing robes of pure white.
Wednesday afternoon came the Woman's Suffrage Convention, and we heard a grand old lady, mother of the audience, that wonderful book Ben Hur, plead for women. Mrs. Chant spoke again; also the Baroness Gripenberg, from Finland, and Miss Aili Frigga, from Sweden; the latter a young teacher and newspaper correspondent, who is said to be the Mark Train of her own country. She is a strikingly jolly girl, whose wit and wit in imperfect English convulsed the house with laughter. She read a paper on "Moral Training in Schools," which was warmly received. She said "now I shall speak English, and I must tell you some more," and closed with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion." I shall come again, and you will see; a most fascinating little woman, and thoroughly in earnest.
The meeting of the Moral Education Society on Thursday morning was one of great significance, beginning at the very root of reform.
To a crowded house of gentlemen and ladies, Mrs. Maria Upham Drake presented the claims of the lady, spoke of the misery caused by our lax divorce laws, and the evils of our luxurious civilization. Mrs. Chant followed with her farewell speech before leaving America. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization. She concluded with a grand old hymn, "The old time religion," especially that for the blind; our efforts for co-education and for advanced education for women; pleaded for the abolition of child-labor, and for the better training of girls for ballet dancing; begged we would admit more sunlight into our dwellings, for health and morals, and health and morals are the basis of civilization