DAILY EDITION.

Furman, Stone & Cameron,
Editors and Proprietors.

SUBSCRIPTION:

DAILY, One Year, . . . $6.00
" Six Months, . . . 3.00
WEEKLY, One Year, . . . 1.50
" Six Months, ...75

Advertising Rates Low.

The Asheville Citizen.

VOL IV.—NO 72. ASHEVILLE, N. C. WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 4 1888. PRICE 5 CENTS

THE DAILY CITIZEN

Will be published every Morning (except Monday) at the following rates—strictly cash:

One Year, ... $6 00
Six Months, ... 3 00
Three " 1 50
One " 50
One Week, ... 15

Our Carriers will deliver the paper every Morning in every part of the city to our subscribers, and parties wanting it will please call at the CITIZEN Office.

LARGER DAILY AND WEEKLY CIRCULATION IN WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA AND EAST TENNESSEE THAN ANY OTHER PAPER. CONSTANTLY INCREASING.

Send your Job Work of all kinds to the Citizen Office, if you want it done neatly, cheaply and with dispatch.

Arrival and Departure of Passenger Trains.

SALISBURY—Arrives 5:08 p. m. leaves for Morristown at 5:18 p. m
TENNESSEE Arrives at 1.25 p. m., and leaves at 1:35 p m. Arrives at 9:41 p. m., and leaves for Spartanburg at 9:50 p. m.
SPARTANBURG—Arrives at 9 a. m., leaves for Morristown at 8:10 a. m. Freight accommodation leaves Asheville at 8:10 a. m., and arrives at 9:00 p. m.
WAYNESVILLE—Leaves Asheville at 8:00 a. m., and arrives at 4:50 p. m.

New Advertisements.

To the Public—Theodore Hobgood.
Notice of Sale of Land—J. R. Graham, Mortgagee.

Mr. J. C. S. Bird, of Marion, is in the city.

Capt. J. A. Nichols, of Marshall, is at the Swannanoa.

Mr. Sol Edel yesterday sold his two bears and cage for $15.

The Asheville Light Infantry had their regular drill last night.

Messrs. J. A. Wray and C. V. Bostic, of Shelby, are in the city.

Quite a party Ashevillians spent the day at Round Knob yesterday.

Geo. G. Eaves, Esq., editor of the Marion Bugle, is at the Grand Central.

To day being a national holiday all the banks in the city will be closed.

The Steen-Rouclere Combination played to a Morristown audience last night.

The uniform hats for the Young Men's Democratic Club will be here this week.

Is Bingham hid away in the Smoky Mountains? Detectives think he is.

Democratic clubs will be organized at Leicester and Flat Creek on Saturday next.

The regular meeting of Asheville Lodge, I. O. O. F., was held at their hall last night.

Where are you going on the 4th of July? To see the Steen Family at the Opera House.

Mrs. Dr. Arrington who has been on a visit to friends in Statesville, has returned to the city.

We would advise all our readers to attend the performance of the Steen-Rouclere company to-night.

Tobacco breaks at the warehouses yesterday were larger and prices much better than they were the day before.

Seats will be on sale to-day at Carson's book store, next door to postoffice for the Steen-Rouclere entertainment.

Mr. C. C. Ross, of Okalona, Miss., is at the Grand Central. He is here on a pleasure trip, and will remain several weeks.

The Steen Family will have "standing room" only, at the opera house Wednesday night. Secure your seats at once.

Mr. S. Brafman, of Baltimore is in the city. He is the proprietor of the popular clothing store on Patton Avenue managed by Mr. M. Sackerman.

Dr. R. S. Allen, of Waynesville, and one of the proprietors of the celebrated Haywood White Sulphur Springs this season, is in the city.

Rev. Mr. Inman, of Mississippi, a clergyman of the Christian denomination, will preach at the Bailey street Christian church on Sunday morning next at 11 o'clock.

We would advise all our readers to go at once to Sawyer's and secure good seats for the Steen-Rouclere company who will be at the Opera House Wednesday and Thursday evenings, July 4 and 5.

Messrs. Bostic, Blanton & Co., will sell eleven lots at public auction this morning. These are choice lots and are located on Southside avenue and McDowell street. The sale will take place at 12 m.

The Asheville Normal school opened in this city yesterday. A large attendance was present, and the exercises of the session were most pleasant. We regret that the crowded condition of our columns preclude a more extensive notice of yesterday's proceedings.

MARTHA E. STEEN.

Seats on sale at Carson's for the Steen Family.

Proprietor W. D. Sprague, of the Round Knob hotel, was in the city yesterday.

Regular meeting of Asheville Lodge S. of T., was held at their hall last night.

Regular meeting of Mt. Hermon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., will be held at ther hall to-morrow night.

Quite a number of real estate transfers were admitted to probate in Clerk Reynold's office yesterday.

Those who have not secured seats for the Steen Family to-night had better secure them at once at Carson's book store.

A mass meeting of independents will be held here on the 21st inst. "The power behind the throne" is awkwardly apparent.

The regular meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Club will be held to-morrow night at 8:30 o'clock. A large attendance is earnestly requested.

Every merchant and business man in the city should close his place to day, and celebrate the Fourth in a thoroughly patriotic American manner.

The Asheville Advance, under its new management, will make its appearance on or about the 10th inst., as we are informed by proprietor Geo. W. Cannon, Esq.

A lively runaway down Chestnut, up Woodfin, up North Main and down Patton Avenue, created considerable excitement yesterday afternoon. No damage done.

Mr. C. W. Malone, as administrator, yesterday sold the estate of the late 'Squire Fisher, in Limestone township, containing seventy acres, to J. J. Fisher, Esq., for $1,125.

Dr. T. C. Smith yesterday received a magnificent soda water fountain for his new drug store, from the celebrated factory of Chas. B. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia.

Don't forget that the Steen-Rouclere combination will give one of the most novel and mysterious performances at Opera Hall to-night ever witnessed by an Asheville audience.

Mrs. John W. Wiley and Miss Nellie Moreland, of Mobile, Ala., are in the city, stopping at Mrs. W. T. Reynolds, on Woodfin street. They will spend the summer months in Asheville.

Hon. Thos. D. Johnston will represent the Young Men's Democratic Club at the convention of the National League of democratic clubs, which will be held at Baltimore to-day.

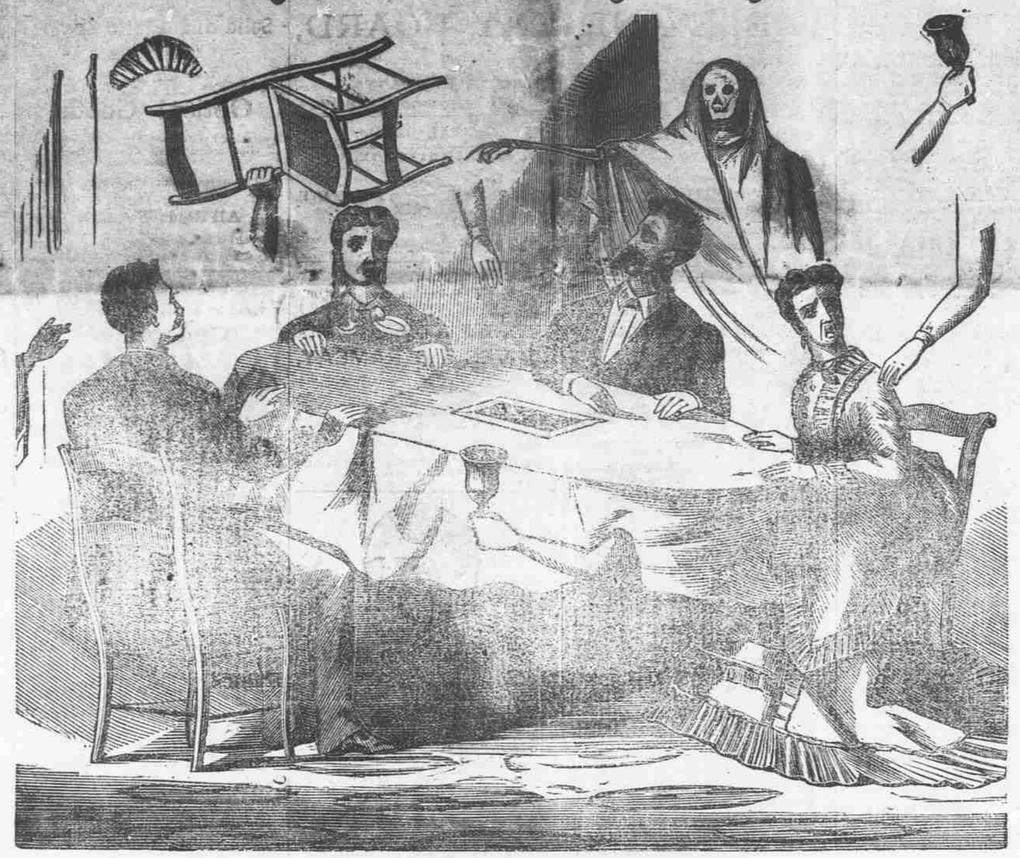
The total receipts from the sale of lots on Southside avenue and McDowell street, yesterday, amounted to $1063. They were sold at auction by Bostic, Blanton & Co., and Geo. A. Shuford.

Mr. D. F. Summey, one of Asheville's best known and most popular young gentlemen, will leave this morning for Charlotte, where he goes to accept a situation with Anthony & Bryce of that city.

Maj. Jas. G. Martin, A. A. G., N. C. S. G., left last evening for Morehead City, and will from there go to Wrightsville, reaching the latter place on the evening of the 16th. He will participate in the encampment exercises.

During a "show" at Caleb Carpenter's, Gaston, county, Saturday night, two brothers named Thornsburg forced their way in, and on being ejected opened fire on the showman wounding him and killing an auditor named Lee Aderhold. The murderer escaped.

Mr. Dockery will appear at Nashville, this State, to-day and speak, it is said, though he has not yet accepted the nomination for the Governorship. Now you see him and now you don't, as the thimble-rigger would say. Just like Dockery, but Fowle will lift his shirt for him nevertheless.



ROUCLERE.

A MYSTERIOUS MEETING.

WHAT A REPORTER SAW AND HEARD LAST NIGHT.

Asheville Detectives in Close Conversation With Strangers—Who are They?

Gathered together around a table, in one of the second floor rooms of the city hall building last night, a group of four men were conversing in undertones, and the bull's-eye lantern upon the table gave a yellow and subdued light upon the group and objects in the room.

A CITIZEN reporter who was on his last rounds for the night, looking for any stray item that might be afloat, noticed the light from the room above mentioned while standing on the corner of north court square. Thinking that something unusual was up, and knowing positively that certain investigations were pending in this city, the reporter hurried across the intervening street in a very short space of time. Gaining the head of the steps in the city hall, he knocked at the door of the room in which he had seen the light, but no response to the rapping was made. Again, and again, he sought entrance, but no entrance did he secure. His mind then reverted to the Steen-Rouclere mediums, and he wondered within himself, whether or not their spirits had arrived and were locked up in that room for safe-keeping for further reference or use. The reporter kept quiet; he couldn't make a noise to save his life, and the beads of perspiration stood upon his forehead like rows of buckshot. In a few moments, however, he heard sounds emanating from the interior, which no doubt belonged to spirits of a very earthly order, and then the reporter listened for all he was worth. Next he peeped through the key hole and saw the scene described above. At the head of the table sat W. H. Deaver, chief of the Pinion Detective Agency, and at his left was seated Chas. J. Harkins, Deaver's right bower. Immediately in front of them sat two large, sharp-eyed, hawk-nosed strangers, with beards almost covering their entire faces. That the latter were in disguise, was evident from their appearances. A map or drawing was spread out on the table between the men, and they were intently inspecting its lines, creeks and strips of forests. Deaver was in his shirt-sleeves, and the two strangers had their hats pulled down closely over their foreheads.

All at once, one of the strangers exclaimed: "If Bingham is not in that locality, I'll never put my foot on North Carolina soil again!"

The reporter's eyes and ears were wide open now, and when Deaver said, "Well, I'll take your word for it, but I don't believe it," he knew that the detectives were again at work on the celebrated Bingham-Turlington murder case, which occurred near Morrisville nearly one year ago.

"But I tell you, he is hid in these mountains. He owns land in this section, and I will go over every inch of ground between the Smoky mountains and Chattaloochee river and I'll find him."

"It seems to me that we have got Bingham dead to right this time," remarked the second stranger detective, "and for my part I am willing to take the job."

And then a photograph of Bingham was examined and commented upon, and the contents of a suspicious looking black bottle were sampled.

Then Deaver broke out again with: "I will make all the preparations, and we will try it again. This is the seventh trip we have made for Bingham, and I've about made up my mind that we'll never find him."

"I've worked up harder jobs than this," said one of the strangers, "and during my thirty-five years of detective life I've made only three mistakes. Bingham is alive and in those woods!"

A lull then occurred in the conversation, and the reporter again knocked at the door for admission, and this time Deaver came to the door.

"Let me in," said the scribe.

"I cannot," replied the detective, "I am working up a 'grave yard' scrape, and I will tell you about it when I come back."

"Where are you going?" interrogated the reporter.

"I am going trout fishing in the Smoky Mountains before I get back," was the reply.

And then he came out and walked with the reporter to the court yard gate.

The reporter went back to the room and waited until he thought he could hear something more about the secret caucus, but everything was as still as death at a rendezvous. A darkey says he saw three men leave the station house on horseback, at about twelve o'clock, but did not know who they were.

What the result of the caucus will be, we await with anxiety. In the meanwhile, however, Deaver thinks he hoodwinked the reporter, but—did he?

A Fishing Trip.

Dr. H. B. Weaver and Rev. R. G. Pearson leave this morning for a fishing trip on Cane River. They will first stop at Big Tom Wilson's and secure him as a guide, etc. The trip will embrace about ten days.

No "Citizen" To-Morrow.

As is customary with all well regulated establishments in this country the CITIZEN will give its force holiday to-day, and hence there will be no paper issued in the morning.

Conundrum.

Why is the CITIZEN like the exhibition of the world renowned Steen-Rouclere company?

Because it gives valuable information and also gives value for what it receives.

St. Laurence's.

Rev. Father J. B. White, having returned from Baltimore, will hold services at St. Laurence's Catholic church to-morrow (Thursday), morning, at 9 o'clock. Services will be held on Sundays as usual, at 11 o'clock, a. m.

A Reception.

A very pleasant farewell reception was tendered Mr. Dan F. Summey, by Prof. H. O. Himes, at the latter's rooms on South Main street, last evening. Invitations were issued to fifty gentlemen, of which number forty-five were present. A choice collation was partaken of at the close of the reception, and many hearty good wishes were extended Mr. Summey, for his success and prosperity in his new home.

Notice to Advertisers.

Parties frequently have advertisements inserted "till forbid," and allow them to remain longer than they suspect, and then object to paying for such insertions. Our space costs us money, and we must and will charge for its use. All parties may expect to pay full transient rates for all "till forbid" advertisements. We hope there will be no further misunderstandings upon this point. It is much more satisfactory all round, to fix length of time and agree to rate of charges in the beginning.

Advertisers, Notice.

Advertissments or changes for Sunday' CITIZEN should be handed on Friday evening or early Saturday morning to insure insertion.

Asheville Home and Loan Association.

Wednesday, July 4th being a National holiday, the dues of the association will be collected Thursday, July 5th, at the Bank of Asheville.
E. I. HOLMES,
Secretary.

The re-union of soldiers who participated in the battle of Gettysburg, those who wore the blue with those who wore the gray—was a most notable, a most inspiring event. Federal and Confederate soldier vied with each other in commemorating the occasion. Federal general and confederate general, federal private and confederate private, who bore part in that awful but historic event mingled together, talked over the incidents, each justly proud of the exhibition of his own side, but all standing as the heroic reliance of one grand union and country, made grander and more united by the blood shed on this and similar fields by Americans. God smiled on this union at Gettsburg, as He will smile on the great union which all heartily support.

Hurrah for Asheville.

Mr. H. Langsdorf of the Atlanta Rubber Stamp Manufacturing Company, Richmond, Va., the largest of its kind in the United States is in our city, taking orders for their superior Rubber Stamps. Mr. Langsdorf came here direct from Charlotte, N. C., where he has been since April 1st, placing over 2000 Stamps in that city. Their Indelible Self-Inking Linen Marker, expressly made for marking Linen, is said to be the best ever patented.

Mr. Langsdorf is stopping at the Cowan residence on Haywood st Any communication where to call will be promptly attended to. dtf

Two car-loads of fresh watermelons to-day at Starnes and Davenport's, 40 N. Main street.

Call at the Farmers' Warehouse on North Main street and see some cheap Sewing Machines.

W. H. Littleton, a practical machinist is there to repair, sell or buy Sewing Machines—call on him and get your needles, oil and parts. dlw

Prescriptions filled from a well kept stock of drugs and chemicals, and delivered free to any part of city. Night bell promptly answered.
W. C. CARMICHAEL, Apothecary,
20 S. Main street,
Asheville, N. C

Two car-loads of fresh watermelons to-day at Starnes and Davenport's, 40 N. Main street.

Mrs. Ayer's New Life, Paine's Celery Compound, and Scotch Oats Essence are among the new remedies just received by
W. C. CARMICHAEL,
Apothecary

CHAS. N. STEEN.

The Steens' and Rouclere at Opera House To-night.

Asheville will have one of the richest treats of the season to-night and for to-morrow night, in the shape of the marvelous Steens' the world renowned second-sight seers, and the latest European novelty, Mons. Rouclere, the great fantesieste. We can cheerfully recommend this attraction as being all that it is advertised, judging from the many complimentary notices we have seen from our exchanges. They have played in nearly all the principal southern cities to an immense run of business, and they certainly ought to duplicate their success at other place in Asheville. Mrs. Steen has baffled the scientists in all parts of the world, and her powers of mind reading remain as yet a veritable puzzle which nobody can explain. She tells the age of any person in the audience, even to the day and hour they were born, and exactly what they are thinking about if they wish to know. The materialization of spirit forms is another mystifying part of this superb entertainment. Mr. Rouclere, the famous fantesiest, is beyond doubt the cleverest artist in this particular line in America. He comes direct from the Grand Hippodrome, Paris, France, and this is his second season in this country. So deft are the seemingly impossible feats accomplished that one wonders how long one would have to practice to reach the perfection that this artist has attained. We would advise our readers to go to-night, and we can safely guarantee none will regret it, as this will be the best company that ever has visited Asheville and we hope our citizens will not fail to avail themself of seeing these wounderfully gifted people and give them a crowded house each night. Seats are now on sale at J. P. Sawyer's.

An Accident.

Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, Woody Allison and another man, while engaged in removing a car load with four thousand feet of lumber, at the Asheville furniture factory, had the misfortune to have their hands badly mashed and lacerated by the slipping of the car. Medical assistance was immediately rendered, and the patients are doing well, under the circumstnces.

The Fourth at Sulphur Springs.

The celebration of the glorious 4th at the Asheville Sulphur Springs to day will consist of a picnic, in which several parties from this city will participate. The Gun Club will indulge in ball and pigeon shooting, and the day's festivities will close with a dance in the ball-room of the hotel at night with a brilliant display of fire works. Several society people from the city will "trip the light fantastic" until the "wee sma' hours," and thus will end, perhaps, the only celebration of Independence Day, in Asheville and vicinity.

The Madison Rifles.

One of the largest military companies yet organized west of Salisbury, is the Madison Rifles, Capt. J. A. Nichols, commanding. P. M. Hudgings, is first lieutenant, and W. C. Sprinkles, second lieutenant. The muster roll shows fifty-five members as follows, rank and file:

J. A. Nichols, P. M. Hudgins, Jno. Lawson, R. M. Lance, F. B. Lawson, J. F. Redman, D. F. Lawson, N. H. Rice, M. W. Lance, J. A. Reagan, W. R. Sams, W. C. Clark, Jno. Jarrett, W. R. Fisher, Geo. W. White, James White, W. C. Sprinkle, W. J. Gentry, J. W. Nelson, J. W. Roberts, Z. V. Fisher, D. A. Robinett, C. B. Candler, C. W. Tweed, W. A. Houston, Frank Roberts, S. C. Chandley, R. N. Ramsay, J. J. Ramsay, W. B. Wild, W. E. Ammons, R. N. Jones, J. K. Robinson, J. E. Bryan, J. W. Sprinkle, L. J. Candler, Lee Henderson, John Wilbar, R. M. Ramsay, J. T. Tipton, E. Y. Tipton, B. T. Chandley, F. C. Ebbs, D. C. Robinson, N. K. McLean, Paul Gage, A. B. Sams, Jr., J. P. Brank, Joe. Brank.

For Rent.

For 3, 6 or 12 months one of the neatest and most attractive cottage homes in the city, 7 rooms, handsomely furnished throughout, stoves in every room, well of pure water under shelter, stable, carriage, coal and wood houses all complete, in one square of Battery Park, good neighborhood. Apply at the CITIZEN office.

Two car-loads of fresh melons to-day at Starnes & Davenport's, 40 N. Main Street.

Wright's Pond Lily Toilet Lotion is the best and cheapest floral preparation for the toilet and bath, also a splendid thing for cleansing purposes, 25c. a bottle at CARMICHAEL'S.

To make room for our large Spring stock we will sell goods exceedingly cheap for the next ten days.
dtf W. A. BLAIR & CO.

Two car-loads of fresh melons to day at Starnes & Davenport's, 40 N. Main Street.

BISHOP LEO HAID, O. S. B.

North Carolina's New Bishop Consecrated Sunday.

For the benefit of our Catholic, as well as non-Catholic readers, we give the following account of the elevation of the Right Reverend Abbot Leo Haid, O. S. B. of Mary-Help's Abbey, at Belmont, Gaston county, this State, will be consecrated at St. Peter's Cathedral, Baltimore, on Sunday morning. The Catholic clergy in attendance upon the consecration from North Carolina were the Very Rev. Mark S. Gross, V. G., of Charlotte, Rev. Jas. B. White, of St. Laurence's church, this city, and Father Julius Pohl, Director of St. Mary's College, at Belmont. Bishop Haid is the fourth prelate of the State, succeeding the Right Reverend Harry Pinckney Northrop, who succeeded no less a dignitary than Cardinal James Gibbons.

"Bishop Leo Haid was consecrated bishop at the Cathedral yesterday. He is an abbot of the Benedictine Order, and wears, in common with the Benedictines, a full, flowing beard. Cardinal Gibbons was the celebrant of the mass and chief consecrator. He was assisted by Bishop Thos. A. Becker, of Savannah, and J. J. Kain, of Wheeling. The deacons of honor at the Cardinal's throne were the Rev. John R. Slattery, the head of the new St. Joseph's Seminary, and Father Celestine, a Benedictine, of North Carolina. The Rev. Richard Albert was deacon of the mass, and the Rev. Charles J. Judge, of St. Charles College, sub-deacon, Bishop John J. Keane, of Richmond, rector of the Catholic University at Washington preached the sermon, and Rev. A. Magnien, D. D., of St. Mary's Seminary, read the Pope's bulls, one of which appointed Abbot Haid Bishop of Messenia, in Greece, and the other making him Vicar Apostolic of North Carolina.

The ceremonies began with the procession, which entered the Cathedral shortly after half past 10 a. m. Following the censer-bearer came the altar boys in scarlet cassocks, the Benedictines in their black cowled cassocks, and the clergy of other orders. Next came Bishop elect Leo Haid, attended by Bishops Becker and Kain, and then came Cardinal Gibbons, the train of his red robe being upheld by two altar boys.

Crowds of people attended the ceremony, which lasted from half past ten a. m. until half past two o'clock p. m. Every pew was filled and many persons stood. The sanctuary was beautiful with its white altar and statuary, and the light of the several hundred candles, with the sunlight in the alcove, produced a soft radiance that illuminated the brilliant colors of the rich vestments.

Bishop elect Haid was conducted to the sanctuary, where, after assuming the vestments of white and gold, he was consecrated. The ceremonies began with the reading of the papal appointments, followed by the vows and symbols of obedience, the anointing of the head of the elect with oil, his proffer of the symbols of wine, loaves and candles to the church and his receipt of the blessed crozier, ring, mitre and open Bible, with the command to go and preach. At the close he walked through the church, bestowing his blessing, while the Te Deum was sung by the choir.

Among the clergy assisting were Monsignor James A. Corcoran, D. D., of Overbrook Seminary, Philadelphia; Rev. F. Cheneau, of St. Charles; Father Luke, of the Passionist Order; Rev. E. Didier, of St. Vincent's; Rev. Wm. E. Bartlett, of St. Ann's; Very Rev. Mark S. Gross, vicar-general, of North Carolina; Rev. Thomas S. Lee, of the Cathedral, and others.

Bishop Leo Haid is a slender man of good figure and a decided brunette type, having dark hair, full black beard and dark complexion. He is 38 years old, and was born near Latrobe, Pennsylvania, forty miles east of Pittsburg. When 11 years old he went to St. Vincent's College, an institution attached to the Benedictine abbey, one mile from his birthplace. Graduating in 1868, he followed classics and philosophy, with a business college course. He taught commercial branches and civil law at St. Vincent's from 1869 to 1885, and he was ordained a priest in 1872. In 1885, he went to the new Abbey of Mary Help, founded by Cardinal Gibbons, and built upon a plantation given by the Cardinal when he was Bishop of North Carolina, in 1876. Bishop Haid is president of St. Mary's College, Gaston county, N. C.—Baltimore Sun.

Two car-loads of fresh melons to-day at Starnes and Davenport's, 40 N. Main Street.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

NOTICE OF SALE OF CITY REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a mortgage made to the undersigned by Jno. Straith and wife Kittie Straith, on the 15th day of February, 1887, which is duly registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of Buncombe county, North Carolina, in Book 9 of said office on pages 548 et seq., on the 3d day of August, 1888, between 12 M. and 1 P. M., we will sell, at public outcry, at the Court House door, in the city of Asheville, in said county, for cash to the highest bidder, "all that certain piece or parcel of land or city lot, situate, lying and being in the city of Asheville, in the county of Buncombe and State of North Carolina, and on the Southern side of Patton Avenue, in said city, and bounded and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a stake in said Southern margin of Patton Avenue, the North-West corner of "Cellie Park," and running with Southern margin of Patton Avenue, South 74 degrees West 44 feet to a stake in the Southern margin of Patton Avenue; thence South 16 degrees East 309 feet to a stake; thence North 74 degrees East 44 feet to a stake in the Western boundary line of said "Cellie Park;" thence with said Western boundary line of Nellie Park North 15 degrees West 319 feet to the beginning, containing 14006 square feet, more or less."
J. R. GRAHAM,
Chas. A. Moore, attorney. Mortgagee.
july 4dlaw