

REPUBLICAN DECLARATIONS ON TARIFF REDUCTION.

Compiled From Official Sources. (We begin to day publishing extracts from speeches and official papers of leading Republican statesmen regarding adjustment, equalization and reduction of tariff taxation. We will, from day to day present a column of these extracts, and ask our readers, all readers, to carefully read them, and then read them to their neighbors.)

SENATOR ALLISON, March 24, 1870: I will say with regard to the duty on wool and wools, that I regard it not as an intentional fraud, but as operating as it were, a fraud upon the great body of the people of the United States. I think to the wool tariff, a law, the effect of which has been to materially injure the sheep husbandry of this country. In single country in the State of Iowa, between 1867 and 1868, the number of sheep was reduced from 250,000 to about 150,000 in two years, and what is true of this country is true to a greater or less extent of other countries in Iowa, and during this time the price of wool has been constantly depreciated.

Mr. Lawrence—I should like the gentleman to inform me in a reduced rate of the duties on wool and woolen goods would insure to the advantage of the wool grower? Mr. Allison—I will tell the gentleman how, in my judgment, the wool grower will be benefited. As the law now is the tariff upon fine wool is produced in this country is 100 per cent. upon their cost. The tariff upon woolens of the same class is only about 50 per cent., so that the finer woolen goods are imported, and not the coarser fabrics. Before the tariff of 1867 our manufacturers of fine goods could not compete with our domestic product, and were thus able to compete successfully with the foreign manufacturer of similar wools. But being prohibited from importing this class of wools, these fine goods cannot now be produced in this country as cheaply as they can be imported. Consequently, mills that were formerly engaged in producing these goods have been compelled to abandon business or manufacture the coarse fabrics. If they could afford to manufacture those fine goods, they would make a market which we do not now have, for our fine wools of a different character from abroad. This want of a market for our fine wools, it is the reason why our fine wools now command so low a price. There is no demand for them in this country, and they do not export them in competition with fine wools grown in other countries.

REPUBLICAN VOICE FOR FREE COAL, March 6, 1870: Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means is hereby instructed at the earliest moment practicable to report a bill to this House which shall abolish the tariff on coal so as to secure the important article of fuel to the people free from all taxes.

SENATOR ALLISON, of Iowa, March 24, 1870: The agricultural interest, it will be seen, is much the largest interest in its aggregate product as well as in the number of persons employed. I believe no one will claim that this large interest is directly protected. It is true that under custom laws there is a small duty upon wheat, barley, oats, and other agricultural products, but it does not afford any protection to the great wheat and producing regions of the country.

What is true of wheat is equally true of other grains. Therefore, the farmer has practically no protection at all, and whatever benefit he derives is from what the home market furnishes for home products. Unfortunately for the farmer, the market price of wheat is fixed by the price which the surplus will bring abroad, or the price of wheat in London or Liverpool. At that market, where the surplus is sold, and which fixes the value of the whole crop, he comes in competition with the grain produced in the Crimea, in Hungary, and in the region of the Baltic, from fields cultivated by what is known as the "black soil" of the Crimea, in comparison with our own, as poorer labor.

But I am told we must so legislate as to furnish a home market for all our agricultural products, and this can only be done by a high tariff. Any one examining the subject will see that the agricultural products increase more rapidly than our population, so that if we do not export these products in their natural condition, we must do so by converting them into manufactured articles and export those articles. But this cannot be done under a high tariff, and the result will be that the manufacturer will sell the cheapest products, and the nation selling the cheapest will control the market. This rule excludes our highly taxed manufactures made from highly taxed materials from the markets of the world, although we have natural advantages possessed by no other nation.

SENATOR MORRILL, of Vermont, 1870: It is a mistake of the friends of a sound tariff to insist upon the extreme rates imposed during the war.

SENATOR WILLIAM B. ALLISON, of Iowa, March 24, 1870: The tariff of 1840, although confessedly a tariff for revenue, was so far as regards all the great interests of the country, as perfect a tariff as any that we have ever had.

But I may be asked how this reduction shall be made. I think it should be made upon all leading articles, or nearly all, and for that purpose, when I can get an opportunity in the House, if no gentleman does before me, I shall move that the pending bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means, with instructions to report a reduction upon existing rates of duty equivalent to 20 per cent. upon existing rates, or one-fifth reduction. (The Mills bill proposes a reduction of 10 per cent.)

SENATOR EUGENE HALL, of Maine: The duty upon salt is now 18 cents per 100 pounds in bulk and 24 cents in sacks. The best Turk's Island salt can be purchased at the place where it is produced for from 9 to 10 cents per bushel. Any gentleman here can compare the rate with the percentage of duty resting upon this article. I believe there is no one question about which the reflection of millions of people day by day is so decided as it is in declaring that there should be no tax upon this article of salt. I believe this article should go upon the free list; that the monopoly which has obtained heretofore for the Onondaga salt works—as great and complete as any monopoly ever granted by the Tudors in England's most despotic times—ought to cease.

SENATOR JOHN J. INGALLS: We cannot disguise the truth that we are on the verge of an impending revolution; the old issues are dead! The people are arraying themselves upon one side or the other of a portentous contest. On one side is capital, formidably entrenched in privilege, arrogant from continued triumph, conservative, tenacious to old theories, demanding new concessions, and struggling to adjust all values to its own standard. On the other side is labor, asking for employment, striving to develop domestic industries, battling with the forces of Nature, and subduing the wilderness; labor, steady and willing in cities, resolutely determined to overthrow a system under which the rich grow richer and the poor are growing poorer; a system which gives to a Vanderbilt the possession of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice and condemns the poor to a poverty which has no relief from starvation but the prison or the grave.

The Senate finance committee has finished work on the tariff bill, and the same is now ready to be reported. It is understood that Senator Beck's contribution to the minority report, is also completed.

Senator Blair, republican senator from New Hampshire, made a speech at Charlottesville, Va., Monday, in which he said that "the declaration of independence was as imperishable as time," and eulogized Jefferson in magnificent oratory.

For the Asheville Citizen. Good Times in Asheville, Nov. The town is full of candidates and you know how friendly they are. They shake hands from morning until night. You can't insult one. They love everybody. They manifest more friendship since their nomination than was manifested during Mr. Pearson's meeting. Gentlemen, how good they love their fellow-citizens and their country.

Us farmers are going to vote for all of the boys, and you can't help it; they do so much respect us, we would like to see them all in office, but now the question is, Who has got the boodie? All we ask is an equal division of the boodie. The colored voter says if the white men get all the boodie, they will take good old corn whiskey for their part. Though they say it is not fair when they compose the backbone of the republican party in Buncombe and have stood by her through thick and thin, and therefore they ought to have as much as half of the boodie anyway.

Tom-doodle sent the boodie, And sent it here to town. And Yankee-doodle got the boodie And won't pass it round. The colored doodle wants his boodie, And you'll know it's so. But Yankee-doodle will keep the boodie And let the negro go.
