Flattering Democratic Offers." The Knoxville Journal's Asheville corespondent thus speaks of our fellowtownsman Mr. H. C. Hunt. The humor contained in the latter clause of the paragraph below is sublime, indeed :

"Capt. H. C. Hunt, one of our most recommended by the members of the party in Western North Carolina for a bigh official position. He has served the party long and faithfully and abould be rewarded. He was the first Harrison man in North Carolina. He has had flattering offers from the democratic party; but has always remained true, preferring to be a "door-keeper in the house of the Lord, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness."

What Was He Elected For?

In a recent interview with Gen. Harriion, Mr. Bateman, of New York, took the ground that his "appointments in the South should be of respectable persons, even if he should have to take moderate Democrats, and in that way a new South can be built up, one which the Republican party shall dominate. Gen. Harri son took great interest in Mr. Bateman's opinion, and expressed himself favorably toward the idea. This will not suit the Republicans in the South however. If Mr. Harrison was elected to give them all the o was he elected for?
