PASSING EVENTS.

DELAWARE'S GOVERNOR.—The governor of Delaware passed through the city yesterday morning with his staff, says the Salisbury World. They were on their way to Nashville to take in the centennial. They will remain there for three days.

DISORDERLY HOUSES.—A raid was made last night by Patrolmen Lyerly, Jordan and White on three disorderly houses in the Maiden Lane district. Four women were arrested and brought to city hall lock-up, where they were confined for safe keeping.

CAPT. WILEY RETURNS.—Capt. W. Murdoch Wiley, who has been summering at Swannanoa, returned to the city last night. Capt. Wiley tells us that his friend Mr. A. Palmer Cooper, of Baltimore, is now in a sanatorium at Asheville. He is slowly improving.—Salisbury World.

CAPIASES AND BONDS.—The capiases against Messrs. Breese, Penland and Dickerson together with the bonds heretofore given by the three defendants to the United States court and placed on file. They were marked executed by J. M. Milligan, United States marshal, per J. M. Bailey, deputy.

DR. JAMES ATKINS.—The First Baptist church was well filled with a large congregation Sunday and was visibly impressed with the sermon of Dr. James Atkins, says the Bristol News. He chose as his subject, "Christ, the Great Teacher," and in measured words he analyzed his subject in a manner which was both interesting and impressive and was received by his hearers in an attentive way. Dr. Atkins held the attention of his congregation from the start.

WILL GET $1,500.—S. F. Mardcal, Esq., of the law firm of Mardcal & Battle, Raleigh, spent yesterday in the city, says the Charlotte Observer. GREAT WALLACE SHOWS.

The Great Wallace Shows, which exhibit in Asheville Saturday, are certainly setting a pace this season that will be difficult for similar enterprises to attain. This great tented institution is acknowledged by all this season to be one of the largest in America, and the press have everywhere been particularly enthusiastic of the performances presented. The Pittsburg (Pa.) Commercial Gazette has the following to say:

"The Great Wallace Shows arrived in the city at 11:15 a. m. yesterday in three sections. A few hours later the magnificent show was landed inside the exposition park and long before midnight the many acres of canvas were stretched and the apparatus placed for the performance.

"Wallace's show has many strong attractions this year which are not introduced in the other circuses. The performance in the big tent brings before the public the Nelson family, acrobats of international fame. The Worms family do the flying trapeze act, and the Marriettes, French trick cyclists, perform feats of strength. The Pettis, in their aerial bar comedy act, are one of the important features of the show. Clowns, male and female, and all the accompaniments of a first-class circus performance are given to the big audiences which were present."
