The Payne Case at Marshall.

Editor of The Gazette:—The English-speaking people since the days of King Alfred and the great Magna Charta have boasted of the administration of justice and protection of their liberties through the jury system. But alas! the good people of our country yesterday had occasion to weep at the perversion of right, and the slander of the Blind Goddess by the verdict of either an ignorant or corrupt jury in acquitting one Bud Payne of the killing of an old woman by the name of Anderson. His honor Judge H. G. Ewart, judge presiding, delivered an excellent, clear and explicit charge, dealing plainly and simply with every law point in the case, in such a manner that it seemed that a fool could not have erred in finding a verdict of murder in the second degree, or at least manslaughter. The people of Marshall were so indignant at the verdict that, although there was another homicide case to try today, the defense feared too strong a reaction in consequence of the Payne verdict, and it was thought advisable to continue the Roberts case until next term. The state was not ready because some witnesses as to threats were absent.

The other reasons were because many witnesses were to be examined on each side and the case could not possibly be concluded until about next Tuesday; also because his honor could not be present, as a Haywood injunction case was set for trial before his honor next Monday at Asheville, so the court adjourned sine die.

A NOTED ATLANTA CASE.

For four years I have been afflicted with a very troublesome nasal catarrh. So terrible has its nature been that when I blew my nose small pieces of bone would frequently come out of my mouth and nose. The discharge was copious and at times very offensive. My blood became so impure that my general health was greatly impaired; with poor appetite and worse digestion. Numerous medicines were used without relief, until I began the use of Botic Blood Balm—B. B. B.—and three bottles acted almost like magic. Since its use, over a year, not a symptom has returned in health. I am an old citizen of Atlanta and refer to, almost any one living on Butler street, and more particularly to Dr. L. M. Gilham, who knows my case. MRS. ELIZABETH KNOTT, Atlanta, Ga.

This is no experiment and would be disastrous to the proprietors, did they not know it would invariably cure. Many of the best physicians are now using it in their practice with great results, and are relying on it in most severe cases. It is guaranteed. Trial bottles free at T. C. Smith's drug store and Pelham's Pharmacy.
