SALOON CLOSING. Editor of the Gazette: In noticing through your columns the proceedings of the board of aldermen, that the board had decided that the bar rooms should be closed at ten o'clock p. m., except on Saturday, when they should close at 10:30 p. m. I think this action is wrong, when I say wrong, I mean that I doubt whether the board has a right to pass such an order, unless for the welfare of the city, all public stores should close at a certain hour. It will be obvious to any right thinking citizen that nothing of the kind could be done, by law or equity. It is true that for police regulations houses where liquor is sold can be restricted, but what does the construction mean? It certainly could mean no other than a man or a set of men, should keep an orderly house, or should not sell liquor to minors or on the Sabbath. This, however, is done by the legislature already, but while repeated efforts have been made by the legislature to have hours for opening and closing all bar rooms of the state, yet it has never passed, owing, as I believe, that the constitution will warrant no such action. The only way that a public house can be closed by a corporation, where it does not violate any state statute, is to declare it a nuisance. Can this be done by any of the saloon houses in our city? What good can result by closing the saloons at ten o'clock in stead of twelve o'clock, I cannot see, even if the law would hold good, and the board had a right to make such an order. The working people generally are gone home before the bell strikes ten, then those who visit the bars are those within our gates as visitors, and passing away their hours and thus bars are able to turn the two hours each day into I suppose enough to pay their licenses. As for instance, you take fifty-two days from the year, as it would take from them, and counting them to take in per day, 25, each and you take from each about $1.80 per annum, and from a class that 90 per cent. are strangers or visitors among us. I think, upon reflection, that the board will not hesitate to rescind their order that they passed, unadvisedly, and one which they thought at the time was for the best. I am yours, DAVID.
