TO HELP ANNEXATION

PRESIDENT DOLE COMING TO THIS COUNTRY.

A Bombshell in the Camp of the Royalists—Queen Lili Was Getting too Much Sympathy.

Honolulu, Jan. 12.—The executive council and the council of state in joint session yesterday decided that President Dole can best serve the republic in this crisis by journeying to Washington and joining there in the fight for annexation. The president is making hasty preparations to sail for San Francisco, on the steamship Peru on the 5th inst, and hopes to arrive at Washington by the time the debate on annexation is fairly under way. The plan for the president to go to Washington has fallen as a bombshell in the camp of the royalists. The government has watched with growing alarm the effects of ex-Queen Lilioukalanani's presence in Washington. She has created a great deal of sympathy by keeping before the public and posing as a Queen deposed through force and fraud. Dole's presence is expected to counteract this and also directly to help the fight for the treaty.

BOARD OF TRADE IS ORGANIZED

Large Attendance and Plenty of Enthusiasm at Last Night's Meeting

Constitution Adopted by the New Club, Whose Purpose is to Advance the Business of Asheville.

One Hundred and Six Members Enrolled—Resolutions Unanimously Adopted Condemning the Action of the County Commissioners in the Bond Suit and Declaring That New Bonds Should be Issued if These Are Adjudged Invalid.

The adjourned meeting last night of the business men of Asheville in the rooms of the Asheville club to complete the organization of a board of trade was a very large and representative one and everyone present seemed to be inspired with a determination to make the movement thoroughly successful. Hon. Theodore F. Davidson, chairman, called the meeting to order. On motion of George S. Powell, amended by Thomas A. Jones, persons who desired to be enrolled as charter members, whether present or represented by others were allowed to be so enrolled. During the evening the following names were added to the roll of charter members:

- T. W. Patton, John Y. Jordan, Dr. John Hey Williams, J. D. Murphy, J. D. Eggleston, George A. Shuford, Frank Loughran, L. B. Alexander, H. S. Coustney, H. T. Collins, R. C. Hunt, J. L. Rich, T. H. Cobb, C. W. Brown, J. R. Patterson, J. B. Rankin, A. M. Field, F. M. Foster, C. E. Wright, W. P. Whittington, R. J. Stokesley, J. M. Ray, C. F. Irwin, W. S. Ray, W. P. Savage, George R. Collins, F. B. Miller, Andrew Brandt, Marcus Erwin, W. E. Allen, R. R. Porter, L. M. Bourne, Octave Battle, W. J. Fitzgerald, D. C. Waddell, Jr., T. B. Lyman, L. Blomberg, Duff Merrick, Dr. J. E. David and H. W. Plummer. The roll now includes 100 names.

The report of the committee on a plan of permanent organization was read by Frank Carter, of the committee. It proposed organization under the charter of the old Commercial Club, obtained by a legislative act in 1891, and of course the adoption of its name. This proposition precipitated a discussion as to the legality and desirability of such action. A motion of John Y. Jordan that the charter and name of the Commercial Club be adopted was lost.

Mr. Carter then continued his report, reading a draft of a constitution and by-laws. Duff Merrick moved consideration by section. J. D. Murphy moved, as a substitute, that the constitution and by-laws as read be adopted as a whole. Chairman Davidson asked J. D. Murphy to take the chair and in a few earnest words urged the adoption of the constitution as submitted. He said it was the result of careful investigation of the methods of other boards of trade. It was substantially that of the Atlanta board, which had been very successful. The manner of the election of officers (by the board of directors) is an essential part of the plan. In considering it two facts should be kept in mind, first that the board of trade is not a political organization, and second, it was purely a voluntary organization. It was substantially necessary to delegate the power to the board of directors in order to make the organization self-sustaining. Individual rights were not endangered. He hoped the meeting would preserve this idea.

Mr. Carter said the committee, as to the matter of choosing officers, had followed precedent. Judge Shuford said there were some features of the constitution to which he objected. He was a thorough democrat and did not believe in turning the board of trade over body and soul to the election of officers. He was in favor of the election of officers by the president by the whole body. He thought July was not the time to elect officers. The beginning of the year was the proper time for the annual meeting.

Chairman Davidson remarked that the first of July was the best time to submit annual reports on business and industrial affairs. On putting Mr. Murphy's motion to vote, the chair decided that it was adopted. A division was called for and was made by a rising vote, which showed that the motion was adopted by a decided majority.

On motion of Mr. Carter the election by ballot of eleven directors to serve until the first annual meeting in July was entered upon. Messrs. S. R. Kepler and H. B. Stevens were appointed tellers, those receiving the eleven highest number of votes to be declared the chosen of the meeting. The following gentlemen were placed in nomination: W. T. Mason, Dr. J. A. Burroughs, P. A. Lincoln, J. Spangenberg, S. F. Chapman, J. L. Rich, J. D. Eggleston, A. A. Jones, F. Schreiner, G. A. Greer, A. George S. Powell, Frank Carter, Dr. G. A. Mohan, W. J. Stoyden and T. B. Morrison.

votes for the board of directors. Captain T. W. Patton, with a few words of preface, offered the following resolutions, which were seconded by J. D. Murphy, and adopted, without discussion, unanimously, by a rising vote:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this board of trade, of the city of Asheville, that the action recently taken by the commissioners of Buncombe county, in applying for an injunction to restrain the county treasurer from paying the January coupons of the county bonds, on account of some supposed irregularity in their issue, is most unwise, unnecessary and detrimental, in that it is calculated to injure the good character of this community.

Resolved, That his board of trade holds it to be the duty of every man who wishes to promote the prosperity of this city or of this county, to do all in his power to protect the holders of the county bonds from any loss, or from anxiety on account of said injunction.

Resolved, That in the event the supreme court shall hold the bonds of this county to be invalid, it is, in the opinion of this board of trade, the duty of every citizen of this county, immediately to take such action as may be in favor of the issue of bonds of like amount, to be delivered to the holders of the present bonds, without asking further consideration therefor.

Resolved, That this board of trade will take all lawful steps to ensure the speedy accomplishment of the last resolution, above.

Col. F. A. Lincoln spoke of what he heard and read on a recent trip to the north about the Baltimore "fals," and thought the board of trade should take further action in condemning and contradicting it. The action of the previous meeting had not been published by the Asheville Press. He spoke of the county papers, however, that had. After an extended discussion of the matter, in which Messrs. Murphy, George Weston, L. J. Bean, L. B. Alexander, A. M. Field, Judge Jones, Dr. Williams and others participated, a motion by George S. Powell, seconded by Frank Eggleston, surviving motion to table by Mr. Carter, was carried. It was that the secretary of the meeting be authorized to append the names of the members of the board of trade to the resolutions adopted at the previous meeting.

The most charming entertainment of its kind which has occurred in Asheville in many months was the public installation of the officers of the Knights of Pythias last evening. The attendance was large, the rooms were nicely decorated with ever-greens, palms and potted plants. The music furnished by the Asheville Orchestra was especially good and the refreshments excellent.

The fine paraphernalia, of the officers added to the interest of the scene. A program of addresses had been arranged and Mr. Charles A. Webb was the one to offer the words of welcome to those present, to those who had been absent so long that they had been almost forgotten, to the invited guests, the men, that they might become interested in Pythianism and seek union with the order, and to the ladies a most cordial welcome. "I am to convince them," he said, "that the letters F. O. and B. by prominent on the badge do not mean 'Females Can't Belong' but that your husband, brothers and sweethearts are not in attendance upon lodge meetings for amusement, but for the uplifting and the betterment of mankind."

"In order that you may know something of Pythianism, its doctrine, its purpose and the great work it is accomplishing, you are invited here tonight." Mr. Webb then introduced Grand Chancellor R. H. Rickett of Statesville.

order," said Mr. Rickett, "but not so much so as you may imagine. I am going to tell you the secret. Our object is the uplifting, the upbuilding of mankind. We don't teach religion, but we come very near to it. In the Bible you will find all our teachings. We are the grandest order on the face of the earth, next to the church. Our ritual dates back to the sermon on the Mount and teaches our duty to man and our duty to God. Our grip, signs and passwords are all that we have secret. The friendship of Damon and Pythias, who loved each other better than life is the example of our teaching, and our aim is to practice in everyday life, in trouble and sorrow, as well as in luxury, what we teach. We teach charity. Charity for the faults of others which seem great beside the same faults in our selves."

Mr. Rickett spoke at some length and interestingly of the history and objects of the order. The installation was next in order. It was beautiful in its simplicity. Refreshments were served and Mr. Lawrence McLeod spoke in his usual agreeable after-dinner style. He said that he had been a lawyer only four months and as this was his first opportunity he would take advantage of it, whereupon he produced an immense manuscript with a whack at Alexander Webb and Wiley Shook. GUILD ENTERTAINMENT

For the Benefit of the Work of the Women of Trinity Church

The entertainment given yesterday between the hours of four and six at the residence of Capt. T. W. Patton, under the auspices of the Woman's Guild of Trinity church, was largely attended and from every standpoint was a very successful affair.

Gen. T. F. Davidson spoke of books and more particularly of "Men I Have Known," by Cannon Farrar. Mrs. Kimberley, Mrs. Glasser and Miss Mattison favored the company with vocal selections, after which Mr. Charles McNamee made a brief talk, followed by selections from "The Chevalier of Penzance," and "The Chateaufort of La Trinite" with comments. There was a violin and mandolin duet by Miss Mimes Margaret and Julia Dabson, with piano accompaniment. The musical program was concluded with a vocal solo by Mrs. Thomas A. Jones, after which the remaining time was spent in social converse along with refreshments.

A SCENE IN COURT

PRISONER MAKES A BREAK FOR LIBERTY

Accused of Robbing Seven Farmers in a North Main Street Boarding House

A bold robbery was committed in this city night before last, a party of farmers being freed of their money and checks for tobacco. After the sales the party drank somewhat freely and retired to bed at the boarding house of Mrs. Buchanan on North Main street about nine o'clock.

During the night every one of them, run being eight, was robbed of his money and checks. In the afternoon one of the victims, while under the influence of liquor, fell in with a young man by the name of Roberts from Haywood county, to whom he made known that he had in his pockets a check for $31.00 and several dollars in money. When the parties arose yesterday morning they found that each and every one was robbed of every cent in their pockets. Suspicion at once cent upon Roberts, who was arrested by Police-man Jordan, and a warrant sworn out before Justice C. W. Malone, charging him with larceny.

The investigation was held at police headquarters in the presence of a large number of persons. Several witnesses were examined and the evidence tended to show that the defendant Roberts had gone to the rooms of the farmers, opened the doors (which were unlocked), rifled their pockets of both money and checks. Three rooms were entered and not a pocket was spared.

The justice went into a thorough investigation of the matter. The witnesses for the state identified the defendant as the man who came into the room after they had retired. Mrs. Buchanan, the mistress of the house, testified that a man exactly like the defendant pushed open the door to her room and was in the act of coming in when she awoke and gave an alarm, which frightened him away. Roberts was identified by the color of his shirt and a crippled hand.

The defendant was subjected to a rigid examination in which he averred that he wanted to bid in the wagon at nine o'clock, and did not arise until morning.

The evidence of the state's witnesses was that the appearance of the stranger in the room was about 10:30 or 11 o'clock. Roberts was then summoned and testified that Roberts did sleep in his wagon, but did not come in until about one o'clock. Thus the defendant's effort to prove an alibi was a failure, and the justice held him to bail in the sum of $500.

While the witnesses for the state were being recognized for their appearance at the next term of the criminal court to give evidence in the case before the grand jury, the crowd in the court room was stirred by an exclamation from a spectator "Your man is gone." The defendant had jumped across the railing and was making his way to the door. Officers Jordan and Lively rushed for the door, but before they could press their way through the crowd, the crowd in the court room was stirred by an exclamation from a spectator "Your man is gone."
