PURE FOOD CONGRESS

Discussing Means of Preventing Adulterations.

Washington, Mar. 2.—Almost every state Food Congress, which convened here today to discuss pure food. War will be declared upon adulterations and steps taken to flave laws passed by congress which will prevent adulteration and misrperesentations of foods. It will be the first gaththe government. The governor of each state and territory has sent delgates. Each separate delegation to consist of four farmers, two phramacists, one retail grocer, one food manufacturer and one proprietary

RETURN OF THE BUSTLE.

The long discarded bustle is again eign and to cause the outlines of Chicago women to take on strange curves and angles. The bustle is already "among those in the union is represented at the Pure present," at least so say the inner cult of dreasmakers and buyers of the State street stores where women go to see and learn the

The "bustle department," when these form-makers went out of style some years ago, has been re-established in the great ering of the kind since the beginning of retail stores, and the saleswomen who preside over them are kept busy showing their wares and assuring their customers that they will be worn.

The death of Mr. Hezekiah Fuller of Farmer, Randolph county, is announced in his sixty-eighth year. He was a leading citizen and represented his county in the legislature of 1893. He was a member of the well known Fuller family, served as captain in the Confederate army, and was an active Christian. His mantle falls upon five worthy children.

HEALTH IS WEALTH.

Everybody knows that I have cured many people, male and female, during my short stay in Asheville, mostly patients who had been given up by others and could find help nowhere.

One of my latest patients is the most excellent and well known Mrs. Blanche Weaver, 37 French Broad avenue. This muchto-be-pitied lady is 22 years old, has been married three years and sick for the past two years and three months. She sought relief everywhere, and for 11 months was in a Philadelphia institute of wide reputation, but her stay there proved without results and her case was finally given up as hopeless. On the 13th of November, '97, 1 made my first professional visit at her residence and must sy found my patient in a most pitiable, almost lifeless condition.
At once I put all available means readiness to do my utmost to cure her, and to-day she is on the road to rapid recovery. March term, 1898, of said court, I will sell improving daily, and with God's aid, she at public auction, to the highest bidder, will soon be entirely well again. This was for cash, at the court house door, in the clearly a case of improper medical treat-ment by doctors, who as Lord Byron says: "They pour drugs of which they know lattle into bodies of which they know less."

Hygiene is the key to better times.

Long half skirts of ruffled hair cloth recall the penitential skirts of medieval monks, though they are not especially designed for Lenten wear, but are recommended as the most "extending" and comfortable of the bustle family. Then there are quaint pneumatic devices of rubber, intended to be pumped full of air like bicycle tires and warranted not to blow up except under the most extraordinary circumstances, and indestructible bustles of leather which look as if they were to be handed down from generation to generation along with the old lace and family diamonds.

When asked if bustles will grow larger and more conspicuous as the years grows old, the saleswomen shrug their shoulders nod in decided affirmatives. has almost immediate effect in clearing and brightening the skin. It is not a cosmetic, as it does not cover up the blemishes as powders and pastes do, but is a colorless liquid that, when applied to the skin, does not show. It cleanses the pores of the skin of all poisonous and foreign fillings and dissolves entirely freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth ratches, excessive oiliness or redness in the skin. Its use is so simple that a child can follow directions and get the best result. The Misses Bell have placed the price of their wonderful Complexion Tonic at $1.00 per bottle, which is sufficient to clear the ordinary skin.

ONE BOTTLE COSTS YOU NOTHING if the effect is not exactly as claimed, so that you take no risk in sending for it:

The price, $1.00, places it within the reach of all. It will absolutely clear a poor complexion and beautify a good one. This generous offer should be accepted by all.

Ladies can address The Misses Bell on all matters of the complexion and hygiene in the strictest confidence, and satisfactory advice will be given promptly without charge. An interesting pamphlet will be sent upon receipt of stamp.
