

FAIR TRYON

Its Beautiful Scenery, Its Orchards and Vineyards and its Fine Hotel.

Tryon, N. C., March 19.—Have you ever been to Tryon? No? Well, you have missed a great deal, for a visit to the Land of the Sky would not be complete without seeing this attractive little place.

The scenery around Tryon is grand beyond description. Situated in the heart of the mountains, it is a "series of magnificent views." The village is nestled close under a high range which protects it from the cold blasts of winter and makes it one of the finest winter resorts in the south.

Tryon is an up-to-date little town. The residences are modern and completed in a style of architecture that would be creditable to towns of larger population.

Oak Hall, the principal hotel, has been closed for some months undergoing extensive repairs. It has been virtually rebuilt and entirely refurnished.

Dr. Cole is making an extensive tour through Florida. G. F. Stradley will open a meat market soon, probably by the 26th.

Mrs. G. F. Stradley has been confined at home with muscular rheumatism the past two months, but she has improved the past few days.

T. Y. Streetman is having the interior of his drug store re-painted.

Mrs. A. E. Davenport, of Horsehoe, was in town visiting friends this week.

A. E. Posey returned from Washington this week.

Frank Carter, of Asheville, made a flying visit here this week.

Dr. A. J. Creaven, of Little Rock, Ark., is here for the summer.

JOE ROBY'S BUDGET. Hendersonville, March 19.—Mrs. Caldwell, wife of Rev. S. C. Caldwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church at this place, died last night.

We interviewed M. S. Rammer yesterday, and find that he has been appointed deputy marshal of the District of Columbia, and will leave for his post of duty tomorrow.

W. H. Pace, uncle of our worthy circuit clerk, was married to Mrs. Collins on Thursday last. The groom is about seventy years of age and the bride about forty-five.

Homer Panning, mail agent on the A. & S., spends his spare-time swinging around the city. We are always glad to see him. We think there must be some other attraction here beside our pure air and water.

Our streets were graced to-day by the presence of the general James P. Sawyer, of Asheville.

C. H. Hobbs and W. H. Williams, S. C. T. D. Vestal, Knoxville; W. H. Hershburg, Atlanta; Mrs. J. M. Zachary, Brevard; are at the Central hotel.

By a careful perusal of the papers we are unable to say whether we will have a war with Spain or not.

they have become strong advocates of our mountain air. They are genial gentlemen, and a valuable addition to the population of Tryon.

One of the striking features of this section is the fruit industry. Every kind of fruit natural to this climate is grown here to perfection. Vineyards and orchards dot the mountain sides.

The ride down the steep grade from Salsburgh over the Southern railway is picturesque if not really exciting.

The growth of Tryon is steady and on a safe basis. Since July twelve or fifteen houses have been built, and four or five more are now contemplated.

The canning factory for vegetables and fruits to be located here is a certainty. Mr. J. F. Austin, one of the promoters of the enterprise is making preparations to grow large quantities of tomatoes on his Reems Creek farm and many acres of this vegetable will be grown in this section as the new factory will make a specialty of it.

The oldest inhabitant has been consulted and the announcement is made after deliberate reflection that the indications are that we are to have the earliest spring in more than a half century—and the earliest, it may be, in the history of this section.

The remarkable mild weather of the last week or so, and the frequent showers of the last few days have conspired to please the agriculturist.

Marshall, N. C., March 19.—William Presley and Dan Norton escaped from the county jail last Thursday night.

W. W. Zachary has returned from Asheville where he has been for the past two days.

White and Bailey, proprietors of the Marshall Republican, which was run in this county some time ago, have sold their press to a company at Newport, Tenn.

Since the blowing up of the battleship Maine the people of Marshall have been very much interested over the talk of war between Spain and the United States.

There are several from this county who would volunteer at once if they were called upon. Madison county furnished some brave men in the late civil war and she would not be behind if her men were called on to fight for the United States.

Concord, March 19.—It begins to look as if Concord will have another railroad. Messrs. J. C. Wadsworth, R. A. Brown and M. H. Caldwell have returned from Aberdeen by private conveyance along the route they had mapped out at the station.

There will be one at Phoenix mine, one at Best Mills, and one at Mt. Pleasant, or near there. The place for the depot here has not been selected. Thirteen miles of the road is complete with trains running over it.

H. A. and T. B. Neff, Irwell county farmers, sold 53 bales of cotton last Monday for $1,700.

On the ship of state, we can't tell whether we'll have a calm or stormy weather. McKinley and his wealthy crew know not now just what to do. They do not want a war with Spain. Of this, their squirming proves, quite plain. They wish that congress would adjourn so they could run the whole concern.

WEAVERVILLE.

Weaver ville, March 19.—The annual debate of the Philosophic literary occurred at the college here last night. The large, handsome auditorium of the new building was comfortably filled by an audience that enjoyed the programme fully.

The question debated was whether this country is menaced more by internal dissensions or external foes. Of course the blowing up of the Maine and the present extensive preparations and expenditures in the war and navy departments came in for a full share of the discussion.

The affirmative side, was espoused by Roy Reagan and C. M. Lance, while the negative or external foe side was represented by C. S. Kirkpatrick and J. C. Bennett.

The decision was rendered in favor of the negative. The debate was an interesting one and one reflected much credit on the speakers. Declarations were delivered by E. T. Hickman and E. T. Roberts, and orations were made by R. W. Baird and G. M. Warren.

All of the speakers showed good training and natural ability, and the occasion was one greatly enjoyed. A number of people from Asheville were in attendance.

The Delphian annual debate will occur Friday evening, March 25. Mrs. Walter Ray, daughter of W. A. Baird of this place, is now in Washington City where she went some days ago to join her husband who for some time has been employed in the government service at the capital.

The cannery factory for vegetables and fruits to be located here is a certainty. Mr. J. F. Austin, one of the promoters of the enterprise is making preparations to grow large quantities of tomatoes on his Reems Creek farm and many acres of this vegetable will be grown in this section as the new factory will make a specialty of it.

A negro woman was found lying on the railroad track in Greensboro Wednesday night. She had taken a big dose of laudanum and was in a critical condition. It is not known whether she took the drug with suicidal intent or not.

The tablet to be erected by the young people of Tryon Street Baptist church in memory of the late Dr. T. H. Pritchard will probably be put in place by the first of April. It is to be placed at the left of the pulpit as one enters the church.—Charlotte News.

The Winston Republican learns of the death of the bright 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hyer, which occurred Sunday at the home of her parents in the Muddy Creek section of Forsyth county. It appears that the child while engaged in play at school last Friday accidentally fell, striking her head with great force, from the effect of which she died Sunday. Death is said at all times, but when sudden and in the midst of apparent health and vigor the shock is even more than sudden.

A CLEVER TRICK. It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles.
