BEUNA VISTA.

Buena Vista, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Worley, who underwent a painful and dangerous surgical operation, is meeting the most sanguine expectations of her friends by her speedy recovery. James and Robert Worley have returned to their post at Jacksonville. The boys were well and said they enjoyed seeing life. Misses Edith and Maggie Johnston have been visiting their friend, Miss Garren. Rev. R. K. Tuttle, the Methodist pastor, is on a two weeks' visit to his old home in Caldwell. Rev. George F. Kirby, of Weaverville, spent Thursday night here on his way to Avery's Creek, to deliver an address before the high school at that place.

STATE NUGGETS.

Archibald Henderson, son of Hon. John S. Henderson of Salisbury, has been elected tutor in mathematics at the State university.

A colored stevedore, William Evans, at the Champion compress, met with a painful accident yesterday morning, says the Wilmington Messenger. He was at work on the British steamship Yearby when a heavy jackscrew fell upon one of his legs, breaking it and pinning him helplessly down.

Lillington News Reporter: Captain E. A. Thorne met with quite a painful accident on Saturday, last: In heaving a post, the axe slipped and cut a gash on his leg nearly the whole width of the blade, chipping off a piece of the bone two or three inches long. Under the skillful surgery of Dr. Alston the wound is healing.

Charlotte News: Mr. I. H. McGinn has just picked 324 grains of coffee.

Case of Poisoning

Hood's Sarsaparilla Drives the Poison from the System, Quits the Nerves, Relieves Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

"While in the army I was poisoned inwardly with poison oak, and I did not get well for 15 years. My blood became so affected that I was taken with a hacking cough, and I was thought to be going into consumption. I took many different medicines without avail, and finally resolved to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had finished taking the first bottle the pimples began to disappear from my body, and after I had taken three bottles I was well. I have also suffered with catarrh in the head and have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for this trouble, and it helps me. In fact I take it for all ailments, and believe it has no equal as a blood purifier. It quiets the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It has relieved me of dyspepsia and built me up." J. L. HOLLIDAY, Williamson, South Carolina.

TOWN TOPICS.

THE only ones who are apt to complain because of Asheville's location are the deputies of Sheriff Laney's staff. Hardly a week passes that some criminal from neighboring states is not caught in Buncombe and lodged behind the bars of the county jail to await extradition. Within the past two weeks one murderer from South Carolina, an escaped convict from the same state and a criminal from Georgia fell into the clutches of Buncombe authorities.

There is a reason, of course, for the fact that persons who seek a haven in Buncombe and especially Asheville. This city is the centre of railroad lines from Georgia, Tennessee and South Carolina, and the many freight trains converging to this city offer one avenue of escape. The mountains of Buncombe afford safe hiding places for the criminal who tracks the bloodhounds back to Asheville. He pursued negro boys to lose himself in Cripple Creek or Happy Hollow. And so Laney's men are busy handling other than the bad ones of Buncombe.

THE work that some men have to do to make a dollar is appalling. The farmers who come into Asheville with split wood for sale are examples of how hard it is for some citizens of this glorious republic to lay hands on a slip of the long green or a silver cartwheel. Toiling from points ranging from ten to forty miles, these farmers have been in the habit of taking their stand in a lot facing on College street, in the rear of the Gazette office. Here they sell their wood for the extravagant price of from forty-five cents to one dollar per load. Taking into consideration the dollar that, besides hauling this load, they have first to gather the wood and then take an axe and split it, the above prices must seem indeed munificent.

In former days, these things accomplished, they could take home all the small earnings garnered by the large amount of labor. Not so now—unless the farmers find a new stand—for the old lot is no longer to be free to them. It has been entirely fenced in and a big gate erected at the entrance of the yard on North Main street and hereafter the farmers that wish to take their stand and sell their wood will have to pay an admission fee of ten cents at the gate. That is the dictum of the administrators of the old Smith estate of which this lot is a part.

A man whose traveling bags bore stamps and tags showing wide European and American travel if one took the trouble to examine them, would find the office of the Oaks hotel the other evening and said to a Gazette reporter: "Asheville has fine photographers as well as fine scenery. I don't like to make a boast of my travel, but I've been around a good deal and the best work I've seen is done by American photographers who come under my eye."

"Well?" asked the Gazette man. "Well," resumed the traveler, "the work of your local photographers in many respects equals anything I have ever seen. The tone and finish is admirable. Some of the light effects are exceedingly artistic. The Court square photographers know their business and those on Patton avenue show some excellent samples. A photographer on South Main street has a number of very fine exhibits."

And with one exception, that the art of posing is the only thing in which your men of the camera fall short. The exception is a photographer on College street. He obtains natural effects in all the work of his that I have seen. "And that, by the way, is the essential quality of a photograph of a person or of a wide landscape. It is the posing for which a picture is desired. To make your subject lose self-consciousness with its attendant glassy stare is the first thing. Next study the person until you find him in some characteristic bit of a pose. Then snap your camera. The result is a picture that will call for a speaking likeness." But, as I said before, Asheville photographers work to the best and people need not deem it necessary to get to big cities for pictures. You can get 'em here as good as anywhere."

In McDowell street the board of aldermen has an elephant on its hands. It is stuck away in a corner of the town, shaped like an L from South-side avenue to South Main street. These days the residents—there are about half a dozen—must walk on stilts or wade knee-deep in mud. In the central part of the street the recent rains have formed a miniature lake. For one to walk the street at night, unaware of this big pool of water, is fraught with danger. Three years ago an intoxicated man stumbled into it. Dwell street, full in this pool, formed then, as now, by heavy rains, and floundered around in about five feet of water until he drowned. Mayor Miller is authority for the story just related, and what the board can do to alleviate the present condition of the street is a matter which doesn't enough traffic or residences there to warrant any heavy expenditure of the city's money, and yet something must be done. The board is still wondering.

street in the vicinity of the old Fitzpatrick estate is going to get this town into a bunch of damage suits if it is not speedily filled in and repaired.

The Gazette man fell on his neck by stumbling into that hole the other night, and in rectifying his indignation and injuries to others was told of many similar cases. Somebody will be seriously hurt and then the street authorities will wonder how they overlooked the hole. Meanwhile they will have gotten into a hole themselves.

BARN DANCE A NOVELTY

Decorations of the Improved Ballroom.

The stable of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, at Newport, R. I., was socially christened by the entire summer colony when a barn dance was given. It proved a brilliant social success. The verdict was that the dance in the barn at C's was way was one of the most original affairs ever held there.

Everything pertaining to the barn and barnyard was present, to make the environment rural and rustic. At the entrance to the yard was a large arch of green, with electric lights in lanterns to show the way through hedges. Along the walks were ranged lanterns and grotesque faces in illuminated pumpkins, guarded by an army of scarecrows with illuminated heads. The coach house was used as a ball room, and was decorated with plaques of cat tails, sheaves of wheat and floral ox yokes and horse collars. The entrance hall was garlanded with leaves, especially of oak, with poppies and large clumps of sunflowers.

Blue corn flowers were used in large clusters on the wheat covered stall posts. The stalls were filled in with palms overhanging a number of small tables and chairs, where light refreshments were served. Strings of seed corn on the cob were attached to the festoons of green which hung from the roof of the improvised garden at the western end of the stable proper. Here palms and hydrangea plants were placed about in such a manner as to fully carry out the idea of a garden. In this place liquid refreshments were served throughout the dance.

The grounds were illuminated with fairy lamps, with the aid of lanterns, while the courtyard was outlined by jack o' lanterns and many scarecrows. The dinner and supper was set in the house on small tables. The Second artillery band was stationed on the lawn and Berger's Hungarian band, which played for the dancing, was stationed in the coach house. Mrs. Fish received her guests in the coach room, attired as a diary maid.

PREMONITIONS.

There's a shadow on the grass That was never there before; And the ripples, as they pass, Whisper of an unseen war; And the song we knew by rote Seems to falter in the throat; And a footfall, scarcely noted, lingers near the open door.

"Omens that were once but jest. Now are messengers of fate; And the blessing held the best Cometh not or comes too late. Yet, whatever life may lack, Not a blown leaf beckons back. 'Forward!' is the summons, 'forward!' where the new horizons wait." —Robert Underwood Johnson, in the September Century.

BOILS INDICATE DISEASED BLOOD.

If Not Cured They Lead to Carbuncles and Running Sores. Boils, or their more aggravated form of carbuncle, surely indicates a diseased condition of the blood, which should have prompt attention on the appearance of the first symptoms, or they may lead to more serious diseases. Eat the best you can get, and freely use Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.). Mrs. W. A. Steed, of Augusta, Ga., had boils for several years past, as well as a carbuncle over the right eye. This spring she felt the symptoms of boils coming on again. While sewing she would prick the skin with her needle. The little sores would fester. She took two bottles of Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.), and was entirely cured. She passed the spring without the annoying boils and possible return of her carbuncle. Her blood was relieved of poison matter by B. B. B., which is a powerful blood remedy. J. D. Watkins, Blakely, Ga., writes: "Old sores covered my entire person and itched intensely night and day. For several months I could not walk at all. I commenced the use of Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) and began to grow better the first week, and am now sound and well, free from sores and itching, and at work again."

Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) is a scientific vegetable compound used by Dr. Gilman in his private practices for blood diseases, such as old sores, crofula, boils, blood poison, etc. It cured so many people that it was put on the market seventeen years ago and is for sale by all druggists at 50 cents per bottle. It has always enjoyed a large sale because it CURES! CURES! CURES! even after everything else has been tried in vain. It cures because B. B. B. drives the poison out of the blood and body. Book of cures sent free of charge. Botanic Blood Balm Company, Atlanta, Ga.

SCROFULA in its worst form yields to the blood cleansing power of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Thousands of cures have been perfectly CURED.

HOW TO LOOK GOOD.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alterative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at C. Smith's Drug Store and Pelham's Pharmacy. 50 cents per bottle. DISCOVERED BY A WOMAN. Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she watched its severest tests, but her vital organs were undimmed and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. She writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at T. C. Smith's Drug Store and Pelham's Pharmacy. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

YELLOW JAUNDICE CURED. Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles, I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by T. C. Smith and Pelham's Pharmacy.

BEATS THE KLONDIKE.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages, and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Trial bottles free at T. C. Smith's and Carmichael's drug stores. Regular size 50 cents and $1. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.
