Lizzie Swaim, an aged negro woman, was burned to death in her cabin, near Jacksonville, N. C., last Friday night.

Application will be made in the legislature to incorporate Spencer, the Southern railroad's town near Salisbury. Its population is now over a thousand.

The Louisburg dispensary, according to a special to the Raleigh News and Observer, is doing well. It started business July 1, 1897, without any capital whatever, has paid the county in profits since then $2,600, has stock on hand to the value of $1,992.44, and is without liabilities.

C. Carter, of Yadkin county, while trying to ford Forbush creek in a wagon Friday evening found the water higher than he supposed and was carried down the stream by the swift current and both himself and team were drowned. Mr. Carter was about 50 years of age and unmarried.—Winston Journal.

The homestead law has long ago served its day and generation, if indeed it was ever entitled, by right reason, to a place on the statute books. Wipe it out and let all that is in the past stay in the past. Let all that a man buys and pays for stand good for that which he buys and doesn't pay for, and it will make business for every man to attend to and inspire him to attend to it.—Greensboro Telegram.

The people of Monroe are greatly aroused because of a report that certain persons would make an effort to induce the present legislature to repeal the dispensary act, and pass another act, authorizing the opening of barrooms. Many persons are indignant and even incensed that such a scheme should be undertaken in the face of the will of the people and especially inasmuch as the issue was not made nor so much as one time discussed during the last campaign, but on the contrary the writer is informed it was agreed in caucus before election and acted on during the entire campaign; that the matter was to be let entirely alone.—Monroe Correspondence Charlotte Observer.

The negroes of Raleigh are very warm, decidedly so in fact. The action of the republicans of the legislature in expelling Isach Smith, colored, from the republican caucus is the cause of their wrath. They consider it an outrage and they are not hesitating in saying so. The expulsion of Smith from the republican caucus was the absorbing theme of the negroes of the town yesterday. They think it an injustice to a member of their race and they have decided that they will not tamely submit to such action without vigorous protest. Parson Leak and others counseled over the matter yesterday and the outcome was that a mass meeting of colored citizens was called to meet at the court house at 8 o'clock in order that they might give republican expression to their feelings and pass resolutions denouncing the action of the republicans in excluding Smith from their caucus. There is going to be a hot time certain, for the colored people are going to strike back at the white republicans. The negroes consider that Smith is an able representative of their race and that the action of the republicans is an injustice and an insult not only to Smith but to them, and they propose to stick to him.—News and Observer.

The ordinance relating to prohibiting the hogs from running at large in the town came up for discussion. A petition signed by thirty-eight taxpayers was presented to council asking that they repeal the ordinance. A motion to reconsider was lost. Those voting aye were Aldermen King and Abernathy; nays, Aldermen Cooper and Hyatt; Mayor Poesy deciding the tie by voting no. It looked very much as if the question was settled so far as the present council was concerned, but before adjournment they agreed to suspend the ordinance until the regular meeting in February, in order to allow petitions to be filed for and against this question. So the matter remains open for the present. * * * This same ordinance was a law several years ago, as is well known to our people. Then we ask why on earth was it ever repealed? The same conditions that then existed are prevalent today. If it worked evil then, will it not do so now? In the absence of hogs, what scavengers had we? We pause for a reply. All admit that a town must have scavengers of either men or brutes. Is the town able to pay men to do the work? Again, shall we put up our hogs and be bothered with those of our citizens living outside the limits? It is useless to say country hogs will not come to town. They did come in droves from a radius of five to eight miles. They will find plenty to feed on—no question about that. You say they will be impounded. Has the town the right to do this, or having the right wouldn't it work a great hardship on our friends living in the country? We admit that our sanitary conditions at present are far from what we want them, but would putting up the hogs improve them? In the light of past experience, these conditions with the hogs up have grown from bad to worse to such an extent the council actually requested that the hogs be turned loose. If we can't better the sanitation in the name of all that is good, let's don't make it worse.—Murphy Scout.

PRITCHARD DENIES FRAUD IN MITCHELL

Senator Says Democrats Were Not Intimidated and that all Their Votes Were Counted. Washington, Jan. 11.—Judge Bowman and family and George K. Pritchard left yesterday for their home in Bakersville. The judge and his family have been visiting at the home of Senator Pritchard. Mr. Pritchard will spend two weeks at his home in Bakersville, and will then return to resume his duties in this city.

Before leaving Mr. Pritchard spoke of the charges which G. G. Eaves of Marion made with reference to alleged election frauds in Mitchell county. Mr. Pritchard thinks that Mr. Eaves, who was a candidate for the senate, has done more for his county a great injustice. He said, in speaking of the charge, that Mitchell had polled for years more votes than the county was entitled to, that this was erroneous and that in the last election the Republicans of the county did not poll their strength by 300 votes. Much has been said about irregularities in Lower Hollow Poplar township. Mr. Pritchard says that there were no Democratic judges in that precinct because there were no Democrats who could read or write. The charge is made that more Republicans voted in this precinct than were entitled to do so. Mr. Pritchard says the "three men" whose names were not checked up in the proper manner by the election officers have made affidavits that they voted and voted the Republican ticket. At Harrell's where Mr. Eaves says the Democrats did not get their strength by 50 votes Mr. Pritchard answers by saying the Democrats got their full vote more than before, and that at Fork Mountain the election was held as the law prescribes. As to the charge of intimidation, Mr. Pritchard says there was none; that the Republicans of Mitchell were always in favor of fair play. He says that when Adams and Mr. Pearson spoke in Mitchell there was some talk of allowing Mr. Adams to speak, because about the time the Democrats had thrown some rocks in the court house where Senator Pritchard was speaking in Salisbury. He had personally interferred in behalf of Mr. Adams, who was arrested.

With this exception the Republicans of Mitchell had entertained no other idea than to give Democrats just and fair play. Mr. Eaves says the irregularities in Mitchell were numerous, varied, and intolerant. Senator Pritchard has taken steps to ascertain the number of white and negro Republican voters of the State. He says he wants to know the extent of the truthfulness of the allegation that there are only about 30,000 white Republican voters in the State.

DESERT HEAVEN North Carolina Preacher's Sensational Resignation.

If Trustees Want to Heaven He Would Get Out of It.

Tells His Chicago Congregation that Inquisitive People Just Pestered Peace out of Him.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The Chicago Record of today contains the following concerning a North Carolina preacher with his blood up:

The Rev. Thomas B. Gregory, retiring pastor of the Universalist church of the Redeemer, Warren avenue and Robey street, said a few things to his parishioners last night. He tossed a brief letter of resignation on the secretary's table, then squared his shoulders and prepared to "wipe off" a score that had been four years in accumulating.

"When I get to heaven," he said, "the first question I'll ask will be: 'Have you any trustees here?' If the answer is 'Yes' I'll turn round and go to the other place."

"I've been in hell for nearly four years now," he continued, "and I can understand how Dante and Virgil felt as they wandered the abyssal depths. Oh! I haven't had a fair chance. I haven't had your sympathy."

OBJECTED TO HIS EUCHRE. Suddenly growing dramatic Mr. Gregory exclaimed: "I have had committees sent to ask me about my private affairs. They wanted to know why I took part in an innocent game of euchre with my family and the people of the congregation at one of the best clubs of the city. The trustees should have scooped the miserable meddler who carried the tale. I have known what it is to dread coming into my own church among my own people. There were little groups in the corner peeping around the stove at me, peeping at my actions and criticizing every word that passed my lips. Learn something by this. See to it that your next minister's space of mind is not destroyed by bigotry and fanaticism. You may think I am mad but I am not. It is my duty to tell you these things."

MODERATOR KERR TALKS. "The only committee that ever waited on him," Moderator Samuel Kerr remarked after the meeting, "was sent in October to ask him to resign, and he promised he would, but he didn't."

It is said that the trustees are anxious to call the Rev. B. Fay Mills to the pulpit of the Church of the Redeemer. Mr. Gregory's resignation will take effect the last Sunday in April unless he has a call before that time. He came to Chicago from Halifax, N. S., though he is a native of North Carolina.

The following is from Mrs. J. H. Smith, who traveled extensively in search of health, but with no relief:

Holyoke, Mass., Dec. 29, 1898. Dr. L. F. Preston, Asheville, N. C. Dear Sir:—Your letter of December 12, received; I was at Boston when it came, and on my return to Holyoke, in getting off of the train I fell and injured my wrist and ankle, severely, consequently, the delay in answering your letter. I will be glad to hear from you often. With best wishes for your future success, I am, Yours respectfully,

MRS. J. H. SMITH. Mrs. Smith is the wife of the proprietor of the Marble Hall hotel, Holyoke, Mass.
