Disturbs the Music in a New York Church.

Pretty Woman Whose High C's Strike Terror.

Sexton Asked Her to Stop Singing but She Indignantly Refused-Pastor Won't Interfere.

New York, Jan. 13 .- How painful it s in church to sit next to a person who can't sing but will sing. Unwitingly such a person is an agent of the devil. Satan laughs with glee when such a one opens his or her "trap" and proceeds to torture the air, for he knows that those around are not thinking of holy things then, but simply how they may kill the singer without being discovered. There is such an aid to Satan now in a certain uptown fash. ionable church. The musical part of the service at that church is celebrated for its beauty, its force of choiresters. 45 in number, being perhaps the best trained of any choir in New York. The choir's singing is ample compensation for the dullness of the preacher, whose discourses are, like those o most fashionable preachers, distinctly insipid. He wears gorgeous robes, but can't preach. Well, for a year past certain young woman has played the very mischief with the singing of this church. It was so very bad at first, for she hadn't learned the tunes and didn't let herself out, but for the last two months she has ruined every service. If she would confine herself to congregational singing it wouldn't matter so much, but her specialty is to accompany the choirester boys when they are singing alone. Sometimes the effect is so startling that the boys actually stop to listen. There is a steamboat whistle called a "siren." That is the kind of voice she has. It is
