Some officers of the penitentiary would evidently fit in better as inmates.

The legislature is doing right in putting its foot down firmly on schemes of towns or county repudiation.

President McKinley completed his fifty-fifth year on Sunday. He is said to be the strongest man, physically, who has ever occupied the presidential chair. In his two years of office he has never taken a day's vacation. He is not fond of society and wastes few words in conversation. He has a choice variety of them, however, for public utterances, and the speeches he makes at rare intervals have counted for more in public opinion than his state papers.

The legislature is moving slowly with important business, while transacting a large volume that is of minor or local interest. The committees are taking ample time to consider the bills that vitally affect the state, and it is well they should do so. On Wednesday night, however, the democratic caucus will act on the bill providing for the suffrage amendment and the close of the week will doubtless bring before the two houses much that will be of extreme interest—such as a road improvement law, one already having been drafted; penitentiary control, and perhaps the important question of bettering the public school educational facilities of the state.

MODIFIED ARMY BILL ADOPTED

Amendment Passes the House--Use of Army in Labor Disturbances.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The house today adopted the amendment to the army bill fixing the minimum number of men in each company or battery so that the army should be about 50,000, but giving the president power to increase the army to 100,000 at his discretion. The vote was 105 to 82. An amendment that the increase should be made only in time of war was defeated 60 to 36. Cummings, democrat, New York, gave notice that he would at the proper time move an amendment providing that no part of the army should be used as posse comitatus, or to quell strikes or labor disturbances, except upon written statement of the governor of the state in which they existed, that he could not, with the force at his command, restore and maintain order.

EMPEROR IMPRISONED ON AN ISLAND

A Successor Said to Have Been Chosen For China's Deposed Ruler.

Pekin, Jan. 30.—It is stated in influential Chinese circles that the dowager empress and her relatives have definitely chosen a successor to the present emperor. The change of rulers is impending. The emperor is still kept a prisoner on an island in Palace lake. The drawbridge connecting the island is raised every night, and the ice about his majesty's prison kept broken in order to prevent him from communicating with his adherents. The empress, influenced by Kang Yi, has become wholly anti-foreign.

THE DREYFUS EVIDENCE

Bill Passed to Give Hearing to the Arguments for a Revision.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The chamber of deputies today adopted the proposal to submit to a special committee of the chamber a bill providing that the case on trial for revision be brought before the united section of the court of cassation. The report of M. Mazau, first president of the court of cassation, on the charges of M. de Baurepaire, former president of the civil section of that body, will be read before that committee. M. Georgesberry asked for the publication of the evidence in the case of M. Bard, who reported on the Dreyfus case to the court of cassation. Premier Dupuy said he was desirous that full light be thrown on the subject and therefore the government would submit to the committee complete documents in the case.

CARLAND'S FUNERAL

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 30.—The remains of Hon. A. H. Carland, reached Little Rock this morning, and lay in state until 2 o'clock, when elaborate ceremonies were held in the hall of the house of representatives, the senate chamber being found inadequate to accommodate the throng of people.
