Save Money on Printing.

If you are interested in the above, the following reasons will explain how you can do it.

1. We are printers, and by doing our own work we save our patrons the expense of paying extra for printers' wages and middlemen's profits.
2. We have no exorbitant first-floor rents to pay, or expensive motor bills to meet when the first of the month rolls around, and our customers reap the benefit of our saving.
3. Our presses are the Chandler & Price Gordon of the latest pattern. OUR TYPE IS NEW AND PRETTY, AND OUR WORKMANSHIP, LIKE OUR PRICES, IS STRICTLY UP-TO-DATE.

We can lithograde your stationery as well as print it, and at a very little more cost.

We have Mourning Stationery we will close out at cost. Call on

A... Co. Woolsey - His...
...us Offer

Editor of the Gazette.

It may be well to correct a statement made in the Gazette yesterday with respect to the drinking fountain on the extension of Merimod avenue. The fountain and the arbor, with seats for pedestrians was the gift of Colonel Woolsey, and were not built by the S. P. C. A.

It is learned from Colonel Woolsey, that in the matter of the public fountain proposed for Asheville, he will be very happy to contribute, if desired, some mementos, ordered from England, with some appropriate motto, provided that the construction of the fountain, or its base is such as to appropriately permit their insertion. "FACT."

ANOTHER SHERLOCK HOLMES.

How He Told Who Had Last Used the Telephone.

"The last man who used this phone," said a New Orleans Sherlock Holmes, preparing to wrestle with the instrument in an up town public station, "was a short, little fellow in a deuce of a hurry, smoking a cigarette. He asked for the Illinois Central freight office, was told they were busy, and repeated his request five times, getting madder at each call. Meanwhile, his cigarette went out, and after vainly searching for a match"—

"Hold on there!" exclaimed a friend who had accompanied him to the booth. "What kind of a fairy story are you giving me, anyhow?"

"No fairy story at all," replied the amateur sleuth blandly. "I was merely stating a few facts."

"But how the dickens did you ascertain them?"

"Plain as A, B, C, my boy. To begin with, the adjustable mouthpiece of the instrument is pulled down, as you see, to its fullest extent, indicating clearly that the last user was very much under-sized. Isn't that evident?"

"Ye-e-es, I guess so; but how about the rest?"

"Well, look at that ledge and you will observe five charred spots and an equal number of small piles of tobacco ash. What do you infer? Why, obviously, that the gentleman was smoking and laid down his cigarette each time he called. The piles of ash are still undisturbed, showing they were recently deposited, and they are small, proving plainly that the intensity of calling were brief. My last observation was that the phone had been used by a man of small stature, and that the circumstances. I found it as I mentioned on top of the box, surrounded in part by such memorabilia as a broken ash-tray rubbed out by the sleeve of the man who smokes, and as this one is still fresh and bright, it is fair to presume it was used by the last man in the booth—otherwise the short clean wire of the cigarette. Moreover, a freight clerk here is usually busy at this hour, so the fellow's interlock and sustain one another. Not so, my dear boy."

"But the matches?"

"Oh, I deduce the match incident from those fresh toothpicks on the floor. When a man in a hurry searches for a match he invariably finds quantities of toothpicks. I would!"

"Are you through with that phone?" asked a short, stout stranger appearing suddenly at the door and vigorously puffing a cigarette, "because if you are!"

"Certainly, sir," said the analyst, smiling. "I think you will find the freight office disengaged at present."

"Well, I'll be hanged!" said the friend. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.
