ANOTHER BATTLE WITH FILIPINOS

Stars and Stripes Now Float Over Caloocan, Which Was Fiercely Attacked Yesterday.

Manila, Feb. 10.—The American flag was raised at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon over Caloocan, where the rebels had concentrated in force. The monitor Monadnock and the gunboat Concord began shelling the town at 2:30. Then the Sixth artillery and the Utah battery opened fire on the Filipino entrenchments and at 4 o'clock Brigadier General Otis' entire brigade, with the exception of the Tenth Pennsylvania, held in reserve, began to advance. The Twentieth Kansas was on the left and the First Montana and Third artillery on the right. The First Idaho and Fourth cavalry acted as a supporting column. The insurgents kept up a rattling fire but the Americans advanced through the woods on the left and across an open field on the right without stopping; firing only when they reached the enemy's entrenchments.

In the meantime a company of the First Montana, under Major Bell, who volunteered for this service, executed a neat right flank movement, arriving at the enemy's left flank back of the town. Cheering like mad the Americans rushed over the enemy's trenches, completely routing the Filipinos, who fled in disorder toward the north.

The residence of an Englishman named Higgins was the only house in town that had a flag staff. This was borrowed for the occasion and the Stars and Stripes run up amid tremendous cheers.

As the Americans entered the town from the south they set fire to a number of huts, in which some natives had concealed themselves for the purpose of firing upon the rear of our troops. The natives fled in a hurry.

Our losses were slight, but those of the enemy heavy, their casualties having been inflicted by shrapnel. Lieutenant Colonel Wallace, of the First Montana regiment, was among the wounded.

Aguinaldo is now at Maricao, seven miles north of Manila, endeavoring to reorganize his shattered army.

OTIS' ACCOUNT OF THE FIGHTING

Aguinaldo's Capture Regarded as Certain if He Remains With His Troops.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The war department late this evening received the following despatch from Otis, dated Manila, Feb. 10:

"Insurgents collected in considerable force between Manila and Caloocan, where Aguinaldo is reported to be, and threatened an attack and uprising in the city this afternoon. Swung left of McArthur's division, which is north of the Pasig river, into Caloocan, driving the enemy out easy. Our left is now at Caloocan. Our loss is slight. That of the enemy considerable. Will send particulars in the morning. Attack was preceded by half hour's firing from two of Dewey's vessels."

The capture of Caloocan is very gratifying to the authorities as that place was considered a stronghold. It is predicted that Otis will not move on to Malolos, the insurgent capital. Aguinaldo's capture is regarded as certain if he remains with his troops. Nothing has yet been heard of the result of the demand for the surrender of Iloilo.

OTIS THREATENED TO ARREST AGUINALDO

Because He Would not Release Spanish Prisoners.

Washington, Feb. 10.—From letters written to Major General Otis by Aguinaldo it appears that Otis threatened Aguinaldo with arrest if he persisted in his refusal to release Spanish civil officers and monks held prisoners by him. Otis first advised Aguinaldo to surrender the prisoners and when Aguinaldo wrote explaining why he held them, Otis made a stronger request. Aguinaldo refused to comply and then Otis threatened arrest.

In his letter Aguinaldo said he didn't hold women and children as prisoners, but that some had chosen to remain with their husbands and fathers. He kept monks because they had done more, he said, than any others in enslaving his people. Both monks and civil officers, he claimed, had borne arms against the Filipinos and therefore he held them.

Caloocan is north of Manila, and near the shores of Manila bay. This is the last stronghold of the natives in the neighborhood of the capital, and the integrated segments of the insurgent army are supposed to have concentrated there, according to the meagre information in the possession of the division of military information, the town is seven miles from Manila and has a population of 9,843. It was near this place that the insurgents, as told in the dispatch, received from General Otis, made a stand and were dislodged by a charge of the Twentieth Kansas regiment, led by Colonel Furstner, a young man, probably 30 years old, whose father was a representative in congress for several terms.

COMMISSIONERS FROM AGUINALDO

Arrive in San Francisco and Hear the News of His Defeat.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—Two more Filipino commissioners arrived from the Orient today expecting to join Agoncillo in Washington. They are General Riego and a merchant named Riviera. When they heard of Aguinaldo's defeat they seemed alarmed for their safety. They will probably go north and join Agoncillo in Montreal.

SUPT. DAY REFUSED

To Surrender Possession to New Penitentiary Directors.

Informed Them He Would Appeal to Courts to Determine his Rights.

Asheville Charter Amendments in Committee.

The Question of Courts—Sentiment for Circuit County Criminal Courts, and a Judge to Each County.

Special to the Gazette.

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—The new board met at the penitentiary and organized by the election of A. B. Young chairman. Senator E. T. Travis, W. C. Newland, and J. H. Osborne were elected managing directors. The directors demanded possession of Superintendent Day. He refused and said he would facilitate the determination of his rights in court. Senator Brown and others may advocate refusing an appropriation until Day surrenders.

The house committee on cities and towns refused to grant more commissioners to Chatham county.

Kope Elias, Sam L. Rodgers and Sheriff R. F. Lee are here.

QUESTION OF COURTS.

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—Julius C. Martin came this afternoon to present amendments to the Asheville charter to the joint committee. The committee on courts and court districts considered the question of courts. There is some talk of two new superior courts. It is very uncertain but the sentiment is inclined toward establishing circuit county criminal courts with one judge and solicitor in each county.

Avery and Bynum concluded their arguments in the matter of the removal of Major Wilson from the railroad commission by the governor. The questions asked by the committee are generally taken to indicate the vindication of Major Wilson. Otho Wilson's case is still open for evidence. A decision is expected tomorrow.

The State Bar association tonight elected P. L. Crawford, of Charlotte, president; J. C. Biggs, secretary and treasurer, and the following vice presidents by districts: E. F. Aidlen, A. R. Bridges, H. G. Cannon, T. M. Argo, R. M. Bryan, C. M. Roundtree, E. K. Proctor, Jr.; G. B. Waiser, R. N. Hackett, O. F. Mason and Julius C. Martin; elective committee, F. H. Busbee, Robert Winston, J. C. Manning, Clement Manley and W. R. Allen. The initiation fee is now $5; annual dues, $2.

SEPARATE CAR LAW.

Special to the Gazette.
Raleigh, Feb. 10.—The joint committee on railroads this evening agreed on the separate car law as published in the Gazette. It requires separate first class coaches for whites and negroes, one car to be partitioned for whites and negroes, white second class compartment to be next a first class white

FRENCH REPUBLIC NEARS THE ABYSS

Chamber of Deputies Passes Bill Depriving Cessation Court of Jurisdiction in Dreyfus Case.

Paris, Feb. 10.—Justifying itself with the poor excuse of political expediency, the French government and chamber of deputies today destroyed the foundations of justice in France. The bill depriving the criminal chamber of the court of cassation of jurisdiction in the Dreyfus case was passed by a vote of 332 to 216.

Perhaps it is too soon to affirm that the decline and fall of the third republic is now inevitable, because there is some hope that the bill will be rejected by the senate, but the fact that the measure was supported by the popular branch of the government shows that the country is on the verge of a political abyss.

Throughout the evening bands of the Patriots' league have paraded the streets crying, "Long live the army."

HERE AT LAST IS NEWS OF ANDRE

The Cabin of a Balloon found With Three Dead Bodies Beside It.

London, Feb. 11, 4 a. m.—A dispatch is published this morning, dated Krasnoyarsk, Siberia, to the effect that a tribe inhabiting Taimur peninsula found on January 1, a "kind of cabin made of cloth and cordage, apparently belonging to a balloon. Nearby were found bodies of three men, and a number of instruments were scattered around. It is believed that the bodies are those of Andre and his two companions.

SCHEME TO SAVE THE ARMY BILL

Republicans will Force Fight On It—Extra Session Talk.

Washington, Feb. 10.—There was a revival today of the talk of an extra session of congress, based on organized democratic opposition to the army reorganization bill in the senate and the position of the revenues as outlined in the house yesterday by Cannon. The intimation has been thrown out that the army bill must come up, and as the president will not consent to a makeshift he will call an extra session. The plan of the republicans is to force a fight on the army bill and then if the appropriation bills are crowded out to charge the democrats with a responsibility.

DULL DAY IN HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The entire session of the house today was occupied in a debate on the sundry civil bill. In the senate the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was under discussion. McEnery failed in an attempt to have a time specified for a vote on his Philippine resolution.
