FAURE'S SUCCESSOR

Loubet's Election Believed to be Assured.

Ambassador Cambon One of the Fifteen Candidates.

Seizure of Pictorial Buttons of the Duc d'Orleans.

Prime Minister Dupuy Confirms the Report that He will not be a Candidate against Loubet.

Paris, Feb. 17.—A case containing 5,000 celluloid buttons with pictures of the Duke of Orleans with the words, "Vive, Duc d'Orleans," upon them, was seized today by the police.

Prime Minister Dupuy confirms the report that he will not be a candidate against Loubet, president of the senate, whose election to the presidency is believed to be assured.

The Dreyfus affair chiefly dominates the question of the presidential candidate. It speedily became evident no active partisan on either side could command sufficient support to carry an election.

Early in the day friends of justice, law and national honor in both houses by common consent, began to unite upon the honest man of all parties, Emile Loubet, president of the senate.

He has taken no part in the Dreyfus agitation but is a supporter of revision and in favor of the supremacy of the civil above the military authority.

Within five minutes this afternoon republican groups met together in the senate and voted unanimously to support Loubet with their 177 votes.

The supporters of Melne met and nominated him. The so-called independent republicans nominated Prime Minister Dupuy, but Dupuy and Melne declined to stand against Loubet.

The latter hesitated for an hour and then announced that he was deeply touched by the honor and would accept.

The supporters of Dupuy and Melne are angry at the declination of these two and announced that they would vote for them anyhow.

Melne, nevertheless, still persists in refusing. Unless there is an unforeseen change before congress meets tomorrow, Loubet will be made president.

The anti-revisionists are savage in their denunciation of Loubet but there is no indication of the opposition meeting successfully on any candidate.

FLOOD AT RICHMOND

The City in Darkness and a Reign of Terror Prevails There.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 17.—Richmond is in darkness tonight and there is a reign of terror on the river front.

The city gas plants, as well as the electric lighting and power plants are threatened by an unprecedented flood in the James river. At least one half of the two feet of snow that covered the whole of the James river valley melted today and reports from up the river points to a marvellously rapid rise of all the tributary streams.

The flood is already over the wharves and far up into the city. At 9 o'clock all the electric cars were stopped by the flooding of the power plants. The lights also went out and darkness added to the flood.

The warehouses of the steamer lines are packed with freight and the loss will be very heavy.

The ice which is packed against Mayo's bridge, which connects Richmond with Manchester, is higher than that structure and one span has already been washed away on the Manchester side.

The bridge is out of plumb and will go to pieces before morning. Immense ice gorges form and break, causing a sudden rise on the water front.

At 9 o'clock the water reached the basement of S. H. Hawes & Co.'s big cement and lime warehouse. The lime slacked and set fire to the building. The loss is $50,000.

Shipping in the river is drawn up behind the breakwater at the entrance to the canal, and is safe from the ice.

Great damage is expected tomorrow when the floods from above reach this point.

M'KINLEY'S FAREWELL

Delivered Two More Speeches Before Leaving Boston.

Says We have Quit Discussing Tariff and are Seeking Trade.

Declares There is "No Longer Any Fear of a Debased Currency."

A Greeting to the Old Comrades at the Grand Army Convention—A Reception at the Commercial Club.

Boston, Feb. 17.—McKinley's second day in Boston included a visit to the Grand Army convention, the state house, a trip through the subway and a luncheon and reception at the Commercial club.

The president made three speeches and shook the hands of several hundred persons between 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

At 11 o'clock the president was received at the state house by Governor Wolcott and his executive council after which he addressed the joint assembly.

He recalled the great men that Massachusetts had contributed to the nation, and wound up by saying: "We may regard the situation before us as a burden or as an opportunity, but whether one or the other it is here and our conscience and civilization require us to meet it bravely."

At the Commercial club banquet the president said: "We have quit discussing the tariff and have turned our attention to getting trade wherever it can be found."

"It will be a long time before any change can be had in our financial policy except to strengthen it. We have turned our academic theories to trade conditions and are seeking our share of the world's markets."

"There is no longer any fear of a debased currency. The highest standing is recognized by leading commercial nations has been maintained without a resort to loans."

"The cause of sound money has advanced in the last two years. Certainly for two years every branch of the national government will be united for good currency and the inviolability of our national obligations and credit."

At the end of our glorious triumphs we find our country in a condition of almost unparalleled activity and prosperity.

The new conditions which we must meet and solve will be settled on the lines of right and duty and I cannot doubt that the business men of Boston and the whole country will be an active and helpful force in their rightful solution."

ATTACK ON GUARD

Insurgents Disguised in Citizens' Clothes Assail Nebraska Regiment.

Manila (Saturday), Feb. 18.—The guard of the Nebraska regiment stationed near the waterworks was attacked yesterday afternoon by insurgents disguised in citizens' clothes, and who were hiding in the bamboo thicket.

An alarm was given and Colonel Stotenburg immediately sent four companies of reinforcements to the scene.

The natives stood ground for a time and then fled, our troops driving them toward Calocan, killing eight including an officer and capturing two others.

Arrests of natives in the city on suspicion of aiding or attempting to aid the rebels and the seizure of concealed knives and rifles continue.

Insurgents fired on King's brigade last night but no harm was done.

SUPT. DAY DENOUNCED

Senator Glenn Angered by his Failure to Resign.

Day Signs Agreement to Surrender Penitentiary March 1st.

Trustees of the University Nominated—Election Tuesday.

Local Bills Introduced by Craig—Graded Schools for Waynesville.

Raleigh, Feb. 17.—Bills introduced: By Holman, the revenue bill; by Craig, to incorporate Asheville Savings Bank to incorporate Home Missions society, Asheville presbytery, to amend chapter 181, laws of 1897, by giving deputy clerks power to probate deeds.

A bill was passed to establish graded schools in Waynesville, and to give the town power to establish electric lights.

DAY YIELDS AT LAST. Senator Glenn denounced Captain Day before the senate judiciary committee this afternoon.

He said Day had failed to resign as promised and violated his solemn agreement. He said Day's failure to resign had humiliated him and Senator Osborne, the two friends who had given this personal assurance to the caucus that Day would resign, and on their representations the committee had reported adversely the bill which would have taken from Day all power to make contracts or to run the penitentiary.

Day said: "Bob Glenn, come over here, I want to speak to you." "Don't Bob Glenn me," said the senator. "I don't want to speak to you or have anything to do with you."

Day made no reply. Afterwards he gave to Senator Justice a signed agreement to surrender the penitentiary to the new directors March 1, reserving the right to sue them for salary for the unexpired term.

The directors have already brought suit. The agreement is not a resignation, simply a surrender of position.

Winston, on behalf of the committee on education, made a report nominating trustees of the university as follows: K. P. Battle, C. M. Stedman, F. H. Bynbee, H. C. Wall, Benahan Cameron, J. S. Mauney, J. W. Fries, R. M. Furman, W. A. Guthrie, T. S. Kenan, R. H. Lewis, J. A. Lockhart, J. D. Murphy, J. L. Patterson, Fred Phillips, J. A. Roebbing, Henry Weil, W. T. Whitsett, E. J. Hall, C. M. GUNBOATS FOR PHILIPPINES

A Call to the Filipinos to Acknowledge American Authority.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The administration has decided upon the policy of sending eight draught gunboats to all ports in the Philippine islands in order to make a demonstration of the power of the United States and will call upon the inhabitants to submit and acknowledge American authority.

Dewey and Otis will determine whether troops or marines are to be landed but our authority must be respected and our flag will be raised in the various ports visited.

The gunboat Bennington is now on its way and will stop at Wake Island, where the commander will post a proclamation declaring the island annexed to the United States. This will be used as a cable landing station.
