WEAVERVILLE NEWS

Weaverly, March 27.—After several days of bright, spring like weather last night brought another heavy rain fall—one of the hardest in months. The roads were beginning to be passable, but now wagon travel is again stopped. No teams at all have passed through the village today en route for Asheville. Travel on horseback is difficult, in vehicles impossible. The editorial in the Gazette of the 15th on the justice of completing first the Burnsville road, has met with universal endorsement hereabouts, and the mud bound cities of this quarter of the county are grateful for the bold and earnest words of the editor. This woefully neglected part of the county is being awakened as never before on this subject. The citizens of the three townships north of Asheville and east of French Broad have paid railroad taxes and paid their share in road improvements in other sections of the county until it is thought the time has come when it is proper to do something permanent for the Burnsville road to the county line. Two miles of macadam doesn't help the Big Ivy planter very much in getting to the city. Fifteen miles would help. He asks the question, "What is the good to me of 10,000 visitors to Asheville, driving over beautiful boulevards, if I can't get to 'em with my pork and turpentine?" The good general makes arrangements for getting his supplies first and then brings his men.

The peach crop is not a failure. Some of the fruit growers near here report that the peaches were not all killed by the low temperature. The crop will be a light one, but one that is likely to pay handsomely for whatever yield there may be.

The Juvenile Missionary society, under the direction of Miss Grace Van diver rendered a most agreeable program of songs, recitations, etc., to a large and highly interested audience yesterday afternoon at the church.

VANCEVILLE ITEMS

Vanceville, March 28.—The infant of James Penland and grandchild of Lee Penland, Esq., died near here at its father's home on Saturday. The child was not known to be ill, but began crying and continued to cry for several hours unceasingly until from sheer exhaustion it ceased to breathe. The burial occurred near here today.

A letter has lately been received here from Sam Hemphill, who went from here to California some years ago, and it tells of rich findings of gold in Slekt gon county. One pan lately yielded $41.50 in dust and small nuggets, and this is not an uncommon occurrence, the writer says.

ALEXANDER.

Alexander, March 28.—The record breaking high waters recently in the French Broad have done considerable damage along the valley hereabouts. Fences, lumber, etc., have been washed away and the roads impaired in some localities.
 General R. B. Vance continues to improve and is growing steadily better. Yesterday his condition was better than it has been in several weeks. Among other visitors yesterday, Rev. R. M. Taylor, of Weaverly, called to see the general.

Something new has happened in the revenue service—two illicit distilleries have recently been raided in this county in which somebody was at work whom the officers succeeding in arrest ing. On Friday last two boys, Tol and Abe Whitmore, from Flat Creek, were brought to Brevard by deputy marsh als and landed in jail where they remained until Monday. They were caught in a moonshine whiskey factory, but another party and probably the most guilty one took leg bail and escaped. On Wednesday of this week Sherman Searcy and a colored boy were found in a still house in the Cherryfield section at work, and were captured and brought before Commissioner Nellil, and gave bond. It is a new experience for revenue officers to catch anybody. The guilty ones generally get word in time to vanish, so that a few gallons of beer and a still to hack is all that rewards the raiders.—Sylvan Valley News.

The party of New England editors have been telegraphed to indefinitely postpone their visit to Durham. This step was taken by the Business Men's association for the reason that several of our factories had refused to permit them to be shown through and it was thought best to request them not to come, as they could not inspect the manufacturing industries that have made the town famous the world over. understand that the cotton mills were the first to refuse permission, and it will also be remembered that it was the cotton factory element that defeated the bill to have the limits of the town enlarged. The owners of these mills have the right to refuse any person admission to their plants, but it was treating the Business Men's association as well as the editors with scant courtesy, to say the least.—Durham Herald.
